Stonegate Seeks Court Action in Lodge Case

SERIOUSLY INJURED Tuesday afternoon in this wreck at Euclid ave. and Elmhurst rd. (route 83), Prospect Heights, was Robert Strom, 37, of 52 Jeffry, Wheeling, and Dick Gehrs, 22, Melrose Park. Both were taken to Resurrection hospital, although Strom was later transferred to St. Francis hospital, Evanston. Drivers of the autos were Strom and Robert Cohen, 20, of Westchester.

The Editor's column

by STUART R. PADDOCK

Our vacation is over, but here are a few notes that may be interesting to the readers of this column.

Pedestrians and auto drivers respect each other in San Francisco. There are no jay walkers. They wait until given signal no matter if there are no cars coming.

At a few busy corners, pedestrians on signal walk "kitty corner"—saves a lot of time as cars in all directions stand still.

Where there are no lights, cars give right-of-way to pedestrians. On some corners in outlying districts, pedestrians who do not want to wait until light changes, can punch a button to change light. Cars on those cross streets trip the lights.

Signs on many streets state that it is a Towaway zone. Illegal parking causes cars to be hauled away at a charge of $12.

Right hand turns are permitted on red lights.

After passing through 50 tunnels and many canyons on the Zephyr, I suggest that those who usually fly to San Francisco should take one trip on the California Zephyr.

The unusual scenery is breathtaking. Here is one train that is not in a hurry to get somewhere and so different from the bouncing one receives on the Union Pacific.

One innovation that is appreciated by travelers is dinner reservations given to a Zephyrette following luncheon.

You choose between a popular priced $1.50 meal at 5 p.m., followed by regular dinners at 6 and 7. For those who desire unusual is the Italian dinner at 8 p.m.

We are sympathetic with the efforts of our school superintendents back home after reading a front page story in the San Francisco Chronicle. It reads in part:

Many bay area school districts are now so short of teachers that they are obliged to send recruiters — "headhunters" they are known in the academic world circles far beyond California's borders, to find people to instruct their children next fall.

South San Francisco hires about 30 per cent of its elementary teachers through correspondence—sight unseen.

Believe it or not, one San Francisco newspaper has an ad on its front page every day.

Is this newspaper selling its soul for gold?

Daily papers on newsstands are 10 cents. There is a want ad war. One daily paper publishes a single line 6 days for a dollar.

Another has buried $1,000 in a chest somewhere in the sand. The finder gets $2,000 if he is a subscriber of that paper.

There is a lot of sand on California beaches, but as we left the city, the above 'chest" was found.

Both of these stunts are doing journalism the hard way.

California legislators have refused to lift the ban on firecrackers even for a Chinese religious ceremony.

It might have been started as a jeweler's advertising stunt, but the parents of 18 couples saved a lot of money today when that number of couples were married in a mass ceremony in the ballroom of a big hotel. The mayor gave them away.

Look how much newspaper space was saved when 1 story reported the 18 marriages.

Alpine climbers have nothing on the autos being driven up and down the hills in San Francisco or the pedestrians, who, in their search for a favorite dinner spot on a Saturday night, must walk up and down a block or 2 of cement stairs before reaching the desired place to dine.

The hideaway usually tops a precipice that even a mountain climber would find difficult.

We were shocked today when a stranger we met said she had found Chicago the dirtiest city she had ever visited.

We had to admit that San Francisco is so clean, a white shirt can be worn 2 days.

AN ARLINGTON HEIGHTS POLICE CRUISER knocked over this "Load Limit" sign on the east side of Dwyer st., near Campbell, as it turned onto Dwyer Monday evening.

Wrecks Disable 2 Police Vehicles

Two Arlington Heights police vehicles and one policeman were out of commission this week.

Saturday afternoon Officer Fred C. Mueller, riding the lone village motorcycle, lost control while turning on loose gravel at Wilke rd. and St. James st. He received bruises about the left eye, hip and ankle and required hospitalization. The cycle required $65 worth of parts.

LATE SATURDAY night, one of the new Ford cruisers turned off Euclid ave. into a cemetery too sharply, slightly denting a bumper and fender against a gate. The driver was Officer Jack W. Aldrich.

Monday evening the same car was involved in another collision at Campbell and Dwyer. Officer Louis J. Kohler turned left from Campbell onto Dwyer, hit a village "Load Limit" sign on the east side of Dwyer damaging the entire right side of the car and knocking over the sign.

Chief Skoog estimated total damage to the cruiser at $200.

CARS BELONGING to Casper Dewitz of Barrington and William Hofolich of Rolling Meadows were stolen last week from parking lots. Both were later recovered.

Not recovered were 2 tires stolen Wednesday night from a car parked on W. Davis, west of the village hall, owned by Mrs. June Carmichael of Rolling Meadows.

She Won't Sleep On Porch Again

Mrs. Charles C. Coventry of Arlington Heights isn't going to sleep on her back porch again after what happened Monday night.

The housewife, who lives at 1105 N. Harvard, said she was awakened about 3:30 a.m. by a rattling of the doorknob on the porch door.

Looking at the source of the noise, she saw the figure of a man outlined against the screen. Resisting the impulse to shout, she grabbed the chain of the dog sleeping on the floor next to the bed to restrain him.

"WHETHER I made a slight noise or he heard the dog's chain I don't know," she recalled, "but the man turned and walked slowly away through the yard." The prowler, she said, had a crew cut and wore a light colored jacket or shirt.

Mrs. Coventry's husband, sleeping indoors, joshed her with a remark about "that book you've been reading giving you nightmares," she said.

"It definitely wasn't that," she replied. "I was scared."

Police searched the area and found no one.

But just in case, Mrs. Coventry will stay elsewhere from now on.

Stalled Car Hit, Two Are Injured

Two persons, one a 40-year-old housewife and the other a 23-year-old man, were injured when a pushed car was struck by another at Hicks and Baldwin rd. at 4:26 p.m. last Saturday.

Mrs. Dewey A. Johnson, 40, was treated by an Arlington Heights physician for a concussion and sprained knee. Donald L. Vandervest, 23, of 628 Waukegan rd., Glenview, complained of a facial pain. An X-ray taken by a local physician showed no fracture.

VANDERVEST was the driver of the pushed vehicle and Dewey A. Johnson, 42, Central rd., Arlington Heights, driver of the southbound auto on Hicks rd. Johnson told Palatine police that the other vehicle ran the stop sign at Hicks rd.

Vandervest told police his westbound car stopped 15 feet behind the stop sign and then proceeded. His car was hit in the intersection by the other car which he claimed was traveling at an excessive rate of speed.

The auto driven by Vandervest was owned by John Donnelly, 265 N. Greenwood ave., Palatine. No traffic violation tickets were issued.

Resurfacing Starts For State Road

The Cook county highway department began blacktopping N. State rd. Thursday, apparently convinced the village wasn't going to permanently ban parking along it as requested.

County and state authorities had threatened to hold off resurfacing operations unless the village took the step. A firm letter to them from F. R. Buechner, village manager, outlined the village's reasons for retaining parking and, said Buechner, "I heard no more from them before the repaving job started."

Residents Oppose Mason Building

Stonegate's campaign to block erection of a modernistic Masonic lodge in the Arlington Heights subdivision reached the courtroom of Circuit Judge Charles S. Dougherty Monday morning.

A motion for an injunction temporarily restraining erection of the building on the east side of Dryden pl., near Northwest hwy., was filed last week.

The motion was continued Monday until 10:30 a.m. June 28, because the lodge attorney, Albert E. Peters of Arlington Heights, is out of town.

PLAINTIFFS in the case are attorney Paul V. Harris, whose home at 1008 Mayfair backs onto the proposed lodge site, and Michael Grady, Inc., from whom Harris is purchasing his home on contract.

Defendants are the Century club of Arlington Heights, a nonprofit corporation affiliated with the local Masonic chapter, the village and its building commissioner, Fred W. Hammer.

The village board approved a building permit for the Century club April 3 over the objections of Stonegate residents and the village architectural commission. A building permit was issued for the proposed $42,000 building on April 12.

THE BUILDING permit was issued after the club met a board condition requiring 35 off-street parking spaces.

Plaintiff's attorney William M. Doty wrote to Hammer June 7 demanding revocation of the building permit within 48 hours, which Hammer declined.

Doty claimed a violation of the off-street parking law passed March 28 and requiring 1 space for each 6 members of a fraternal organization. (According to Peters, the Century club numbers 96 members while the parent Masonic lodge has "250 to 275 members.")

In summary, Doty charged:

a) The permit was issued illegally because the club is not the owner of record of lot 408, one of 3 lots on which the building was to be placed;

b) Off-street parking was not provided on 3 lots for which permit was issued—lots 406-408—and that lot 410, containing some of 35 parking stalls is not contiguous to building site. Both provisions, claim the plaintiffs, violate the 1957 off-street parking law.

IF THE BUILDING were constructed, the result would be lower property values, "increased congestion in streets adjacent . . . increased noises, dust and other problems . . ." and "the possibility of further overloading of community facilities," alleges the complaint.

The action asks that the club be permanently enjoined from proceeding with the building and that the court find the permit null and void.

NO CONSTRUCTION work has been done at the site since the granting of the permit.

The flat-roofed structure was to be of pre-cast concrete construction, molded to give the effect of Lannon stone. Stained, massive beams would form a grill pattern across a stucco front. Offset from the main building would be a lower stainless steel and glass entranceway.

The east side of Dryden pl. for a number of years has been zoned for Class B buildings, including fraternal and apartment structures. However, some single family homes stand in the block.

New Delays In Central Widening

Plans of the Cook county highway department to improve Central rd. have taken another zag.

For more than 2 years the department has been talking about a wider, smoother Central rd. between State rd. in Arlington Heights and Northwest hwy. in Mt. Prospect.

Initially the 20 ft. roadway was to be widened to 24 feet., later the plans called for a 40 ft. 4-lane highway between the 2 communities.

DESPITE THE FACT that the widening and resurfacing has been programmed in the 1955, 1956 and 1957 highway budgets, not a lick of work has been done in the field.

A chance call to the department Monday revealed that plans have been revised again. The latest switch provides for a pavement only 4 ft. wider than at present, or 24 ft.

'We had problems obtaining right of way for the 4-lane highway," was the main reason given for the revision.

Asked if the work will be done this summer, the engineer replied, "It looks doubtful."

Sears to Open New Sales Office Here

Sears, Roebuck and company will open a new telephone sales office in Arlington Heights about July 1.

The new office will be located at 17 N. Vail, in quarters formerly occupied by Studtmann Bros. furniture store.

The new office will transact all business over the telephone.

A phone order received before 1 p.m. will be teletyped to Chicago and the customer will receive his order the following day.

PLANS CALL for an all-women setup employing 20-25 local residents. Sears is now hiring and an ad may be found in today's newspaper.

The order house will be open from 8-5 weekdays and from 8-1 on Saturdays. A woman manager for the office has not been selected as yet.

OK Sidewalks Near 3 Schools

Trustees moved ahead with plans to put sidewalks near 3 Arlington Heights south side schools Tuesday despite residents' efforts to stall off the program.

Nearly 50 residents along S. Mitchell, Chestnut and Highland who would have to pay for the walks, offered a variety of reasons in opposition. Trustees replied that this is but the first step toward getting sidewalks within 2 blocks of all village schools.

Owners who fail to install walks by private contract will have to pay a sidewalk special assessment, declared the village board.

Stratton School Aid Bill Signed

Governor Stratton's controversial school aid bill was signed into law Tuesday and becomes effective July 1.

The bill came under fire because it provided some $50 million less in aid than school experts predicted would be needed and will leave schools without state aid in 1959 unless a deficiency appropriation is passed.

ALTHOUGH THE state aid bill most seriously affects suburban schools, Republican senators Arrington and Boughner succumbed to the governor's demands and voted for it in spite of pleas from constituents.

GOP Representatives Simmons and Carroll voted for the Stratton bill in the House.

Sanitary District Offers $350,000 to Arlington

Chicago Sanitary district trustees have offered Arlington Heights $350,000 if the village will remain in the district and drop its legal suit aimed at voiding last November's annexation.

LAWRENCE J. FENLON, principal assistant attorney for the Sanitary district, confirmed this offer Wednesday after a chance reference to it at Tuesday's village board meeting.

"The offer is strictly tentative and it is completely up to the village to decide," said Fenlon.

The district would pay the sum for flowage rights through certain village sewers. The village would continue to own and maintain the sewers but the district would have the right to run sewage from bordering unincorporated areas through them, according to Fenlon.

Of the $350,000 offer, $200,000 would be for flowage rights through trunk sewers on Forrest, Davis and Dryden aves., explained the attorney. The offer, made at a meeting last week, was the first one publicly disclosed.

April 9 the village filed a suit in Superior court in an attempt to void the annexation. It charged the election by which 18 suburban Cook county townships were voted into the district was unconstitutional.

EARLIER THIS MONTH State Senator Russell Arlington of Evanston introduced a bill to permit Arlington Heights to disconnect from the Sanitary district upon a local referendum. The bill was given slight chance of passage, however.

If the district does reimburse Arlington Heights, village taxpayers will be relieved of at least part of about $600,000 bonded indebtedness on the present sewage treatment plant.

51 'Early Birds' Get Parking Lot

Fifty-one early bird commuters will be able to park 2 blocks from the Arlington Heights station all day for free by the end of next week.

Rough grading was completed Tuesday on the first section of a new village parking lot on the east side of S. State rd. opposite Sigwalt st.

By the end of next week, estimated village manager F. R. Buechner, a layer of large stone will be laid down on the lot and it will be ready for use.

LAST FALL the village purchased a tract large enough for about 700 cars east of State rd. to the Chicago and North Western railway right of way. The lot will be developed gradually, with the manager now seeking estimates on cost of clearing a second 50-car section.

Until meters are installed, parking will be free.

Irving Kolling, 27 S. State rd., whose residence was included in the purchase, was paid $100 by the village as compensation for destruction of a strawberry patch and a number of fruit trees. Under the conditions of the sale, he is allowed to remain in the home for several months more.

Fulle to Inspect New Tinsley Site

(CNS)—Commissioner Fred Fulle says he'll make a personal inspection of a Wheeling township site proposed for the storage of school buses.

The county board at his request deferred action last week on 3 rezoning pleas involved in the case.

One concerns a vacant 5 acre site 575 feet west of Arlington Heights rd. and 250 feet north of Palatine rd.

WALDO E. TINSLEY, who operates a school bus service for Arlington Heights township high school district and six other schools in the area, wants the land for storage and maintenance of about 40 buses.

Tinsley also wants to purchase 3 acres adjoining the site and have them rezoned from farming to business.

All property involved is owned by Arthur O. Pape, 259 Palatine rd., Arlington Heights.

The site proposed as a bus garage needs to be rezoned as a light industrial district before such use of the land is permitted.

THE PROPOSED business sites front on Palatine rd. They now are subdivided as 2 lots, one containing two acres, the other one.

The county zoning board has recommended rejection of all 3 requests. All of the land now is zoned for farming.

Tinsley has said he needs more space because his business is outgrowing the two-acre storage yard he owns about one-half mile west.

Three owners of property near the site Tinsley wants to acquire have protested his plans contending it would open other vacant land nearby to further industrial uses. They are Roy Olson, Dave Beauregard and J. M. Ernst.

Protest Triangle Rezoning

Arlingdale property owners employed a new tactic Monday in their struggle to keep the triangle at the railway crossing at Euclid ave. from being zoned commercial.

The Arlingdale group, veterans of nearly a year of zoning battles, obtained the names of more than 100 Westgate residents protesting the proposed rezoning of the small tract to commercial. Arlingdale also submitted its own petitions against the change.

OF THE 1-ACRE triangle owned by builder Arthur Thiersch, 1100 W. Euclid, only the point would be zoned commercial. He proposed to build a 15 to 20 unit apartment building on the rest if rezoning to class B were granted.

The village zoning board of appeals rejected the appeals after the 40 residents' spirited objections.

Another petition, this one for a slight variation in off-street parking regulations for the new Wing st. post office, was approved by the board.

Sidelights Of Arlington Heights

Riverview Ramble

Mrs. Bruce H. Rasmussen, 202 Windsor dr., and Mrs. Stephen Jurco, 217 Windsor dr., were co-chairmen of the Riverview Ramble at Riverview park Tuesday. Mrs. Rasmussen, Mrs. Jurco and Mrs. George F. Fromm, 344 Windsor dr., who was one of the committee members, took a bus load of children from Arlington Heights to the park. Mrs. Rasmussen's children, Babs and Dick were among those attending.

Mrs. F. W. Hamilton, 127 Brighton, was publicity chairman for the Riverview Ramble and drove a carload of Stonegate children to the park.

Campers

Marc Knorr, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Knorr, 405 S. Bristol lane, has left for a 2-week stay at Camp Rodney Kroehler in Hayward, Wis.

Another camper at Camp Rodney Kroehler is Jim Hennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Hennings, 323 S. Bristol.

Bob Sielken, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Sielken, 621 E. Grove, is also a camper at Camp Kroehler in Hayward.

House Guests

Mrs. G. E. Robertson of S. Orange, N. J., is a house guest for a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Mates, 415 S. Bristol lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Manta, 822 S. State rd., have as their house guest Mrs. Manta's cousin, Mrs. Selma Enegrad of Sweden. Mrs. Enegrad made her trip across aboard the S. S. Kungsholm and after meeting Mrs. Manta in New York City flew to Arlington Heights where she will visit for 3 months.

Miss Babs Rasmussen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce H. Rasmussen, 202 Windsor dr., will be a guest in the home of friends in Los Angeles for two and a half weeks. Babs and 6 of her girl friends will fly to California together.

Mrs. Richard P. Mates, 415 S. Bristol lane, and her daughter, Miss Margot Mates, drove Miss Mary Lou McLellan of San Diego to Ft. Wayne to visit Margot's roommate Miss Marcia Perry. They were guests for a few days at the summer home of Marcia's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Perry, in Webster Lake, Ind. Margot, Mary Lou and Marcia are juniors at the University of Arizona.

Shower

Mrs. J. G. Johnson, 1223 Woodford, was hostess at a baby shower for Mrs. Herbert Flint, 1312 Woodford pl., Monday afternoon, June 17. Mr. and Mrs. Flint have adopted a 2-month-old son. Stonegate neighbors were among those attending.

This And That

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Jurco, 217 Windsor dr., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Riback of Evanston, attended the dinner dance benefit for leukemia at the Terrace Casino in the Morrison hotel Saturday evening. The affair was given by the Olivia Sue Devore foundation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Johnson, 1223 Woodford, hosted a predance cocktail party Saturday evening attended by Mr. and Mrs. Clair B. Owen, Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce H. Rasmussen, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Jurco and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Shuart.

A cocktail party was given Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Elliot, 408 S. Bristol, in honor of Mr. Elliot's cousin, Robert Fitzpatrick of Chicago, and his bride-to-be, Miss Micki Moffitt of Oak Park. The party was attended by friends of the engaged couple.

Graduation

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baumann, 421 E. Orchard, were hosts at a dinner party for 17 Sunday in honor of their son, Dan, who was graduated from Wheaton college. Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Benson of Staten Island, N. Y., Mrs. Neswold, also of Staten Island, Mr. Eduard of California who is on his way to Europe, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Jones of Johnston City, Ill., and Mrs. Gust Carlson of Sister Bay, Wis. Dan's guests from Wheaton college attending were Miss Nancy Jones, Warner Eduard and Miss Adele Johnson.

Monday, the day of Dan's graduation, Mr. and Mrs. Baumann honored their son with a luncheon for 20 guests at Plentywood Farm in Bensenville. Dan will attend Northern Baptist seminary in Chicago this fall in preparation for teaching in Venezuela.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Koenig, 343 Bristol, held open house Sunday, June 9, for 2 graduates in their family. Their son, Teddy Jr., was graduated from eighth grade at Our Lady of the Wayside and their daughter, Carol Ann, was graduated from Loyola university.

Home For Summer

Miss Patricia Koenig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Koenig, 343 S. Bristol lane, was a weekend guest of friends in Springfield before returning home from Quincy college for her summer vacation. Patricia will return to Quincy this fall for her sophomore term.

How to Keep Dad Out of Mischief

If Father is looking for a way to spend that sawbuck the family gave him Sunday—

If Mother wants exercise but quakes at the prospect of golf—

If Aunt Imogene has always desired a sun tan—

They'll all be interested (maybe) in swimming lessons for adults starting Saturday at Arlington Heights Recreation park pool.

The cost is only $4 per person and the class will be held from 10 a.m. to noon, ending August 3.

OTHER PARK activities about ready to start are adult softball and horseshoes, swimming and diving teams for youngsters 7 and older, in classes beginning at 5 p.m. Monday, and Red Cross Junior and Senior life saving courses, for children 12 and older, also beginning Monday evening. (AF

Palatine Limits Nudge Heights

The "iron ring" that neighboring communities are slowly closing around Arlington Heights acquired another link this week.

Final approval of annexation of a 775-acre tract by Palatine Tuesday shut off future Arlington expansion to the northwest, except possibly to the small Arlington Crest area.

The 775-acre tract is bordered roughly by Northwest hwy., Rand rd., Rohlwing rd. and Wilke rd., excluding Arlington Crest and a small area to the west of it.

BUILDERS Norman Winston and Davis Muss will develop the area with 1,900 homes, a 60-acre shopping center and a 75-acre industrial park. The industrial development will extend to Wilke rd., south of Palatine rd., except blocks from Arlington's Virginia Terrace subdivision.

The builders earlier this year had discussed annexation to Arlington Heights but later dropped the idea in favor of joining Palatine.

Dr. Clarence D. Craig Opens Dental Practice

DR. CRAIG

Dr. Clarence D. Craig will open a practice in general dentistry in Arlington Heights starting the first week in July. His office will be located at 11 S. Vail. Dr. Craig received a dental degree from Northwestern University dental school in 1955, and a B.S. degree from Ottawa university in 1951.

Upon graduation from Northwestern, Dr. Craig entered the army dental corps, as a first lieutenant.

WHILE IN service Dr. Craig practiced on a rotating dental program embracing all fields of dentistry. He took a post graduate course in oral surgery at the Walter Reed Research institute in Washington, D. C. and served as Chief of a Dental Clinic at Fort Gordon, Augusta, Ga.

Dr. Craig is married to the former Patricia Kule of Arlington Heights, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kule, now residing in Barrington. Dr. and Mrs. Craig have 1 son, Paul Alan, 6 months old. (A

Deaf Class Set at Elk Grove School

Elk Grove school next year will offer a special class for children who are hard of hearing.

Eligible will be elementary school pupils in Wheeling, Elk Grove and Maine townships, according to School Supt. Ernest L. Cavallo.

TEACHER for the class will be Miss Ella Rosenvinge, who this month completed studies in elementary education, with emphasis on educating the hard of hearing, at Northwest university.

Elementary school districts in the 3 townships will share the cost on the same basis as they now do for classes for blind children at Wheeling school.

Further information on registration and other details will be announced soon, added the superintendent. (AF

In The Heart of Arlington Heights

Well, school is out and so are mosquitos—and that's a sure sign of summer. Most of us have already planned on some sort of outdoor fun. Sure wish we could hang a "gone fishing" sign at the door, or join some of you folks who are going on a trip or vacation. But someone has to stay here and mind the store.

It's funny how many of us pack enough for a two-week trip to outfit a jungle safari (we had an aunt who insisted on bringing a foot bath) and then forget to take the real essentials that make vacations more comfortable and much more fun.

For instance, why squint all day or get a painful sunburn when you can pic' WILLSON sunglasses and a bottle of TARTAN ...n oil from our well-stocked shelves. And you mothers know that Junior and Sister are just as likely to get scraped shins away from home, so why not play safe and take along one of the special CURITY first aid kits we have for the purpose.

And say, how about a few pictures of your trip! For film, cameras and accessories, here's the place to find a dandy selection.

But why not come in and let us help you get set for the best vacation ever. And while you're gone, don't forget to send a picture postcard to your stay-at-home friends at

Free Church Bible School to Hold Final Exercises

Final program of the vacation Bible school of Arlington Heights Evangelical Free church will be held in the church sanctuary, Dunton and St. James sts., 7:30 p.m., Friday June 21. The public is invited.

The service, climaxing 2 weeks of daily sessions, will be devoted to a demonstration of what the 150 youngsters have learned in the school. The 24 teachers and administrators who have been directing the school will lead the children in their final exercises, in which each department of the school will participate.

The lessons, the handwork, and even the music learned by the youngsters has had a distinctly western flavor, based on the theme, "Pioneering With Christ." In the summary of their lessons and in the demonstration of their handwork, which will be on display Friday night, this pioneer atmosphere will prevail. Of interest will be the contribution of the young peoples department, for boys and girls from ages 12 to 17, because of the musical talent of the group; all the special music for the evening will emanate from the young people's department, under the direction of Mrs. Linda Shirley. # Needs of Aged Concern Of County Health Dept.

by JACK MARTIN

Although the blessings of an extended life expectancy rate are many, increases in the older population are a matter of concern for the Cook county department of public health.

Current hospital facilities are not adequate for the care of long term illnesses presented by the degenerative chronic diseases of the aged. Under the supervision of the public health department, nursing homes are meeting the rising need of care for diseases of old age.

Thirteen such homes are now operating in the northwest suburban area, which is included in the health department's north district.

DIRECTLY responsible for the supervision of Cook county nursing homes is a 3-member team consisting of a sanitarian, nursing supervisor, and nutritionist.

As sanitarian, Bruno Manella's work starts before the home begins practice. On his first visit to the institution, Manella measures the complete floor plan and makes a scale drawing of the entire building.

Floor area per bed and window area is computed to see if space allocation standards are met. Bathroom facilities, sewage treatment, and water supply are checked for general sanitation. Ventilation, lighting, and closet space are taken into careful consideration along with the general construction of the building.

KITCHEN facilities are checked for such things as adequate food storage, dishwashing procedure, dish storage, refrigeration and garbage storage and disposal. Oxygen storage must be considered in homes treating serious illnesses.

The second member of the public health team, the nursing supervisor, works closely with nursing home director. Mrs. Lola Coburn checks to see that the patients receive adequate care.

This includes medical supervision given to all residents, qualification of personnel, methods of dispensing medications, bedding, linen, general supplies and equipment, and health of employees. She is also concerned with the emotional needs of the patient, recreational facilities, and the happiness, comfort and contentment of the residents.

The third member of the health department team visiting nursing homes regularly is the nutritionist. Miss Martha Thomason's primary concern is the diet of the residents. She supervises both preparation methods and meal planning. Suggestions for menu planning and food purchasing are made.

SPECIAL CONSIDERATION is given to meals of patients on special diets. The importance of serving attractive, appetizing meals is also emphasized.

Dr. John B. Hall, medical director of the Cook county department of public health, suggests that a person desiring to enter a nursing home should visit the home to determine if it provides the accommodations he is willing to accept.

"Obviously," he points out, "those homes catering to low income patients cannot give the same type of service as those catering to a wealthy clientele. Even though all nursing homes are subject to licensure, they offer a variety of services."

Asked for methods of improvement, Dr. Hall stated "For the most part nursing home administrators are aware of the need for expanded services, better buildings and more recreational facilities. Nursing homes are a community service facility. Organized community effort could do much to improve the services they offer."

Milwaukee Ave. Drive-In Theatre Battle Extended

The fight in Circuit court to halt construction of a drive-in theater on a 55 acre tract in Maine township is in for extended hearings. Judge Daniel A. Roberts has referred the case to Master in Chancery Jacob Shamberg to take testimony and make a recommendation.

The case concerns plans of Morton Fink, 7234 N. Bell, Chicago, to erect an outdoor theater on the east side of Milwaukee ave. between Dempster st. and Golf road. He is being fought on two fronts. One battle is pending in the Appellate court. In this one members of the East Maine Township Community Association are seeking to upset a declaratory judgment rendered by Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher allowing erection of the drive-in theater in Maine township.

THE CASE NOW pending in Circuit court was brought on behalf of the owners of the 2 drive-in theaters formerly owned by Morton Fink's father, Frank Fink, 3100 N. Sheridan, Chicago.

These plaintiffs contend that Morton Fink's drive-in theater plans for Maine township violate the purchase agreement made with his father in 1950 in which he allegedly was to stay out of this business in the northwest section of the county until 1968.

The plaintiffs in this dispute are the River Grove Theater corporation, Velma Entertainment corporation, Essancess Assocates his mother, Mrs. Theresa Abrahamson, under the firm name of Norwood Enterprises.

IN THEIR CONTRACT with Frank Fink they said they agreed to pay him $1,615,000 and certain percentage payments for the Outdoor theater, Harlem and Forest Preserve drive, Norwood Park township, and the North Avenue Outdoor theater, River road near North ave. in Leyden township.

They said they have paid $915,000 on the purchase price and percentage payments exceeding $576,000 when their suit was filed December 3, 1956. Morton Fink has answered that the only reason these plaintiffs filed suit was that they did so after he refused their alleged negotiations to obtain an interest in the drive-in theater proposed for Maine township.

Morton Fink also has fired back by filing an anti-trust suit in Federal court, seeking triple damages totaling $1.5 million from the parties who purchased the 2 outdoor theaters from his father.

Morton Fink charged that these defendants sponsored protests of Maine township property owners now fighting him in the Appellate court. (B7

New Continuance In Preserve Case

(CNS)—For the sixth time in recent months, a taxpayer's suit challenging efforts of the Cook county Forest Preserve district to expand holdings in Barrington township, has been continued in Circuit court.

Judge Harry M. Fisher set June 26 the next hearing in the case instituted by Andrew H. Dick, of Wilmette, a mortgage broker who has the support of the Barrington Countryside association in this action.

They contend the disputed land does not contain a minmum of 10 per cent woodland.

THE TRACT the district originally sought to acquire contained 2,412 acres.

However, Charles G. Sauers, general district superintendent, last month asked the district commissioners to cut the authorization ordinance to about 650 acres.

The commissioners have yet to take action on the proposal. No mention was made of it at their latest meeting June 11.

Sauers earlier reported the district has purchased about 390 acres in the controversial site, known as the Spring Creek valley.

The acquired holdings for a good part are scattered, he said, but are within the 650 acre section he mentioned under his new plan.

THIS SECTION contains about 500 acres in the area bounded by Lake-Cook county line road on the north, Bateman road on the west, Donlea road on the south, and an irregular line on the east generally following Spring Creek.

The other 150 acres are south of Donlea road, extending approximately from the Spring Creek area to Sutton road on the east. (B7

Elk Grove Village Perks Sagging Building Volume

May's start of construction at Centex Construction corp.'s Elk Grove village gave a spurt to sagging 1957 home building statistics in the northwest suburbs.

In May the village issued 108 home permits with a total valuation of $2,095,950. The homes are being built in the area between Higgins rd. and Oakton st., from State rd. east.

The Elk Grove figure was the highest for residential construction among all Chicago area suburbs, easily topping the 69 homes begun in Dolton and the 68 in nearby Skokie.

Average permit value of the Centex homes was $19,400, indicating that permit values are much closer to the retail selling price than in the area's established communities. The top price on 4 Centex models is under $20,000.

MOST NORTHWEST suburbs reported higher home start totals than in any previous month of the year. Rolling Meadows recorded the most starts with 54, valued at $850,000.

Next in line were Mount Prospect with 47 homes with a valuation of $1,016,950; Arlington Heights, 36 homes at $772,250; Des Plaines, 31 homes at $638,500; Park Ridge, 24 homes, $641,867; Palatine, 15 homes at $230,500 and Barrington, 3 homes at $47,500.

In neighboring DuPage county the 1957 home building picture continued strong, with Bensenville replacing Addison in the lead during May. Forty-one homes with a permit value of $661,500, nearly double the volume for the same month a year ago, were started in Bnesenville. Booming Addison last month had 17 starts, valued at $244,000.

ACCORDING TO the monthly building report of the Bell Savings and Loan Association, the unincorporated areas of Cook, DuPage, Kane, Lake and Will counties gained nearly $2 million in permit totals during the month and the city of Chicago gained an equal amount. However, a drop in 115 suburban towns of more than the $12.5 million concelled out the increases.

In the Chicago metropolitan area the April building total for all types of construction was $64.8 million, compared with $52.3 million for May.

Bell President Myron H. Fox noted that the home building level this year is the lowest in the past 5 years for the entire region, now standing at the 1952 level.

Q. Is it all right to refuse a cigarette someone has offered you, if you prefer your own brand?

A. Yes; but refuse graciously saying, "Thank you, I have some."

Q. What should a guest say to her hostess when she leaves a luncheon party?

A. She tells her good-by, and how much she enjoyed herself.

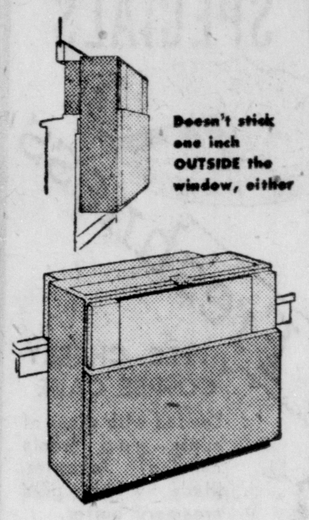
YORK Snorkel ROOM AIR CONDITIONER

Doesn't block the view...doesn't shut out daylight... so low, so slim you hardly know it's there!



Doesn't stick one inch OUTSIDE the window, either

Stands only nine inches high in the window! Actually measures only 12¾" front to back. Hangs from the inside sill, with no external braces or supports necessary! You can open, close, lock, or wash the window and it fits any window, even casement windows.

Overcomes apartment house and office building restrictions on air conditioning! Even if your landlord says no to ordinary air conditioners, you can have cool, clean, dehumidified air all summer long with the Snorkel—because not one inch juts outside the window!

Heat in winter, too! Can be equipped to replace radiators by hooking to existing steam or hot water pipes. Reverse cycle heat pump models also available. Furniture styled, in your choice of beautiful decorator colors.

Extend Registration Deadline For Wilson Kindergarten

Registration deadline for children entering Wilson Community kindergarten in September has been extended until Saturday, June 29.

The kindergarten association board of directors voted the extension to allow the registration of additional children who might fill vacancies in a contemplated second class.

The board also amended eligibility rules to open the kindergarten to children who, caught between varying cut-off dates, might otherwise miss the opportunity.

The old rule provided that only children who will be 5 on December 1 could be admitted. This coincides with the Wilson school admission rule for first grade.

Now the board has agreed to consider applications from children who will be 5 after December 1 if they are to attend first grade in another school with a later birthday deadline. Parents must submit an affidavit naming the school the child will attend and giving the admission date of the school.

The principle is that the child must be old enough to attend the first grade of his parents' choice the following year.

The rule change will apply principally to children who will attend St. James school, which has a December 31 birthday deadline for first grade.

Parents interested should contact the secretary of the association, Mrs. Bettie Klopfenstein, 1821 N. Verde, Arlington Heights, CLearbrook 5-1828.

Tuition for the kindergarten will be $100 for half-day sessions, September, 1957, through May, 1958. Only children who are residents of the Wilson school district are eligible.

Medical and dental forms will be sent to parents as soon as the board is able to make a final decision on the advisability of a second class. (B7

Court Sets June 22 as Deadline

(CNS)—Circuit Judge Charles S. Dougherty has set June 22 as deadline for a recommendation by a master-in-chancery, who is now in a test case watched by municipalities and home builders across the nation.

Six subdividers, sponsored by the Home Builders Council of Cook county, are attacking as unconstitutional a 1954 Park Ridge ordinance requiring builders to pay $300 per lot when they submit their plats for city approval. The money is put in a school building fund which at last count contained more than $100,000.

THE NEW MASTER appointed by Judge Dougherty is Albert Sheppard. He succeeds Daniel D. Carmell, widey known Chicago labor union lawyer who plunged to death from his 15th floor South Side apartment June 3 — hours before he was to go on trial in Federal court on a morals charge.

Oral arguments in the Park Ridge case had been completed before Carmell before his death, but he had not filed a recommendation report to Judge Dougherty.

ON MOTION OF Atty. Edward L. S. Arkema, representing the builders, Judge Dougherty ruled to adopt the transcript of the case so witnesses who testified before Carmell wouldn't have to be recalled.

However, Judge Dougherty said oral arguments will have to be given again before Master Sheppard.

Arkema said villages across the country with ordinances similar to the one in Park Ridge are awaiting the outcome of this case to learn where they stand in their efforts to provide adequate school facilities overcrowded by homebuilding booms. (B7

In The Shadow Of The Steeple

Sunday Store Hours Cut Into Family Worships

by REV. WILIAM McGILL

A churchman in business comments that he would like to keep his store closed on Sunday.

"But," he adds, "the business I do on Sunday is almost more than I do through most of the rest of the week." It seems that he is not alone.

An Arkansas supermarket operator returned to a 6-day week, last summer, and found that receipts dropped 40 per cent. Kroger's, in Indianapolis, closed on Sundays, but were forced to reopen 9 of 16 markets in order to meet the demands of customers and the demands imposed by profit necessities.

RETAILERS' associations in the Chicago area particularly have been seeking to promote a Sunday-closing law that is modern and enforcable through the state legislature. Most states have laws which are antiquated, vague and not-enforcable; others have laws which are not enforced.

Many church group shave joined the criticism of Sunday business and have been active in urging more modern laws for its regulation. A great measure of this support is based on the infringement of Sunday work into family and worship life of the employees of the businesses which are open.

LAST FALL, New York's Cardinal Spellman urged Roman Catholics to "help others who wittingly or unwittingly may be breaking God's Commandment" by not making Sunday purchases. I have seen no data on what this has meant to business receipts in the New York area on Sundays.

What is responsible for the increase in Sunday business? Most of our area knows quite well. One factor is the increasing frequency of 2 job families. The amount of time available for one-stop shopping in large super-market areas is limited. Late business hours during the week might be helpful, but there is often a tendency to feel tired at the close of the day.

A CLEVELAND housewife was reported as saying (in Time, October 22, 1956): "Getting up late Sunday and shopping with the kids after a slow breakfast is fun. It's like going to the fair." Merchants say that people spend more on Sunday than they do during late-business hours.

One thing we have to recognize, especially we who are in the churches: if Sunday business is a necessary response to consumer demands and needs, we ought not to blame the businessman for doing what most of the churches are doing.

Many churches are now operating on a schedule of 2 or 3 services. This is not simply because one service is over-crowded. We have all learned that families like to go to church together; perhaps the children are in church school while the parents are in the worship service. Some families like to have a longer day before them, after an early service, in which to visit friends, work on the lawn, or play golf.

The multiple service idea stems from the adjustment made in New York and Boston, in the nineteenth century, when an earlier Mass became necessary because so many of the Episcopalian and Presbyterian families expected the Irish household help to be getting dinner while the employers were in church.

ON THE OTHER hand, the churches and all who are concerned about the ideals by which families are motivated should raise the question: what does emphasis on Sunday business do to the ideals by which a family lives? One of the obstacles to wholesome family life is the increasing emphasis on gadgets as a symbol of "gracious" living. If this kind of advertising and selling represent a further deterioration into a life of gadgetry and appliance-idolatry, is it worth it?

To be sure, the businessman owes something to his customers and their desires. But he also owes something to the society in which he lives. (B10

Q. Is it necessary to mail engraved wedding invitations to close friends who have already been invited verbally?

A. It is always correct to send the engraved invitations — even to members of the immediate families.

Q. Is "I know Miss Brown" the proper thing to say when being introduced to her for the second time?

A. No; this sounds as if it were trouble to make a second [illegible] say, "have already had the pleasure [illegible] Brown."

As a Chicago retailer recently observed, "This is the electric age . . . electric servants are taking over in the home."

Typical of this trend is the change to the electric range. Women like their modern looks and appreciate surface units that keep pots and pans bright. And electric ovens hold the heat more evenly because they are insulated on all 6 sides (not merely five).

Such refinements as automatic roasting, broiling, frying, boiling are easy to take, too. Equally important, you can be sure your new electric range will be modern for many years to come.

Arlington Crest

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Mary Shelton of Warren ave. Her stepfather, Elmer Buehler of Elgin, died June 7.

Mrs. Lydia Krebs of Warren ave. celebrated her birthday June 13 and Connie James celebrated hers June 17.

Sisters Together

Mr. and Mrs. John Lino and family of Fresno, Cal., Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Linneweh of Schaumburg, Mrs. Alvina Moeller and Mr. and Mrs. John Filantres of Arlington Heights visited Mr. and Mrs. Harry Loeding and family last Thursday. Mrs. Lino, Mrs. Filantres, Mrs. Linneweh and Mrs. Loeding are sisters. John Filantres also returned from California Thursday, after finishing his tour of army duty. Sunday they all spent the day in Union, Ill., at the farm of another sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hoeske, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thome and family spent Sunday in Chicago visiting their fathers. (AP

Banquet and Election

Ridge Park Bowling league held its banquet recently, at which officers were elected for 1957-58: president, Ed Oja; vice president, Harvey Thompson; Alyce Moss, secretary for the Wednesday night group; Espar Oja., re-elected secretary for the Monday night group. The Monday night bowlers will meet at 7 at Beverly lanes and the Wednesday night group at 9 at Arlington Heights Bowling lanes. Anyone interested may call Ed Oja, CL 3-3464, or Alyce Moss, CL 3-8979.

The John Kanes went to the IBM annual picnic Sunday at Nestle Rest park, Lake Zurich. There was swimming, games and races for the children. Scott, the older of the Kane boys, came in fourth in one of the races.

Gave Baby Shower

Mrs. F. J. Graham gave a baby shower Tuesday night for Marilyn Hedger who is looking forward to her second child. Sixteen relatives and friends were there for refreshments, games and prizes.

Peggy Miller, daughter of the John A. Millers, appeared with Gary Erwin again on Bandstand Matinee Monday. They were called back to appear on this program, which featured mostly sophomores and juniors. In fact, they were the only couple on the program representing Arlington Heights. Peggy was graduated from the Junior High school June 7.

Norma and Gene Barnes took Susan and Kathy to Chicago Sunday to visit the girls' great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barnes. The Barnes, who are 80 and 82, still maintain their home in Chicago and were especially happy to see the family on Father's day.

First Communion

Donna Balfour, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Balfour, made her first communion in St. James church Sunday. Among those invited to dinner at the Balfours' afterward were Mr. and Mrs Larry Pfeiffer and their young son, Mr. and Mrs. C. Valvo, Mr. and Mrs. J. Valvo, Mrs. Johanna Gould, Mrs. Mary Balfour, Donna's grandmother, Mrs. Rose Modine, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Taglia and their 2 daughters.

The G. H. Knitters moved to Seattle, Wash. Tuesday and their friends and neighbors are missing them already. Besides the novelty of a new position for Mr. Knitter, the family is looking forward to the vacation on the way. They are going by way of the Black Hills, Yellowstone and Glacier National parks. Last Thursday Mrs. Anita Balfour, Mrs. Barbara Rapp and Mrs. Dorothy Mirs had a coffee for Mrs. Knitter, to which they invited several of her friends and neighbors. They presented Mrs. Knitter with an automatic coffeemaker as a going away present. The Knitters will also be missed in the scouting program, where they were so active.

The George Beresheims went to Bluff lake, near Antioch, Father's day to visit with her family, who have a cottage there. It was a treat for their children, who always enjoy seeing their grandparents, as well as the swimming and fishing.

Recuperating

Charlie Stocking, son of the Larry Stockings, is recuperating from a tonsillectomy. His recovery has been rapid and he is now looking forward to the long vacation ahead of him.

Mrs. William Broadfoot and Mrs. Vernon Jensen took their children to the Hagen Brothers circus Monday night. The circus, sponsored by the Kiwanis of Winnetka, was held in Winnetka.

Over the weekend the Robert H. Clores entertained Mr. and Mrs. Don Marks, Tommy and Ned from Cedarburg, Wis. The 2 families were neighbors when the Clores lived in Cedarburg.

These are busy days at the Adolph Danes' house. Last Thursday night Sharon graduated from the high school, after which there was a buffet supper for neighbors, relatives and friends. Because it was the birthday of their brother-in-law, James Callahan, they included that in the celebration too. When the party ended at the Danes' house, Sharon and several of her friends went to a pajama party, which continued a round of picnics, parties and pizza parties the graduating class has been attending.

Kitchen and Pantry Shower

Mrs. H. A. Braunsreuter gave a kitchen and pantry shower Friday night for Sharon Engelking, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Engelking. Invited were Mrs. Richard Stevens, also co-hostess, Sharon's mother and grandmother, Mrs. Grace Livingston, Mrs. Robert Haddon, Mrs. Richard Platt, Mrs. George Topp, Mrs. Joseph Pecoraro, Mrs. Joseph Urbanowicz, Mrs. Phillip Rosheger, Mrs. Eugene King, Mrs. Donald Wheeler. Mrs. John Mowat and Mrs. Eugene Myslo. Sharon is being married June 29.

Tuesday night Mrs. Donald Wheeler invited several of the Kennicott ave. folks to see her new home at 714 W. Elm st. Mrs. Richard Stevens was there, as well as Mrs. Robert Haddon, Mrs. Richard Platt, Mrs. George Topp, Mrs. Dave Mills, Mrs. Eugene King, Mrs. Phillip Rosheger, Mrs. Joseph Urbanowicz, Mrs. Joseph Pecoraro and Mrs. H. A. Braunsreuter. The surprise of the evening was when the group presented Mrs. Wheeler with a gift certificate as a house-warming gift. (A

Mrs. I. D. Linehan Is Tea Hostess In Wayside Parish

Mrs. Irvin D. Linehan was hostess at a tea June 13 in the rectory of Our Lady of the Wayside parish, Arlington Heights.

New chairman for the coming club year, Mrs. Frank H. Tribbey, introduced her new co-chairman, Mrs. Harold L. Woods and 6 new sacristans for the year were then appointed.

Rev. Harold T. O'Hara, pastor, commended members of the altar committee for their work during the past year and welcomed new members of the committee.

The newly-installed president of the womans club, Mrs. Edmund O'Brien and second vice-president, Mrs. Theodore A. Koenig, poured.

All members of the club are encouraged to take active part in the altar committee and those interested should contact the chairman, Mrs. Tribbey. (A

Scholarship Awarded To Former Resident

Oscar R. Sander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar G. Sander of Des Plaines, formerly of Arlington Heights, was a member of the graduating class of Maine Township high school Friday evening. Oscar was fourth in his class of close to 600 seniors and was awarded an honor entrance scholarship to the University of Chicago.

Tuesday evening the Sanders' other son, Leslie C., was a member of the graduating class at Immanuel Lutheran school, Des Plaines. He will enter Maine in September.

The parents entertained 30 relatives and friends with late supper after both commencement exercises in honor of the happy occasions. (A

GEORGE HARRIS

"Everyone talks about the weather, and somebody did something about it." We wanted and needed warm weather; but, man, this is ridiculous. Just about the lousiest spring we have ever had and now we're slapped in the face with some extremely hot weather.

Most of you know that "Old Sol" can wreak havoc with you if you don't take care of yourself. I'd like you to heed some tips from your family philosopher, "Pappy Harris." First, it is imperative that you have salt tablets in the house and take them regularly; second, dress cool and comfortable with light airy clothes. (It might not be what is recommended by Esquire, but you'll be comfortable). Third, take it easy and this is the most important, don't let things upset you—as the teenagers would say, "Keep cool, fool." Things will get done and business will go on as usual, so don't get yourself in a "tizzy" during these exceptionally hot days.

Say, 'bye the 'bye, if the going gets a little rough, stop in at the Fountain at Harris Pharmacy and get one of our "Summer Coolers." This is your old family philosopher saying, "If you want to have fun, stay out of the sun."

Form Softball Team

The newly-formed Virginia Terrace softball team met Tuesday evening at the park area on Thomas st. Gene Dougherty announced that the park district will help in organizing a league and any men interested in playing may contact him at CL 5-0650.

Jim Cates, Frank McKiernan, George Murray and Don Munk are Terrace men assisting in the direction of the St. James Holy Name society annual barbecue. The affair will be held at the school grounds Saturday, June 22, starting at 4 p.m. Entertainment includes square dancing and the caller will be Don Finfrock, well-known by Terrace couples who attended square dance classes this winter.

Moving West

Moving to the west coast are Jim and Lora Lee Howard, 1325 Wilke. Jim has been transferred to Los Angeles with the Helene-Curtis co. Lora Lee and her daughters, Cindy and Sharon, will follow as soon as arrangements are completed here.

A 6-pound daughter, Kathryn, was born to Val and John Bickley, 1337 Chicago, May 14 in Sherman hospital. The new baby has a brother, Skipper, and a sister, Lisa.

Hostess at a straw demonstration Friday was Bunny Reinhardt, 1414 Illinois. Her guests watched the many uses of straw baskets and trays as shown by the demonstrator. Women invited were Marilyn Owens, Nancy Vodick, Helen McCoy, Norma Pahr, Diane Moser, Olive Balow, Pierrette Leckie, Jane Von Ebers, Jean Dillon, Jerry Hnatt, Sandy Mullins, Nancy Grassly, Joan Herrman, Lois Martin and Alice Brown.

Bob and Carolyn Parkin, 1511 Clarendon, enjoyed a 4-day vacation trip to Minneapolis, their home town. While there, they joined 20 former schoolmates for a picnic and dance.

At the last meeting of the St. James Catholic Women's guild, Mona McKiernan, 1429 Wilke, was installed as treasurer for the coming year.

Celebrating her sixth birthday Monday was Linda Fluhrer, 1433 Race. The highlight of the party was a maypole dance. Linda's guests included Felicity Frisbie, Don and Linda Brown, Marybeth Martin, Linda Donath, Bruce Leckie, Sharon Gunther, Michael Hartig and Kurt Kabel.

Michael and Mary Kay Henneman, 1200 Chicago, celebrated their birthdays together by inviting playmates to a picnic at Deer Grove. Assisting their parents, Dorothy and Bill, were Phyllis and Charles Marshall. Michael's guests were Terry Dennis, Michael and Jimmy Reichert, Charlie Marshall, Bruce Williams and Don Dhrig. Mary Kay invited Carol Kuhl, Felicity Frisbie, MaryAnn Brown, Jenny Marshall and Jean Crouch.

Mrs. Marie Bender, 1421 Wilke, was called to Madison, Wis., this past weekend to attend the funeral of her brother-in-law, Alfonse Wermuth. (A

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. If a man is sitting down in some public place and a strange woman stops and addresses a question to him, should he rise?

A. Yes, he should rise while answering the question.

Q. How can a couple who have just moved into a new home notify all their good friends of their new address?

A. Their double visiting card, with their new address engraved on it and a written message, such as, "We hope you'll visit us soon," is a good way.

Q. Is it proper to invite girls to a bridal shower who you know are not being invited to the wedding?

A. Not unless the wedding is to be so small that only the immediate families will be included.

Garden Club Will Hear Conservationist

Miss Vivian J. Rankin of Chicago, state of Illinois conservation department education representative, will speak to Arlington Heights Garden club about Illinois state parks and memorials at the group's meeting Monday, June 24 in the field house at 8 p.m.

Miss Rankin's talk will be augmented by color films showing the beauties and facilities of the parks.

The Garden club invites everyone to the meeting. Information and reservations may be obtained by calling Mrs. H. L. Berthold, CLearbrook 3-5143.

Following Miss Rankin's talk refreshments will be served with Mrs. T. Samuelson, Mrs. T. L. Archibald and Mrs. E. J. Dresmal hostesses for the evening.

News Of Rolling Meadows

A "KOFFEE KLATSCH" party was held for volunteer workers at the Community school for retarded children in Rolling Meadows on the final day of classes before the summer vacation. Shown around the table during the coffee break are Mrs. Eleanor Reed and Mrs. Marjorie Borland of Prospect Heights; Mrs. May Filloon of Barrington, class teacher; Mrs. Mary Miller and Mrs. Liz Senofsky of Rolling Meadows; and Mrs. Audrey Krause, school president. Gifts of scarves were given to the volunteer workers on behalf of the school children. Plans for the reopening of classes in the fall, including the recruiting of volunteer assistance, are now being made. The majority of volunteer workers during the past year were members of the Prospect Heights Women's club and the Rolling Meadows Junior Women's club.

Stalls Palatine Rd. Zoning

(CNS) — A slap at trailer camps by County Commissioner John Mackler has stalled county board action on a 10-acre farmland site in Wheeling township whose owners want to use in connection with their excavating and road building business.

Mackler said he wanted assurances banning any possible future use of the land for a trailer camp before he'd go along with the request to rezone the site as a light industrial district.

THE PROPERTY is located on the south side of Palatine road about ¼ mile east of Wolf road and is owned by Doetsch Brothers, 2740 Ridge road, Evanston. It is across the street and south of Pal-Waukee airport.

The 10-acre tract is part of a 40 acre site owned by the company. Thirty acres now is being used as a gravel pit, permitted under the zoning ordinance.

Planned for the 10-acre piece are a garage building for housing and repairing heavy duty road equipment and a smaller structure for offices.

The county zoning board has recommended approval.

ONE OF THE OWNERS, Lawrence P. Doetsch, has offered a proposed covenant running with the land to prohibit trailer courts, tourist courts, and motels.

However, Mackler said he's not sure this guarantee would do any good.

"The same promise was made in another case in Elk Grove township and trailers are sitting there now," Mackler said.

The county board's public service committee deferred action on the case Monday at Mackler's request.

At a zoning board hearing, the northerly 110 feet consisting of 1½ acres was withdrawn from the petition. This strip falls within the proposed right-of-way in connection with the county's proposed widening of Palatine road in that vicinity. (B7

Round 'n About Westgate

Happy Travelers

The sunny southland was the destination of Carolyn and Bob Herigodt and youngsters, Robert, Richard and Raymond, where they enjoyed a 5-day visit with Carolyn's aunt, Mrs G. A. Thompson of Birmingham, Ala.

A week of fishing with serveral male companions is being enjoyed by Elmer Behnke, 1202 Campbell, at a resort in Gold Rock, Canada.

Recently returned from a trip to Oklahoma City is the Flodin Family, Mary, John and daughters Marcy, Melinda and Cindy, of 229 Yale. They visited Mary's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Shirk. Her mother, Mrs. Jessie Shirk of Chicago, is now making her home with the Flodins.

New Neighbors

A hello is being extended to Sally and Al Zimmer, 247 Yale, who recently moved here from Chicago. Sally and Al are employed by Standard Oil, Al in the accounting Dept. and Sally as a comtometer operator. They attend Our Lady of the Wayside and are especially interested in bowling, Sally being championship material. They also enjoy swimming and are baseball fans. Visiting them now are Sally's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lutkehaus Jr., formerly of Arlington Heights.

A belated welcome to Margaret and Bill McCulloch, who moved moved into 214 Yale in January from Danville, Calif. They have three children, Peggy, 7, Jeff, 9, an Jackie, 4. Bill is associated with Cryovac Corp., Div. of W. R. Grace Co., manufacturing plastics. They attend the Espicopal Church in Palatine and like most sports, swimming in particular. Peggy turned 7 Sunday and 10 neighborhood girls were on hand to help her celebrate.

A family gathering began the celebration of Linda Huster's fourth birthday June 20. A party including neighborhood friends will conclude her big day. Guests included Mr.and Mrs. O. T. Peterson, Lombard, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Huster, Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Leach, Niles, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred White, Lombard, and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Klauss, Skokie. Linda is the daughter of Jeanne and Ed Huster, 1411 Fremont.

Among anxious parents attending Dolores Eiler Dancing Recital at the High School Sunday were those of Pamela Townsend, 1517 Fremont, Carol Herda, 243 Yale and Linda Pollitz, 11 Reuter.

Bluebirds and Camp Fire Girls concluded their busy season with a week of day camping at Deer Grove. Cleta Jean Herda, Director deserves gratitude for the time and energy expended on these troops. Many parents visited the camp and took part in games and festivities.

Sick List

An ulcer operation several weeks ago is keeping Pat Gilmore hospitalized at Lutheran Deaconess. Wife, Dorothy, has practically taken up residence there, also neighbors join her in expecting his return home shortly. The Gilmor's live at 1600 Fremont.

Recuperating at home after leg surgery at Oak Park Hospital is John Czerney, 1605 Fremont. It is hoped he will be back on both feet soon so that he and Joyce will make the golf outing.

New Arrivals

A baby girl has come to live with Luanne and Tom Tierney and daughter, Debbie, 2, at 101 Yale. She arrived May 7 in St. Luke's Chicago, and weighed 7 lbs. 7 oz. She has been named Noreen Ann. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. T. Tierney, Glenview and Mr. and Mrs. D. Elliott, Chicago.

Local friends will be interested to learn that Liz and Charles Rader, formerly of 247 Yale, are parents of their third daughter, Karen Jean, born May 13 and weighing 8 lbs. The Haders, along with daughters Mary Ann and Linette, recently moved to Cleveland, Ohio.

The racing season is here again and it behooves parents to keep a closer reign on the small fry. A good job is being done to keep the entrances into Westgate blocked. Along this vein, attention has been directed to several local "Barney Oldfield's" to ease up on the accelerator and hold to the 20 MPH limit. (A

Camp Fire Outing

Camp Fire outdoor camp was held at Camp Welasi in Deer Grove Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Among the groups were Mrs. Shirley Smital's Forest View Bluebirds and the Chee-Ka-Ta camp fire girls, Mrs. Margaret Currier's group. Girls receiving honor beads at the council fire Friday were Joan Sundblad, Bonnie Luczak, Karin Wulff, Karen Anderson Faith Best, Patty Cleary, Linda Elwess and Elv Rodriguez. Mrs. Mary Sidor, assistant to Mrs. Smital, was in charge of the basket weaving at camp.

The junior W. H. Grismers attended the Department of Illinois VFW dinner dance at the Hotel Sherman, Chicago, Friday.

Sunday the Stan Luczaks enjoyed supper at the Countryside Golf club. Afterwards they were guests at the Dave Borgardt home on Rand rd.

Mr. and Mrs. John Phol spent Father's day with Mr. Phol's father, John Phol Sr., in Indiana.

Recent Newcomers

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Wilk and daughter, Theresa, moved into the former Edwin Pearne apartment on Seegers rd.

Sunday the Raymond Blaschkes of Seegers rd. attended a picnic at the William Schroeders' of Arlington Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Koepke attended the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. T. Simon of Chicago Saturday.

Joan Sundblad was ten Thursday and a surprise party was given her at the Camp Fire Girls day camp. The girls' leader, Mrs. Currier, provided the birthday cake. (AC

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
"Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at Christian Science services Sunday, June 23.
Matthew's account of Christ Jesus' stilling of the storm at sea (8:23-27) is included in the selections to be read from the King James Version of the Bible.
Passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (182: 32-4): "The law of Christ, or Truth, makes all things possible to Spirit; but the so-called laws of matter would render Spirit of no avail, and demand obedience to materialistic codes, thus departing from the basis of one God, one lawmaker."
The Golden Text is from John (1:1, 3): "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God . . . All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made."

The Answer To Fear

A man who was clawed by a lion, a woman who was told a finger must be amputated, and a man faced with loss of both legs—all tell how the power of God, divine Love, brought complete healing to them on the regular Sunday television series, "How Christian Science Heals" viewed on Channel 7 at 9:45 a.m.
The radio series of the same name may be heard each Sunday over Station WNMP 1590 KC at 9:15 a.m. and over Station WAIT 820 KC at 1:30 p.m.

Universalist Fellowship Holds First Annual Meeting

Countryside Universalist Fellowship, which holds services in the Roselle public school, S. Park and E. Pine sts., held its first annual meeting Sunday.

Following the actions of the congregation to continue worship services throughout the summer but to suspend until the Sunday after Labor day formal church school sessions; elect Rev. Albert F. Harkins as its minister to serve indefinitely; adopt a constitution and by-laws; adopt a budget for the new church year, the group chose new officers. They are William Tillman, Barrington Woods, chairman; B. H. Robinson, Arlington Heights, vice chairman; Terry Wilkins, Elgin, secretary; Florence Carpenter, Elgin, financial secretary; William J. Jordan, Elgin, treasurer; Dr. Lloyd W. Kinsey, Elgin, trustee; and Mary Bullock, Bloomingdale, trustee.

Mrs. William J. Jordan is retiring chairman. Other retiring officers are Stanley L. Levine, Elgin, and Ryerson W. Johnson, Algonquin, who has served as treasurer.

In the last 2 weeks 37 persons have formally joined the Fellowship.

AFTER THE congregational meeting adjourned, the group went to the proposed church site near Algonquin and Meacham rds. From there the group went the Elk Grove forest preserve for a picnic where the Rev. John S. MacPhee, executive minister of the Midwest Universalist conference, joined the group.

MARVIN W. MINDES

Sunday morning at 10:45, Marvin W. Mindes, a Chicago attorney, will occupy the pulpit of the fellowship. His subject will be "Ethics and the Income Tax." Mindes is a graduate of the University of Chicago, receiving both his academic and law degrees. He is a member of the Illinois and New York bars, United States Supreme Court bar, tax court of the United States and the United States treasury department. Mindes is a member of the board of directors of the Ryder community center, Chicago, a Universalist church sponsored settlement project, the Clarence Darrow Centenary committee, and several bar associations.

AN AREA CENTER for liberal religion, the Countryside Universalist fellowship is an affiliate of the Council of Liberal Churches (Universalist-Unitarian). An invitation is extended to the general public to share and participate in the Fellowship's services and activities. (A10

The announcement was made last week by the Lutheran Council of Greater Chicago, the coordinating agency for the Chicagoland Lutheran Evangelism mission. Miss Neas is a teen-age member of Our Saviour Lutheran church, meeting at Dryden school in Arlington Heights.

The essay, which was written on the theme: "Why We Should Have Family Devotions," was entered in a contest which was part of the month-long emphasis on family devotions sponsored by the family devotions committee of the Chicagoland Lutheran Evangelism mission in preparation for the evangelism mission which was conducted last February in Chicago and suburbs.

EACH OF THE 375 participating congregations were encouraged to conduct essay contests among their own Sunday and parochial school pupils and Luther League and Walther League members. Each congregation then chose its own winner and submitted the winning essay to the family devotions committee for final judging. The committee then selected a winner from each of the synodical groups.

Miss Neas was winner of the entries from the United Lutheran church congregations. Her essay has been submitted for publication in the official news organ of the United Lutheran church, "The Lutheran." It is expected that the essay will be published in one of the forthcoming issues. (A

THE LONG ARM OF THE LAW reaches out to inscribe the name, license number and make and model of car of a speeding motorist on the radar graph used by the Illinois state police. The officer making the inscription is Joseph Wojcik, 939 N. Kaspar st., Arlington Heights. The graph will be brought into court as evidence when their cases come up.

How State Police Radar Nips Speed on Area Roads

by BOB BUCHANAN

In 10 days, Illinois' new state highway speed limits will take effect.

BeginningJuly 1, the new state law will limit cars to 65 m.p.h., buses to 60, trucks under 8,000 pounds to 55 and trucks over 8,000 to 50.

In effect, the law will enable the Illinois state police to use radar anywhere in the 56,400 square within its boundries.

Radar and the practices used by the state police are bent toward one end—save lives. Nearly 1,000 motorists are recorded as traffic fatalities each year in the Land of Lincoln.

To see how a state police radar unit works, one was observed as it attempted to remind motorists that Hoffman Estates is just as much a suburban community as are any of the other suburbs.

Two cars from district 3 — it covers northern Cook county and has headquarters at Irving Park and Harlem—were dispatched Monday by Lt. William F. Moffat to enforce the 45 m.p.h. speed limit on Illinois highway 58 or Golf rd. at the north end of Hoffman Estates.

ASSIGNED TO the task were Officer Joseph Wojcik of 939 N. Kasper, Arlington Heights, in the radar car and Officer Warren Lindgren, Echo Lane, Palatine, in the patrol car.

"We're not here to make it rough on motorists. All we're trying to do is protect the people across the road (Hoffman Estates) and catch the flagrant violators," Wojcik said.

"Motorists," he continued, "are fairly good in complying with speed laws. Driving is a privilege, not a right," he emphasized.

THE DESCRIPTION of the car, time, and license number are recorded on the graph which goes into court to show the exact speed of the car. Asked if it's accurate, he replied, "It sure is!" Just then another patrol car went by. It asked for a reading. Officer Wojcik responded. The reply came "10-4" or okay.

"The state's attorney general has ruled there is no such thing as speed entrapment," Wojcik said. "We're not rough on motorists really. Look, we're a good half mile inside the speed zone and beyond 2 posted signs."

JUST THEN A new model car sped by in the opposite direction. He was recorded as doing 60. "He was probably doing 62," Wojcik said. "Cars going away get a 2 m.p.h advantage. Too bad I don't have another car in that direction. And he saw the patrol car before he passed me."

In a 15-minute period, Wojcik said, about 90 cars had been checked and only one arrested. He was doing 58. If it can't be determined which of 2 passing motorists traveling in opposite directions is speeding, the state policemen let them pass. "Only when motorists are obviously breaking the law, are they arrested," he concluded.

Officer Lindgren finished giving a ticket to an errant motorist. "Look at these speeders. They were going 61, 60, and 58."

A few minutes later, Lindgren chirped, "Here comes one" as he glanced out the rear view mirror. Just then the radio broke in with Wojcik on the other end, "Stop a green Buick. He's doing 58." Here Lindgren said, "I knew he was speeding the way he broke the horizon. After awhile you can practically tell how fast a driver is going, but radar is the clincher."

THE OFFICER got out of the car, put up his hand and waved the green car to the side.

"Some motorists," he said, "don't say a thing when they're arrested. Others try to get out of it. One man I stopped and told he was doing 60, replied, 'You're exactly right'."

On a detail like this, cars become greatly overheated by idling for long periods of time. That's why, Wojcik explained, only "old" ones are put on the job. The radar car, a 1956 model, had 91,000 miles on it.

"We only hope," the officers said, "that these tickets will remind speeders to be more careful. We're only doing a job — and that's to save lives." (B7

Scandinavian Pupils Get Free Trip Around the World

by BILL DILLINGHAM

COPENHAGEN—Would YOU like to travel around the world?

As a school child in Scandinavia, you might have the chance. More and more youngsters are getting free trips to distant places. It is all part of a plan in Scandinavia to let the students see how life is in other lands.

This does not mean, though, that school authorities are paying for first-class tickets on passenger liners. The lads go to sea for "educational vacations" more in the style of Jack London.

SCANDINAVIA is a leading shipping power. Their cargo vessels operate in all oceans. With the thousands of ships traveling under the Scandinavian flags, it is no problem for a ship to "bring along" a student or two to see the world. This is exactly what is going on.

Ship owners are not opposed to the practice "as long as the boys keep out of the way." School authorities are enthusiastic over the great educational value of such travel.

Even considering the large number of ships under Scandinavian flags, it is not possible to let every student have a sea voyage. There are just not enough vessels and trips to go around. And, unfortunately, not all shipowners or masters have yet been recruited for the service.

But for those who stay at home, there are other compensations. A school class, where the teacher is interested in such things, will "adopt" a ship. Students write letters to the ship's crew members and read the answers to the class.

THE PUPILS usually have a map where they plot the daily progress of "their" vessel, discussing the ports the ship stops in, the countries themselves, the people, etc.

When the ship returns to its home port in Scandinavia, or perhaps even before, a "present" is frequently given to the class. It might be carved ivroy from Africa or a local costume from the Far East. But it creates a deep interest of the students in foreign lands, foreign customs, their geography lessons, and gives them information about the world and its peoples that is not likely to be forgotten.

A school in Aarhus, Denmark received a kangaroo from their adopted ship. One in Frederikssund, Denmark received a set of Malay musical instruments. In return, besides the letters the crew receives, the school children sometimes chip in and buy a subscription to a magazine for the ship.

ONE CLASS in a Swedish school asked for an albatross. Their ship was visiting the South African ports at the time. These birds die shortly after they cross the equator into the Northern Hemisphere, and there has never been known the exception to the rule.

The class received a number of watermelons instead, a fruit that most people in Scandinavia have never seer. (B10

Century-Old Church Plans Expansion

A special planning committee, headed by Fred Hammer, has been appointd by members of the Lutheran Church of St. John, Linneman rd., Elk Grove, to investigate possibilities of a larger educational building and parish hall. At a recent meeting, the group examined preliminary drawings for the project.

Another committee is at work, resiving the constitution of the congregation, in view of the fact that the organization dates back to 1848.

The educational board of the congregation is making efforts to set up a kindergarten eventually in conjunction with the parish school program. (H

Arlington Park Enters 2nd Week

Chicago's budding two-year-old division, rich in quality and quantity both, and what is easily the nation's most spectacular three-year-old division share the limelight for the next six days as Arlington Park swings into its second week of racing.

Two popular stakes events are on tap—the $15,000 added Primer Stakes for two-year-olds on Wednesday, and the $20,000 added Laurance Armour Memorial on Saturday.

Outstanding fields are expected for both events according to Racing Secretary Fred Burton's recent survey. The Chicago two-year-old picture, annually the scene of America's fastest youngsters, already has been enhanced considerably by the recent development of Fred W. Hooper's Alhambra, a son of Olympia, of which nothing but excellent reports have been received.

ALHAMBRA, winner of his racing debut here last week, is expected to head the field for Wednesday's five and one-half furlongs Primer Wednesday. Alhambra is following much the same campaign stablemate Greek Game did last year. Greek Game started and won his bow at Washington Park, then made his first stakes start in the Primer a winning one.

Saturday's Laurance Armour will bring together many of the nation's ranking three-year-olds, including Fred W. Hooper's Greek Game, Calumet Farm's 1956 juvenile champion, Barbizon, and Reverie Knoll Farm's Jet Colonel.

Last year, Greek Game swept most of Chicago major events for two-year-olds, including the Arlington Park and Washington Park Futurities, and ended his juvenile campaign with a second to Bold Ruler in the Belmont Futurity. Barbizon has been a disappointment of late, but the Polynesian colt slowly and steadily is rounding to his best form under the crafty H. A. "Jimmy" Jones.

William S. Miller's Better Bee, come-from-behind winner of Balmoral's one mile Chicagoan 3 weeks ago, also figures high on the Laurance Armour probable starters list.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by Bob Paddock

THIS WEEK'S SALUTE goes to 12-year-old Ronald Oren of Arlington Heights, Judo champ in the midwest tournament at Sears YMCA in Chicago. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Oren of 1103 W. Euclid, Ronald attends Bishop Quarter jr. military academy in Oak Park, and is an active participant in boxing, fencing, tennis and horse back riding as well as Judo.

Ronald Oren

Ronald was behind a half point with 30 seconds to go in the last round. He rallied to win the championship. He also won intramural judo title in school, as well as taking second in boxing in the 90-95 pound division. Ronald may be facing his finals of intramural boxing tourney opponent in a rematch at Chicagoland Fair July 13, boxing for the CYO. Ron's judo instructor is John Osako, 1952 and 1956 Pan-American and national champion, a judo man with a world-wide reputation.

BIG 10 AID program for athletes is very much in the public eye with coaches watching and waiting, hoping. Bill Schrader, Champaign sports writer, has come up with some figures that may indicate the effect the new program will have on number of outstanding high school athletes from around the state picking the Big 10 for their educations.

Checking back in the records it is discovered that in 1953 of 28 out of the 33 All-Staters who went to school 22 of them went to Big Ten schools and 12 to Illinois. In 1954 there were 26 of 33 All-Staters who went on to school and 17 of them went to the Big Ten with 11 to Illinois. A year ago there were 29 All-Staters who went away to school with 23 going to the Big Ten and nine to Illinois.

During this three year stretch there were 99 All-State football players selected. Of this number 83 went to school or a .838 percentage. Of this 83, 62 went to a Big Ten school, a .747 percentage, and of the 62 which went to the Big Ten the University of Illinois got 32, a .516 percentage. The 32 figure is only .323 per cent of the overall total of 99 candidates, though.

At the present time the average going to the Big Ten is an even .500. Quite a bit below the three year average of .747.

By these figures the Big Ten will be losing slightly over two out of every 10 boys which it has been able to recruit. This may not seem like a very impressive figure but take into consideration that there are approximately 1000 candidates. This would mean that out of the 1000 the Big Ten loses 200 out of the 1000 it would normally get.

TERRY BETHEL, all-state cager from Collinsville, plans to enroll at Vanderbilt, with teammate Tom Jackson going to Southern Methodist . . . Fred Macklin of Bloom will attend Indiana after 6 months service in marines . . . Bloom cage star Bob Bell to Western Illinois, Jerry Colangelo to Kansas, and fullback Jim McDonnell to Denver . . . Proviso's football guard Tony Perilli is debating between Kansas and Illinois, with teammate Ben Witt going to Yale . . . Northwestern will get Proviso's all-league cage center Bill Gust . . . Gary Phillips of Quincy will attend Houston.

Herrin's John Tidwell is undecided, though reportedly leaning toward Michigan . . . He scored 31 points in 3 game series of east-west all-star game, was named to "All-America prep squad."

Jim Krebs, 6-8 Southern Methodist center who tallied 1,753 points in 3 seasons, has signed with Minneapolis Lakers . . . Houston's 1958 cagers will average 6-7 . . . Golfer Betsy Rawls has a bachelor's degree in physics, graduating Magna Cum Laude at Texas . . . Wisconsin has landed John Gotta of Kenosha, hailed Badgerland's best prep star of last season . . . Stefani performing the same function at Butterfield.

George Beyer of Palatine has received frosh numerals in baseball at Valparaiso this past season.

In case you golfers missed the announcement last week, the annual Paddock tournament will be held at Nordic Hills country club Sunday, Aug. 18 . . . First place teams Aug. 3 of local twilight leagues will be eligible, with letters explaining details going to league secretaries by next week . . . Entry fee will be $14.00 for each foursome, payable with entry by Aug. 10.

GEORGE HALAS, when asked why the Bears had 5 quarterbacks, stated "I'm quite a nut on quarterbacks" . . . Remember the name of Jerry Lucas, Ohio high school natural athlete at Middletown, Ohio, who has been called the most phenomenal cage player in that state's history . . . He has played in 52 games as a soph and junior, has never lost, has made 47 of 54 free throws in 4 state tournament games, stands 6' 9" and is an honor student . . . Competing for Illinois last weekend in NCAA track and field championships at Austin, Tex., were high jumper Al Urbanckas, shot-putter Larry Stewart and discus thrower Bob Pellant . . . Harold Caffey of LaGrange was 1 of those competing for Indiana.

The Bears are not opening a sub-office in Westgate subdivision of Arlington Heights. Jim Keane is merely moving in June 22 and Wash Serini, "the ugliest man in football" is scheduled to carry in the refrigerator . . . Winning a varsity golf letter at Roosevelt U. of Chicago is John Kouzmanoff of Bensenville . . . John recently won second place medal in all-city intercollegiate golf match.

Defending Champions Capture LL Lead

Red Sox Move Into 1st Place Of AL Division

by BOB FRISK

The Red Sox's monopoly on Arlington Little League championships may not have come to an end after all!

At the outset of the 1957 season the chances of a third straight Red Sox crown appeared doubtful. Manager John Hightower had lost some key players from the '56 titlists and it was questionable whether the new performers could fill the gaps.

The critics have been silenced! With 5 weeks gone in the summer schedule the defending champs hold a 1 game lead in the American League and have only dropped 1 contest in 8 decisions.

LAST WEEK the Red Sox climbed up to the pedestal they've held for 2 straight seasons with convincing victories over the White Sox and Athletics.

Exploding for 13 runs in the first inning, the Red Sox coasted to an 18-1 victory over the Athletics, June 10. Billy Schaefer picked up the decision with Bill Guilfoil tagged with the loss.

Bill Lovatt added a triple to the winner's 13-hit attack. Schaefer held the A's to 5 hits in his 5-inning stint.

| Red Sox | (13)20 30—18-13-2 |
| Athletics | 001 00 — 1- 5-3 |

THE VICTORY that put the Red Sox into first was the 9-5 decision over the White Sox, June 15. Eric Berg pitched 7-hit ball for the winners and Bill Lovatt added another triple.

First baseman Tim Roble and catcher Steve Carns of the White Sox collided going after an infield pop-up and Carns had to leave the game with a cut lip. The catcher returned in the fifth and hit one of the longest homers ever seen in the Little League with 2 men on.

MANAGER CHARLES Deigl's Senators surprised the White Sox June 11, with Glenn Pasvogel gaining the 8-6 victory.

Steve Carns and Rusty Blix of the White Sox blasted home runs in the losing effort. Walter Lips took the loss.

| Senators | 024 110—8-9-2 |
| White Sox | 003 030—6-9-1 |

John Garrity was one of the big heroes for the Tigers in a thrilling 1-0 victory over the Athletics, June 15. Garrity and Ray Miller walked leading off the third and Garrity stole third. He came in on Jim Murphy's sacrifice fly.

Bobby Baker of the Athletics injured his hand in the contest and will be sidelined for 2 weeks.

THREE DOUBLE plays cut off Senators' rallies and enabled Manager Merv Fink's Yankees to gain an impressive 3-1 victory, June 15.

The Yankees collected 12 hits but could only counter 3 times off the loser's Bob Cordaro. Paul Tossman picked up the well-deserved victory.

|---|---|
| Yankees | 010 110—3-12-2 |
| Senators | 001 000—1- 3-2 |

In the National League the Giants held on to their division lead although they dropped their second game.

Chuck Close hurled 3-hit ball and struck out 12 as the Cards topped the league leaders, 3-1. Jerry Orgler yielded 6 hits in absorbing the loss.

ROY WOODRUFF turned in one of the top pitching performances of the season, June 10, as he hurled the Pirates to a 4-1 decision over the Braves.

Woodruff faced only 21 men—striking out 16—as he twirled a masterful 2-hitter. The Pirates backed his performance with 11 hits off the loser's Denny Fitz-Patrick.

|---|---|
| Pirates | 000 031—4-11-0 |
| Braves | 000 001—1- 2-0 |

The Cubs and Cards engaged in a slugfest June 10, with the former coming out on top, 17-10. Steve Martin took the mound decision from Bill Guilfoil.

DESPITE AN impressive effort by the Dodgers' MacGow who collected a single, double, and homer, the Giants took a 15-9 victory, June 11, at Recreation Park.

Halstead had the big blow with a bases loaded homer. Jimmy Mueller picked up the victory with Ken Ligocki getting the loss.

| Giants | 000 528—15-15-1 |
| Dodgers | 003 222— 9-10-0 |

In the final National League report the Braves turned back the Pirates, 6-3, with Steve Kehe taking the decision. Jimmy Jakubiec suffered the defeat.

Redwings Play 2 Sunday, Open Tournament Action

Arlington's Redwings will open tourney play Sunday afternoon at Recreation Park in one part of a big doubleheader.

The tentative schedule has the Redwings meeting Kolski's Boosters at 1 p.m., then initiating action in the Chicago District Tournament at approximately 3:30 against the Chicago Tigers.

Manager Bud Blumenthal has indicated that it is possible the games will be switched but the first affair will definitely start at 1 p.m. Dick Bokelmann is slated to work against the Tigers with Blumenthal probably handling the duty against Kolski's.

THE TIGERS are 4-1 for the summer and last week beat a highly-rated Erickson Boosters team, 11-2. No information was available on the personnel.

If the Redwings finish first or second in the tournament they will automatically qualify for the state tourney in Elgin. Skokie, the current leader in the Greater Chicago Midwest loop, gained a berth by leading the Midwest League.

Last Sunday the Redwings did all their scoring in the first 2 innings in Chicago Heights but it was enough for a 4-3 victory over the host nine.

BOKELMANN took the mound decision from Marv Zeller, a recent graduate of Rich Township High School. Zeller settled down after the first 2 shaky frames and hurled shutout ball the rest of the way, striking out 11.

After Lloyd Meyer fanned and Bill Sprincz popped to third to open the contest, Bill Liedholm walked and stole second. Then catcher Jim Intravartola slapped a single, scoring Liedholm with the first run of the game.

THE REDWINGS put across the deciding tallies in the second. After Rutkowski took 3 strikes, John Perrill was hit by a pitched ball. Perrill stole second and came home on Ed Shepps' one base hit. Shepps moved to third on Nick Parisi's single and came home on an error. Parisi scored the third run on an infield out.

Bokelmann held Chicago Heights in check until the sixth inning. A combination of 4 hits brought in 2 runs in the sixth and the hosts added another marker in the seventh.

Perrill, a graduate of Maine high school, and Shepps led the Arlington offense with 2 hits each. Bokelmann collected 1 hit in 3 chances and is now batting .474 with 9-for-19 over the season.

Mt. Prospect, Arlington Lose In Prep League Contests

by BETTY KIRCHHOFF

There was a full schedule of games in the Northwest Suburban Prep League last Sunday. Arlington, after winning its first contest of the year, met up with Highwood and was the victim of a 6-0 shutout. Highwood came up with all of their 6 runs in the first 5 rounds to give Aaron, the winning twirler, a good margin to work on. Aaron pitched a good game allowing the local boys only 5 hits. The only batter who gave him any trouble was Bill Fischer who connected for 4 singles. Don Gerken started for Arlington and was charged with the loss. He was relieved by Dave Bruner in the sixth.

Also an unhappy outcome was the 11-10 shellacking suffered by the Mt. Prospect Brunings at the hands of the Glenview Realty. A couple of costly errors, a mis-judged fly ball and a strike-out with 2 out and the bases loaded in the sixthproved to be the story of the Bruning loss.

IN GOING DOWN to their first defeat the Bruning nine put up a fierce struggle. In the fourth they came up with 5 runs to take a 7-4 lead. This was offset, however, by Glenview's 7 tallies in their half of the inning that put them ahead once again 11-7. The Brunings kept pecking away at the score but couldn't quite come up with enough to gain the win. Some fancy fielding by Art Rufino and Freddy Boedeker resulted in two short to second to first double plays by the Brunings.

At Lions Park the Gunnels picked up a run in the ninth on Bob O'Neil's smash that broke a 3-3 deadlock and gave them a victory over the Glenview Signode. Gary Jobst went all the way on the mound to gain credit for his first win of the year. Mike Starshak clobbered a terrific home run in the fifth with a man aboard to knot up the contest. After this there wasn't much excitement until the Gunnel half of the ninth. (SP

Final Umpire's Session Thursday

The last of the Little League Umpire's training sessions in Arlington Heights will be held tonight at 8:30 p.m. at the Field House. The subject is "What's Your Problem?"

The league has one month's play behind it and the umpires, managers, and coaches are invited to talk over their problems. The league hopes for a good turnout at this important meeting.

More LL Pics This Saturday

Pictures of baseball teams in Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Wheeling, and Prospect Heights will be taken Saturday morning, June 22, by photographers of Paddock Publications.

The schedule has been set up as follows: in Palatine at Community Park, the American and National League teams at 9 a.m.; the Minor League teams at 9:30, and the Babe Ruth and 8-year-old teams at 10. In event of rain, the pictures will be taken in the old gymnasium at Palatine high school.

IN ROLLING MEADOWS at the park on Campbell Drive, pictures of Little League teams will be taken at 10:45, Babe Ruth league teams at 11 a.m., and Minor League teams at 11:15. In the event of rain, pictures will be taken in the Kimball Hill School. Teams are requested to wait in case the photographers don't arrive from taking pictures in Palatine promptly at 10:45.

In Wheeling the Major League teams and 1 Pony League club will have their pictures taken at 9 a.m. at Amvets Field. The Minor League teams will follow at 9:30 at the same field. In the event of rain, pictures will be taken in the gymnasium of the Wheeling Public School.

IN PROSPECT HEIGHTS pictures of the little league and pony league teams will be taken at 10 a.m. with the minors following at 10:30. Rain will force the 14 teams into the gymnasium of the Prospect Hts. Grade School.

Whether the pictures are taken inside or outside, the teams are requested to stay together so that when their turn comes, they can be assembled quickly. Cooperation with the team managers and personnel is important! (SP

Winnetka, Oak Park Top Arlington Jr. Legion Nine

Arlington's Jr. Legion baseball team could have used some of the Chicago White Sox's formula for winning ball games with only a minimum of hitting in the first 2 games of the 1957 season.

Winnetka rolled past Manager Lloyd Meyer's legion nine Saturday afternoon, 4-0, and Arlington collected only 1 hit, a bloop single in the first by Jim Peery. Monday, Oak Park edged the locals, 3-2, with Heights looking better at the plate with 6 hits.

Friday, Arlington is slated to host River Grove at 6 p.m. in another attempt to launch the ninth district season. Last Friday rain washed out the scheduled opener with Elmwood Park. Northlake will travel to Arlington for a Saturday afternoon game.

IN THE WINNETKA contest Arlington's Bob Miller had an off day and left the mound after 6 innings of work, striking out 4 and walking 8. Although the southpaw didn't experience his best afternoon, he still managed to allow only 1 run and 3 hits, 1 of the infield variety.

Dave Soenksen, a big right hander, hurled the seventh and eighth and wasn't hit hard but did yield 3 runs, 2 errors figuring in the scoring. Denny Thill finished up with 3 quick outs in the ninth.

Arlington only collected 1 hit, Peery's single, but only 1 batter struck out more than once. They were hitting the ball which was a good sign against pitchers the caliber of Winnetka's Bell and Herbernar. Jerry Klement tagged a long drive in the fourth and Thill lined out in the seventh.

AN ENCOURAGING item in the contest was the play of Tom Grey behind the plate. Meyer's experimental move of placing Grey into the important catching slot appears to have paid off as the 5-9, 150 pounder turned in a creditable job of handling the pitchers and he threw out the only attempted steal. He also displayed the agressiveness and hustle which make for a good leader behind the plate.

At Oak Park Monday the locals were hitting the ball better against a team which had won its first 6 contests, including 4 in a row against Park Ridge (one decision over Mr. Bob Gruber, the stylish lefty on the Maine varsity last spring.) Peery had 3 hits and Tom Thackery, starting his first game, Lee Magnuson, and Grey also had safeties.

OAK PARK won the contest Monday on a single by Tevis in the last inning. The hosts put 2 runners on with base hits before Tevis delivered the game-deciding blow off Thill.

Miller worked the first 3 innings, fanning 3 and walking no one. He allowed no runs and 2 hits. Thill finished up with a yield of 6 hits and 4 runs in 4 innings.

Meyer was satisfied with the squad's performance against Oak Park and is now hoping for the best in the ninth district which opens Friday. The league should be more balanced this summer with Arlington, Park Ridge, Palatine, and Northlake all reputed to have good clubs.

Sycamore Whips Black's Boosters

by RANDY THOMAS

First baseman Joe Pater blasted 2 tape-measure home runs and pitcher Ed Kopetas hurled 6-hit ball Sunday to lead the Sycamore Sons to an 8-3 victory over Black's Boosters in the semi-finals of the Aurora Invitational Tourney.

The Boosters will try to rebound this Saturday when they battle the Romanian Royals of Aurora for third place at 1 p.m. The diamond is located on Route 30, 1 mile east of Philips Park Golf Course outside of Aurora.

Sycamore jumped off to a 2 run lead in the first inning Sunday on 3 straight hits and sacrifice fly at the expense of starter and loser Norm Nedde.

THEY ADDED a pair of unearned tallies in the third when Dick Trapp, who played with Notre Dame in the 1957 NCAA baseball finals, reached first on shortstop Scott MacKenzie's boot. Trapp stole second, advanced to third on an infield out, and scored on Gordon Henigan's second sacrifice fly.

Pater followed with his first homerun of the contest, and his third in 2 tournament games. He lashed a Nedde curve high over centerfielder Ron Ashley's head. The drive landed at least 5 feet beyond the 380 foot barrier.

Sycamore pushed over 2 more markers in the fourth, then concluded their afternoon's offensive show with a 2-run seventh. After Henigan led off with a walk, Pater lined a shot over the left field wall for his fourth tourney homer and the seventh and eighth Sycamore runs.

THE BOOSTERS broke into scoring column in the fourth with a combination of a hit, hit batsman, walk, and fielder's choice. MacKenzie and Dan Vittum tallied the runs.

In the sixth the losers countered their final run. MacKenzie walked and moved to third on hits by Vittum and Lee Fick. He scored on a sacrifice fly off the bat of Ashley.

A pinch hit by Cosmo Vivirito was the final Boosters' safety off Kopetas. The Sycamore ace fanned 7 and walked 2 in working the 9 innings.

FOUR PLAYERS have now hit safely in both contests for Arlington: MacKenzie, Fick, Bob Dotts, and Vivirito. Vivirito is 2-for-2 for the season with MacKenzie and Fick both standing at 2-for-5 for .400 marks.

Friday, June 21, the Boosters will play St. Barts at Portage Park, starting time 6 p.m. The Westmont Merchants will provide the first league opposition.

Outfielder Dan Vittum's second hit of the night, a triple to left-center, scored pitcher Tony Sheer with the winning run in the eighth inning Tuesday night as Black's Boosters posted their second win of the year, a 2-1 decision over the Chicago Angels in Chicago.

Sheer (Maine '56) scattered 7 hits, fanned 9, walked only four and hit two batters in becoming the first Booster hurler to go the route this season. He retired the side in order in the second, fifth, sixth, and eighth frames in gaining his initial win of the campaign while facing only 36 batters.

LAKE PARK high of Medinah has installed an award system for school activities which is different than that used in other high schools of the suburban area. The Lake Park plan makes it possible to earn a school letter on the basis of an accumulation of points earned in various school activities and does not restrict letters to athletes. In fact, under the Lake Park plan it is easier to win a letter for scholarship and participation in student council work than it is in sports.

Activity sponsors at Lake Park evaluate the efforts of each student in their activity giving points from zero to the maximum allowed. Earning of points up to 2/3 of the maximum results in winning an arm patch.

A certificate is given each year showing total points a student has earned in his accumulation toward letter requirements. When a student earns 50 points he gets a school letter and for each added 50 another letter up to a total of 4. Honor roll recognition for high scholarship carries the most points with from 30 to 50 for a year while membership on the student council has 24 with maximum for committee membership up to 18. Varsity sports teams, cheerleading, and band carry a maximum of 12 points with lesser levels of these activities and clubs ranging down as low as 3 points.

LAKE PARK hopes to promote, recognize, and reward excellence in all areas of the school curriculum in which students demonstrate unusual success and effort beyond the usual school requirements. Actually an athlete may win a varsity letter just as quickly at Lake Park as elsewhere if he is an honor roll student. If he is a weak student he may have to be a regular in 5 varsity seasons to get a letter. The variety of areas in which points are given gives most students who are really interested a chance to win a major award before they graduate.

The plan may be criticized from the fact that it requires an enormous amount of bookkeeping. It requires a great number of sponsors to evaluate the points for their students and this may be difficult to do on a consistent basis.

There will be as much difference as in grading which is the greatest area of inconsistency in the modern school. Letters have come to mean athletic proficiency and are regarded as such outside Lake Park. We do not know whether this will mean anything to Lake Park boys and girls.

ON THE CREDIT SIDE we shall say we like the idea of having scholarship and good citizenship rank above other areas in recognition and reward for students. The athlete who is a real asset to the school, family, and self will have no trouble winning a letter and probably have it won in many cases earlier in his school career than in other institutions. Certainly the idea should promote wider participation and greater opportunity for student recognition. It also makes all school awards follow a standard plan.

We doubt if many schools will change to the Lake Park plan. Tradition and custom is the greatest barrier.

Schools seem to do what other schools are doing and it is hard to be a pioneer and try something new. Because of this we offer our congratulations to Supt. Carl Forrester and his staff for their independent thinking in trying a new plan in their new school at Medinah. We shall watch with interest the success of this undertaking.

MAC SAYS," which first appeared in Paddock Publications newspapers in the early thirties, will continue next school year, but a new "Mac Says" will appear in the fall in the Macomb Courier, student newspaper at Western Illinois state college. Gerry McElroy, who will be a senior in journalism and English at Macomb, will take over the name of his dad's column and write a sports column for the college paper.

ONE OF THE FINEST types of summer employment for boys is caddying. Certainly there is no more healthful or interesting type of work for the boy who loves sports and the out of doors. With employment for teen age boys becoming increasingly difficult to find, caddying becomes even more attractive as a summer occupation.

Caddying is more than being strong enough to tote a bag full of clubs. The top caddy is a ball hawk at lining up shots and locating balls in the rough. He has the clubs ready and for the player who is not familiar with the course may suggest clubs or indicate distances to the green.

He takes the pin on short approaches and long putts standing so that his shodow is away from the line of putt and the hole. He is careful not to stand on the line of putt of some other player.

When his employer is taking a shot he stands at the side facing the shooter and not behind him. He speaks only when spoken to and observes required etiquette while the player is preparing to take a shot. He looks after the personal needs of the golfer such as keeping the ball clean, running errands to the pro shop, etc. Caddying helps young men to work with others and serve others.

Rain Postpones Several Games In Mt. Prospect

Last week's rains played havoc with Mt. Prospect's Little League baseball schedule. The big problem now is how to get all the postponed games played.

In two of the games that avoided the rain the Professionals ran their winning streak to 4 straight games with 9-5 and 7-5 victories over the Builders and VFW respectively.

The big blow in the Professionals' 9-5 triumph was a 3-bagger by Weber over the center fielder's head. The losers managed to get 5 runs but only 1 hit, a triple by Elman.

|---|---|
| Builders | 031 001—5-1 |
| Professionals | 121 50*—9-6 |

THE "PROS" made it 4 in a row by trimming the VFW, 7-5, Saturday. MacLennon went the distance for the victors and allowed 6 hits.

L. Lewis and Girrard pitched for the losers and allowed only 2 hits, with Girrard absorbing the loss. G. Weber drove in 4 runs for the winners and Girrard and Richardson hit safely twice.

| Professionals | 050 200—7-2-1 |
| VFW | 120 200—5-6-2 |

In other action the Merchants got to H. LaRocco for 8 hits and 7 runs while Dan Johnson was holding the Country Club to 2 hits and 1 run, June 16.

THE VICTORY was the Merchants' fourth without a loss. Leekley banged out 3 hits, including a double, and Mueller hit the team's first home run in the second. Dahlgren and Smith also had 2-baggers.

| Country Club | 100 000—7-8 |
| Merchants | 114 10*—1-2 |

The Schwans sent veteran catcher Lewin to the mound Sunday, June 16, and he responded with a 9-4 win over the hard-hitting Bankers. Although he was a bit wild, Lewin went the route, striking out and walking 9.

Kuhn ably replaced Lewin as a backstop, making 3 vital putouts at the plate. Heavy hitters for the winners were Blomquist, with a home run; Kuhn with a double and triple; and D'Vorak with a triple.

Schwarz paced the losers with a triple and home run. Bankers' pitcher, Schafer, had excellent control, walking only 1. The infield gave him great support, with 8 putouts and 6 assists.

Yanks Cop 2 More Wins In MP Pony League Play

by BILL GODMAN

The surprising Capitol Door Yanks vaulted into sole possession of first place in the Mt. Prospect Pony League standings with a 1-0 whitewash of the Cardinals and cemented their grip as they came from a 11-2 deficit to defeat the Cubs, 14-11. These 2 victories extended their winning streak to 4 games.

The Cardinals game at Lions Park, June 12,was a pitchers' duel between the Yanks' Ron Schafer and the Cardinals' Bob Hammerly, two of the league's finest twirlers.

AS IT TURNED OUT, the contest was decided in the second inning when the winners pushed across an unearned run. Schafer opened the Yank second with a single to center for one of the Yanks' 3 hits. He advanced to second on a passed ball and scored when catcher Bill Zadel threw the ball into right field.

The winners threatened later in the second and again in the fifth but failed to score. The Redbirds put together genuine scoring threats in the fourth and again in the seventh.

In the fourth, 2 errors and a walk loaded the bases but Schafer retired the side, taking an easy ground ball by Lindstrom.

THE SEVENTH inning was truly one of anxiety for the Capitol Doormen. After Jeff Rodgers had gone out, Hammerly singled and Lindstrom walked. Both runners advanced a base on a passed ball. A hit would probably have spelled defeat for the Yanks but Schafer regained his form, disposing of Jerry Wille and O'Gorman on strikes to end the game.

This was the first shutout of the young season. Both pitchers had the strikeout ball working for them. Hammerly fanned 14 Yank batsmen while Schafer set down 13 Cardinals.

The Yanks—Cubs game, June 16, was the direct opposite. Altogether 25 runs and 16 hits were rattled off in the 14-11 unhill Yank triumph.

THE LOSERS tallied 5 times off starter Tommy Thomas before a man was retired. A single by Dahlquist, his first of 3 hits, Keith Voight's double, a home run by Aukamp plus two bobbles netted the 5 runs.

Chuck Staral was summoned and pitched until the sixth when Ron Schafer finished. The Bruins added 3 more runs off Chuck in the first, scoring 1 in the second and 2 in the third to terminate their scoring for the afternoon.

Roger Haenggi's homer with a man on base in the first frame made the score 8-2 off Cubs' starter Menton Lewis. They drove Lewis from the mound with 4 runs in the third, when after 1 out, Haenggi doubled, Schafer collected his second of 4 two-baggers, Staral singled, and then 3 passes and a hit batsman.

THE WINNERS ran the count to 11-7 with a single tally in the fourth off Bob Hansen and victimized the third Cub pitcher, Jim Anderson, with 7 big runs in the home sixth. Anderson's wild streak in the sixth didn't help matters. He walked 4 men in the disastrous frame, including the tying run.

Anderson was yanked and Lewis was brought to the scene once again. Schafer greeted him with a bases loaded double, driving in the Tie-breaking runs. Haenggi then stole home for the final run of the afternoon, making the score 14-11.

Schafer disposed of the Bruins in the seventh thereby notching his fourth successive victory. He has won all of the Yanks' league contests this season.

Palatine Team Wins C.S.B. Chicago Area Track Title

Palatine's Brigade boys from Btn. 266 brought home the Senior Division trophy from the Christian Service Brigade's Chicago area track and field meet at Wheaton last Saturday.

Teams from as far as Kenosha, Wis., entered the meet along with the local teams from Bensenville, Lake Zurich, Mt. Prospect, and Palatine.

When the final relay had been run Palatine was on top with 32 points. Philadelphia (Chicago) was second with 19 and Villa Park, the pre-meet favorite, finished third with 13. Villa Park will be the team to beat next year as it took both the Junior and Intermediate division championships.

POINT WINNERS for Palatine were Will Norton with firsts in the broad jump and low hurdles and a second in the pole vault; Gil Ostenson with a first in the shot put and thirds in the broad jump and low hurdles; Sam Robinson with seconds in both the 100 and 440 yard dashes; and Cliff Steif and Larry Davidson with a tie for third in the high jump.

Palatine's 880 yard relay team, composed of Mel Mathews, Ostenson, Robinson, and Norton, cinched the title for Palatine when they came from behind to take the last event in the meet.

Experiencing difficulty with his track shoes, Robinson removed them to run his leg of the relay on the cinder track. In spite of this handicap and in addition to receiving the baton when his team was 40 yards behind, he managed to cut the other teams' lead to only 3 yards when he passed the baton to Norton. Norton ran the anchor leg and made up the rest of the distance and time.

The boys' team is coached by Bob Extrom, Jerry Fredeen, and Art Werdenaugh, leaders of the local Brigade Boys Club. Btn. 266 meets every Monday night at 7 p.m. in the basement of the Northwest Suburbs Bible Church, Wood St., in Palatine, and is open to all boys from 12 to 18. A baseball team is being formed and is looking for games with other boys' organizations. (Sp

Browns Win, 4-0, Behind Beckway

Gregg Beckway of the Browns was the pitcher of prominence last week in Arlington's Pony League with a neat 1-hitter in setting down the Hawks, 4-0.

Beckway joined the ranks of pitchers who have turned in outstanding performances in the young season. Here's the way the winning hurlers allowed safeties in the American League's first 7 games: 0, 1, 2, 0, 4, 6 and 1. That's an average of 2 hits per game for the losing teams. Some pitching!

Beckway was in trouble in only the fourth inning and he struck out Dennis Koeppen with the bases loaded to get out of the jam. Bob Inman got the only hit for the Hawks when he collected a bunt single in the fourth. Not one ball was hit out of the infield.

PINCH HITTING for Doug Burgess in the sixth, Diehl secured the victory for the Browns when he doubled with the bases loaded, driving in 3 runs.

|---|---|
| Browns | 010 003—4-6-1 |
| Hawks | 000 000—0-1-2 |

In another Pony League contest of an abbreviated schedule the Eagles pushed across 6 runs in the sixth to wallop the Falcons 9-6 with Hawkins' home run igniting the rally.

Vosskuhler picked up the victory with F. Williams taking the loss.

| Falcons | 002 211 0—6-11-3 |
| Eagles | 102 006 *—9-10 2 |

A SINGLE by Bob Inman drove in 2 runs and was the key blow in the Hawks' big third inning June 15. Inman later scored on a single by Fred Empkie.

Ken Mueller gained the 7-4 decision over the Redlegs with Tom Klement tagged with the defeat.

|---|---|
| Hawks | 023 20—7-10-1 |
| Redlegs | 100 21—4- 5-1 |

In the final Pony League contest the Indians and Browns battled to a 4-4 tie, June 15, on the high school diamond. The Indians, managed by Jack Mutti, are still unbeaten in league play with 3 victories.

Buckeyes Boast 7-0 Season Mark

The Buckeyes keep rollin' along in Arlington's Minor League!

But outside of Manager Ed Kabat's club, there isn't any team in the 3 other loops that is secure on the top rung of the pennant chases.

The Doves hold only a ½ game lead in the Northside Intermediates chase and the Solons are but a game on top of the South side Intermediates. Walt Brosseit's Millers are resting comfortably in the North side Juniors loop with a 2-game bulge.

THEN THERE are the Buckeyes who stand 7-0, are 3 games in front, and don't appear ready to let up with their fantastic scoring pace that has produced 10 or more runs in every contest!

The latest decision was a 15-5 affair at the expense of the Spartans, June 11. In 7 games the Buckeyes have scored 103 runs for a 14.7 average.

In the Southside Juniors league the Angels walloped the Beavers, 11-2, June 11 with Le Starge beating R. Murray. Both pitchers yielded 4 hits.

|---|---|
| Beavers | 010 001— 2-4-3 |
| Angels | 331 04*—11-4-2 |

LIPS AND YEASEL provided the pitching and hitting in the Oaks' impressive 15-6 win over the Padres, June 10. Lips hurled 5-hit ball and Yeasel blasted a home run.

|---|---|
| Oaks | 424 23—15-10-2 |
| Padres | 302 01— 6- 5-1 |

Yeasel turned to pitching, June 15, and hurled a 1-hitter as the Oaks topped the Wrens, 7-6. He struck out 8 and didn't walk anyone and also contributed a triple to his own cause.

|---|---|
| Wrens | 030 12—7-9-0 |
| Oaks | 205 0*—6-1-5 |

THE WRENS put on an impressive show June 12 in an 18-8 victory over the Angels. Baker, Kraenael and Stearns each had triples for the winners as the Wrens produced 10 hits in the 6-inning affair.

| Angels | 111 221— 8- 5-3 |
| Wrens | 780 12*—18-10-2 |

Scoring 3 times in each of the first 2 frames, adding 1 in the third, and 4 more in the fifth, the Angels routed the Beavers, 11-2, June 11. LeStarge took the decision from Murray.

|---|---|
| Beavers | 010 001— 2-4-3 |
| Angels | 331 04*—11-5-2 |

The Angels scored in every inning but the second and whipped the Padres, 10-6, June 15, in the South Side Juniors loop. Black was the winning pitcher with Bressler taking the loss.

| Angels | 205 111—10-7-0 |
| Padres | 003 111— 6-8-0 |

DIX WON his own game, June 15, with a home run in the top of the sixth inning as the Sox edged the Blues, 7-6. Orgler, who also contributed a double, was the losing pitcher.

| Sox | 101 041—7-3-1 |
| Blues | 010 050—6-5-0 |

A 13-run third inning was more than enough for the Millers, June 10, as they walloped the Blues, 16-8. Zinney was on the mound in the explosive third and picked up the victory. Hedberg was tagged with the loss.

|---|---|
| Millers | 10(13)200— 8-8-13 |
| Blues | 000 341—16-9- 6 |

JACKIE SEARFOSS pitched an excellent game, June 15, as the Gophers turned on the power to shell the Bisons, 21-1. Searfoss allowed only 2 hits, walked 3, and fanned 13.

|---|---|
| Gophers | 085-17—21-6-0 |
| Bisons | 000 01— 1-2-2 |

Koeppen and Friedl both allowed 11 hits, June 15, but the Millers gained a 13-4 decision. Mueller and Armour of the Millers both had 3-for-3 afternoons.

|---|---|
| Owls | 000 112— 4-11-0 |
| Millers | 330 34*—13-11-0 |

Martin of the Gophers pitched 2-hit ball, June 12, as his teammates combined for 18 safeties in a 10-4 win over the Badgers. The Gophers' Thompson had a 3-run homer.

|---|---|
| Gophers | 001 045—10-18-3 |
| Badgers | 003 001— 4- 2-3 |

HOLDING ON against a late inning rally by the Bisons, the Sox won a 13-12 decision, June 11. The Sox held a 13-2 lead going into the last of the fourth when the Bisons erupted for the 10 runs.

|---|---|
| Sox | 561 1—13-5-0 |
| Bisons | 200(10)—12-3-0 |

Brosseit's 4-hitter checked the Sox, June 12, as the Millers gained another decision, 12-8. Armour's triple with the bases loaded was the big blow for the winners.

|---|---|
| Sox | 250-01— 8-4-2 |
| Millers | 311 71—12-6-0 |

IN INTERMEDIATE league action the Dons, with Hoban yielding only 1 hit and striking out 13, whipped the Stars, 8-2. O'Neil was the losing pitcher.

|---|---|
| Dons | 106 100—8-9-1 |
| Stars | 000 020—2-1-3 |

In a game featured by the long ball the Solons edged the Seals, 8-6, June 10. Home runs were hit by Jordan and Quigley and Hoad had 2 triples.

|---|---|
| Seals | 501 000—6-10-2 |
| Solons | 222 20*—8- 7-2 |

The Colonels, sparked by Harrison's homer and double, routed the Saints at Recreation Park, June 12. The winners pushed over 11 runs in the last 3 frames to secure the win.

|---|---|
| Colonels | 200 362—13-10-5 |
| Saints | 112 033— 7- 6-5 |

A STELLAR relief job by Rateike saved the game for the Comets June 15 in a 5-4 victory over the Doves. Rateike relieved Conti in the sixth and retired the side with the winning run on base.

|---|---|
| Doves | 010 012—4 |
| Comets | 104 00*—5 |

The Broncos won their first game of the season, June 15, with a decisive 25-7 victory over the Bruins but in another outing they fell, 9-5, to the Saints. Conti won the decision for the Saints with Horcher tagged with the Broncs' loss.

|---|---|
| Saints | 025 02—9-5-0 |
| Broncs | 002 12—5-6-1 |

Schulte's 4-for-4 sparked the Comets to an overwhelming 25-5 win over the Bruins, June 11. Knitter was the winning pitcher in the rout.

|---|---|
| Bruins | 003 020— 5-8-4 |
| Comets | 1(10)2 (12)0*—25-8-0 |

In the four final intermediate reports the Doves stopped the Larks, 17-13, with Belcher getting the win; the Redbirds walloped the Colonels, 16-5, with Neubert, the winning pitcher, collecting a single, triple, and homer himself; and the Ravens whipped the Dons, 13-6. (Sp

Arlington Places Third In President's Cup Race

Arlington Heights finished in third place, just 5 points from first, in the West Suburban Conference President's Cup standings for the 1956-57 school year.

LaGrange captured the trophy with Maine 3 points behind in second place. Hinsdale followed Arlington to round out the first division.

The President's Cup is awarded annually to the school with the lowest number of points compiled in varsity and frosh-soph sports. Points are awarded in accordance with the school's finish in the respective sports.

FOR EXAMPLE, Arlington won the WSC track meet so it received 1 point, finished in a tie for third in the frosh-soph baseball race for 3½ points, and placed sixth in varsity football for 6 points.

Maine won the most conference championships with 5 over the school year but it was the balance and consistency of LaGrange that proved the difference in the final standings. In 8 of the 13 sports considered LaGrange finished in the first division and its lowest finish of the year was seventh.

AT A RECENT Booster's club meeting Wally Grace, Arlington athletic director, indicated that Maine, Arlington and Hinsdale would be in the race for the President's Cup, but he failed to include the eventual champion, LaGrange. Explains Wally, "I hadn't even considered LaGrange who had won only 1 conference title. That illustrates how important balance is in determining the winner."

Arlington was the only conference school which never finished lower than sixth in one of the varsity or frosh-soph divisions. The Cards' lowest finish was sixth, in both varsity football and frosh-soph tennis. Championships were recorded in frosh-soph golf and varsity track and a runner-up spot in frosh-soph basketball.

A breakdown of Arlington's points toward the Cup is as follows: varsity football, 6; frosh-soph football, 5; cross country, 3; varsity basketball, 5; frosh-soph basketball, 2; varsity tennis, 5; frosh-soph tennis, 6; varsity golf, 4; frosh-soph golf, 1; varsity track, 1; frosh-soph track, 3; varsity baseball, 5; frosh-soph baseball, 3½.

Standings

|---|---|
| LaGrange | 44½ |
| Maine | 47½ |
| Arlington | 49½ |
| Hinsdale | 54 |
| York | 55½ |
| Downers Grove | 63 |
| Glenbard | 70½ |
| Riverside | 83½ |

Chicago's Boyd Faces Castellani

One of Chicago's pair of middleweight hopes, Bobby Boyd, gets a chance to move closer to a championship shot in the Chicago Stadium main event scheduled for June 26.

Boyd, who looked impressive in his comeback bout here on May 15 against Willie Vaughn, takes on Rocky Castellani in the June 26 go. Castellani, a veteran of 65 victories, 10 losses and 3 draws, is more than just a trail horse. For Rocky, himself fought for the title in 1954. In that one, he had Bobo Olson on the floor before losing a close decision.

If Boyd should win, it would bring the IBC closer to closing the Chicago natural, between Spider Webb and Boyd. Since both are local prospects it is inevitable that they must meet for the right to fight Robinson. Although Webb holds a knockout victory over Boyd, it is generally conceded that Boyd is a much improved fighter since those six round days of both boys. Webb has only one loss on his record and is currently having trouble finding opponents. (Sp

Midwest Colleges Attract Several AHS Athletes

by BOB FRISK

Several of the outstanding athletes in the June graduating class at Arlington Heights high school will be concentrated in colleges in the Midwest next fall but the group will be more split up than in recent years.

In the past such schools as the University of Illinois, Illinois Wesleyan, Yale, and Bradley have grabbed off the majority of the top Arlington athletes but next fall only one school will show a lead of any kind and that is slight in comparison.

Illinois has attracted 2 Arlington grads with a third possibility. Illini next year will include Athlete of the Year, Dan Vittum; football and baseball player Dean Skadberg; and possibly Tom Jacobsen, captain of both the basketball and golf squads.

VITTUM, who was All-Conference in both football and baseball and is a straight-A student, will probably concentrate on baseball at Illinois. The last outstanding West Suburban Conference athlete to enter the state school was Pitcher Tom Prucha of Downers Grove in 1956. Prucha had an outstanding frosh season in baseball for the Illini and will be in line for a starting role next year.

Skadberg, though not earning post-season laurels in any sport, was still a good competitor for Arlington. A lineman in football. Skadberg also played baseball and had a homer to his credit.

Jacobsen is debating between Illinois and the University of Florida. An outstanding performer in basketball where he was named to the All-Conference team, Jacobsen was also a leader on the golf team. He was captain of both sports.

THE HOLDER of the state record in the high jump and 9 letterman at Arlington, Bill Palmer is also undecided about his college choice. A school in the Big Ten, Pacific Coast Conference, or down south may land this versatile Cardinal star.

Illinois Wesleyan, noted for its outstanding baseball squads, will have a good little southpaw on its squad next spring in Arlington's Bob Miller. Possessor of a 6-2 season mark, Miller was an All-Conference choice in baseball. He was also an All-Star choice in Jr. Legion baseball last summer and is back for another legion campaign in '57.

the West Suburban Conference 10 West Suburban Conference and an outstanding swimmer and high jumper, Stan Norman, will study medicine at Grinnell College in Grinnell, Iowa. Norman was elected captain of the track team which won the West Suburban conference.

ARLINGTON'S All-conference third baseman, Larry Webber, will head for Beloit in Wisconsin. Webber, a good competitor, batted .286 for the varsity nine this spring with 14 hits in 49 at bats.

Another baseball letterman, Jerry Klement, is undecided between Bradley and Iowa State. Klement, who had 2 homers in varsity ball this spring, also lettered in basketball at Arlington

All-Conference catcher Ed Meinken is undecided about college but would like to study physical education. Meinken, a bespectacled receiver, compiled a .378 mark in conference play and .294 season average. Possessor of a strong and accurate arm, Meinken handled his pitchers well as he competed for the second year on the varsity. Standing 5-10 and weighing 185, Meinken was also a good football lineman.

ANOTHER ON the undecided list is Pat Brownell, basketball and baseball performer. Don Stadelman, captain of possibly Arlington's best tennis squad in history, has decided on Michigan Tech.

This is far from the end of the list but it does indicate where some of these Arlington letterwinners will be next fall. North, south, east, or west, the boys will all be a credit to AHHS! (SP

Track Programs of 1930's Indicate Good Dash Times

by BOB FRISK

In wake of the recent influx of 4-minute milers Jesse Owens, track star at Ohio State in the mid-1930's, stated that one barrier was untouchable — the 100 yard dash in 9 seconds flat!

A few years ago experts said that the mile under 4 minutes was impossible. They didn't believe a shot putter would ever eclipse 60 feet in the shot put or that a pole vaulter would ever go over Cornelius Warmerdam's 15'7" mark. Few thought that anyone would come close to Owens' broad jump of 26'8".

Today all the above so-called "impossible" marks have been accomplished by our modern athletes. The 4-minute mile is commonplace; Perry O'Brien throws the shot 60 plus feet with ease, and Bob Gutkowski recently bettered Warmerdam's pole vault mark. Indiana's Greg Bell is the 26 feet-plus broad jumper.

OWENS' STATEMENT has backing when you look over some track programs of the Northwest Conference (Arlington, Barrington, Bensenville, Libertyville, and Palatine) in the 1930's. These programs were supplied to this department by Mike Hoggay, an Arlington grad.

All the conference records in 1934 would have trouble standing up in today's high school track meets with one exception — the dashes! Over 20 years ago the prep sprinters were still running the 100 in around 10 seconds and the 220 in less than 23.

Therefore, it is logical to assume that another 20 years isn't going to make much difference insofar as the sprinters are concerned. A :09.3 century stands as the world record, and it's no easy feat cutting three-tenths of a second off this over a distance as short as 100 yards!

WHAT WERE some of these Northwest Conference marks in 1934? Libertyville's Conway held both dash marks with times of :10.2 and :22.9. The 440 yard standard was :54.6 and John Rohwling of Arlington Heights held the 880 mark with a 2:09.7 clocking.

Forde and Jahrling of Arlington were the Northwest Conference record holders in the 220 yard low hurdles and the pole vault respectively with a time of :27.8 and height of 11 feet. The broad jump was a respectable 20'10" and Burnett of Libertyville had a good 52'8" toss in the shot. Burnett also held the discus standard at 135'9½".

The mile was a full 30 seconds above the present national prep standard held by Jimmy Bowers, formerly of DeKalb. V. Willard of Libertyville had the best time in '34 at 4:46.8.

IN THE 1932 Northwest Conference meet won by Libertyville with Arlington 17 points behind in second, the various event winners included Slusser of Libertyville in the 50 yard dash at 100; Willard of Libertyville in the mile; Stefanik of Arlington in the 440; Converse of Libertyville in the 220; Meyer of Palatine in the 220 yard low hurdles; and high jump Hasz of Arlington in the 880; S. Szasz of Arlington in the pole vault; Burnett of Libertyville in the shot, discus, and broad jump; and Koske of Bensenville in the javelin.

The outstanding mark in that meet was a :05.6 time in the 50 which tied the conference record. Arlington's F. Szasz and S. Szasz placed second and third in the event.

Red Koelling was another versatile Arlington thinclad in that conference meet, placing second in the 220 and third in the 100. Stefanik added a fourth in the 100 to his victory in the 440, Bob Elliott had a third in the high jump, and Frank Brodnan had a second in the mile won in 4:53.0. (Sp

JUST DOGS

by DAVE TERRILL

National Dog Week Chairman

Basil Rathbone, famous stage, screen, television and radio personality and a real dog lover, has accepted the general chairmanship of National Dog Week, observed this year for the 30th consecutive time, it is announced.

With Mr. Rathbone's acceptance of the chairmanship, the preparations for the 1957 observance have been put into high gear. The dates for this year's observance are September 22-28.

Also announced is the appointment of Donald B. Rutherford as executive secretary of the movement. He succeeds the late Raymond J. Hanfield. Long a dog lover and admirer, Mr. Rutherford was associated with the American Kennel club for a number of years.

It Has Arrived

At least on the day that this article was written there was no doubt but that hot weather had arrived and with it the problems relative to taking care of your dog during the summer months. Again I repeat what recent columns have said: "Don't forget to take care of your dog relative to insects, fleas, ticks and such." Also provide him with a place where he can lie in the shade out of the direct rays of the sun.

Although a dog will sometimes lie out in the direct rays of the sun, he will do so only for a period of time that suits him. When he has had enough he will start to look for shade. If you don't provide it he will sometimes go to rather unusual extremes to try and locate some.

I have often seen many dogs who, when not provided with sufficient shade actually dig a small tunnel or cave in the ground, in which they would cool off and rest out of the direct heat of the sun. Dogs can suffer from sunburn and insect bites as well as humans, so don't make the mistake of shaving his coat short to "make him cooler." This is a foolish practice, and it is much better to thin out the thick undercoat but never clip off the long outer hairs that protect his skin from the sun and fly bites as well as acting as insulation from the heat.

The heat of summer also increases his need for water, so keep plenty of drinking water available. Refill his bowl often, so water is always fresh and cool.

By giving a dog such simple summer care you will be guarding him against the troublesome problems of hot weather.

Timely Tip

With summer vacations well under way, your editor has observed many dogs traveling with families in recent weeks. This past Sunday, which was a scorcher, brought out a lot of people, along with the family pet, who were traveling in cars to either escape the summer heat or, actually, on a vacation trip. Again I admonish you not to forget the welfare of your dog, as actually a serious condition can develop because of forgetfulness on the part of an owner.

If you go in to have refreshments or do sightseeing, don't leave the family pet in the car with the windows closed. Put yourself in the position of the dog, with the direct rays of the sun beating down on the metal car top and you can well understand how hot it can be. It is surprising how many people will read an item such as this, and then go and do exactly what they are not supposed to do. It seems to be a case of where they have good intentions but in the excitement of summer vacations and traveling they forget that the dog must have fresh air.

Barks and Bays

As we often think of such things as cool drinks and bits of shade as being indispensable during the summer heat, it is interesting to note that ancient Welsh laws of around 920 A.D. stipulated that a herdsman's dog was one of three indispensables. (Sp

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Flaunt; to make a gaudy display; to parade ostentatiously. "She flaunts her beauty wherever she goes."

Venal; mercenary; open to bribery. (Pronounce vee-nal). "The gambler was known for his venal nature."

Glib; speaking with ease and fluency. "The salesman had a glib manner of presenting his wares."

Vivisection; the cutting of, or operation on, a living animal, especially for physiological or pathological investigation. (Pronounce viv-i-seck-shun, accent third syllable).

Large Turnout For Mt. Prospect Golf Tournament

A near record throng of 145 golfers and their wives turned out Sunday for the Annual Husband-Wife tournament of the Mt. Prospect Twilight Golf League. The affair was a two-ball foursome with husbands and wives hitting alternate shots. Winnig teams were determined by the Peoria System as calculated by Tournament Chairman Len Johnson. President Red Barrow awarded the prizes.

The winners: 1st low net, Mr. and Mrs. H. Wolff; 2nd low net, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Courtney; 3rd low net, Mr. and Mrs. R. Shulkin.

Low-gross prize went to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Louthain whose golf was as sizzling as the temperature. The Louthains turned in a gross 41, signed and attested to by Barbara Linderman, and which according to Jack Patheal, one of the oldest inhabitants, set a new low-gross record for the tournament.

Dunteman's Holds Lead in Rob Roy Tuesday Golf

Dunteman's Dairy retained the golf lead in the Tuesday night Rob Roy league after position night. R. Ackerman hit the pin on No. 13 with a 7 iron and it stopped 2 inches from the cup for an eventual eagle.

Pate, S. Fill, Sohns, and Meeker shot 5 birdies on the No. 1 and 2 holes on the front 9. J. L. Stearns made a clean sweep against Jacobs Hardware, 7-0, and Prospect Heights Pharmacy scored a 6-1 win against L-Nor Cleaners.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS Variety won 6-1 over Michaels and Ehlers won by the same count over Sterling Oil Co. The leading Dunteman club scored a 5½-1½ triumph over Peterson Floors.

The course is in wonderful shape and the greens are excellent. Sunday, Sept. 8, is tournament time for all the golfers in the league with tee time now set for 10:30 a. m.

Low scores this week were turned in by R. Lee, 38; D. Grag.lione, 38; S. Fill, 38; and D. Hager, 38.

Stefanik's Ties Leaders In Wayside Golf League

Stefanik Foods held the league leaders to a 3-3 tie Wednesday evening, June 12, at Chevy Chase in the Our Lady of the Wayside Golf League. Although they couldn't keep the usual Era Tool threesome of Johnson, Hruby and Jack from picking up points, they did manage to gather low team net and Don Engstrom won both his match and low individual net.

Arlington Milk took Kindlers Ice Cream Shop 4½-1½ to remain right behind Era Tool. Foreman, Marini and Jacobs took the match points for the dairy team while Bob Pagliai salvaged the point for Kindler's. Individual net was shared by Pagliai and Marini.

BARRETT INSURANCE moved right up into a contending position by sweeping by Black's Memorial 5½-½. Led by sponsor and captain Tom Barrett who picked up 2 points with a match win and individual net, the insurance team climbed into a 2nd place tie with Arlington Milk. Boland and Taylor picked up wins for Barrett while Walsh of Black's tied Bakalar to save Black's from being whitewashed.

Moody and Continental Can battled to a 3½-2½ decision in favor of Moody's although there is a point in dispute that has not been brought up before the rules committee at this time. Adrig defeated Fenner for Moody while Strass whipped Bob Taylor for C. C. Gregg Moody shot a 46-14-32 to tie Tom Barrett of the insurance team with a 53-21-32 for league net honors.

Kruse Captures JC Golf Tourney

Al Kruse captured the Mt. Prospect JC golf tournament, Monday, June 17, at the Roselle Golf club with Bob Sbarbaro and Ed Moehling second and third. All 3 boys are from Mt. Prospect.

In addition to the first 3 winners the Mt. Prospect Jaycees are also sending Bob Schultz of Arlington Heights, who placed fourth, to the JC State Junior golf tournament, July 7-10, at the Glenview Naval Air Base course.

The top 4 finishers of the state tourney will go to the JC National Junior golf tournament at the University of Ohio, with all expenses paid.

IN AN ADDED event at the Mt. Prospect tourney Moehling, a star on Arlington's district champion golf squad this spring, won the driving contest.

The Mt. Prospect Jaycees would like to thank Paddock Publications for donating the local tournament trophies as well as the Roselle Golf Club who donated its course for this first tourney.

Special thanks are due to Gene Guerino manager of the course, for his assistance in running the tournament. Through this type of help from the businessmen of the locality the Junior Chamber of Commerce can continue to plan and present functions for the children and teen-agers of this area. (Sp

Plan New Bowling Alley 5525 N. River

Keenly aware that Detroit's latest models are the best, drivers in the stock car races every Saturday and Sunday night at O'Hare Stadium continue to enter and drive more brand new 1957 cars by the week.

Among the latest to initiate new mounts to the fast and furious action on the O'Hare quarter mile of banked asphalt on Mannheim rd., just south of Irving Park, are Chicagoans Chuck Mitchell and Rich O'Cara, both with '57 Fords; Lou Cooper of Elmhurst, '57 Plymouth, and Milo Weber of Elgin, '57 Pontiac.

And then there's hard driving Bob Williams of Chicago who came out last weekend with a 1956 Ford convertible after Frank Lobaza, O'Hare general manager, announced that such cars are now eligible to compete in the events each Saturday and Sunday.

O'Hare stadium owners Bill Cherney and Tex Wooten are branching out. They've announced plans for a modern bowling alley and cocktail lounge to be erected at 5525 N. River rd., Rosemont. (Sp

1st Place Tie In YMCA Golf

Muench Drugs, led by Fran Fassett and Helen Black, and Zephyr Cafe, led by Kathy Ellis and Wanda Parrillo, tied with 10 points each to lead the YMCA Women's golf league after 2 rounds of play. Flair Hat pulled itself from 6th place to 3rd as Lois Shutkin, Clare Davis and Julie Astone each captured the possible 2 points giving their team a total of 8 points.

Fran Fassett was low score lady for the day with a 54 giving her a net score of 40. Lois Shutkin shot a score of 57 which gave her the low net for the day of 36.

Spring Grove Man Hooks Prize Fish

Albert W. Koch of Spring Grove, Ill., was one of 4 Chicago area fishermen who won $250 Covered Wagon Outdoor Cooking units as a result of their catches in WNBQ's $40,000 Fish Festival.

A total of 40 of the 451 prize fish distributed in Chicago area fishing spots have been caught to date. Still at large is one prize worth $25,000 in cash to the lucky angler who brings him in.

Other winners of merchandise prizes include Mrs. F. Erhardt, Downers Grove; Sharon Morton, Lake Zurich; Henry Berry, Spring Grove; Charles Martin, Lake Zurich; Sam Molese, Spring Grove; and John Molese Jr., Spring Grove.

Full details of the Fish Festival are reported each Saturday night on the station's Crunch and Des show (WNBQ-Channel 5, 10:30 p.m., CDT). (Sp

3-Way Deadlock For 2nd Place In St. James Play

The week's results in the St. James Holy Name twilight golf league brought about a 3-way tie for second place between Glueckert's Lounge, Black's Memorial Home, and Rapp's Big Freeze. Charles Klehm's Nursery holds a slight edge of 3½ points for first place.

Girard and Peters were really hot last week, each grossing 38. Bodar was top man with a 29 net.

Busse Motors Tops Jewelers In MP League

Busse Motors walloped Mt. Prospect Jewelers 7½-2½ in last Tuesday night's play of the Mt. Prospect Twilight Golf League, thereby increasing their own lead by 5 points and staving off the threat of the potent Jewelers team.

The week before the Jewelers had trimmed Moler's Barber Shop quartet with a clean 10-point sweep and could have taken over first place had they kept up their momentum. As it was they were lucky to stay in third place by a single point over Fadaro's 4th place comers.

Licht's Paint Store clung to second place despite a 4½-5½ defeat by Keefer's Pharmacy.

Birdies were reported by Bill Mott, No. 7 and Harry "Swan Song" Ball, No. 12. Harry rolled in a chip out of the left side trop that left his opponent, Glen Adams, so "shook up" he three putted from 15 feet.

Team standings as of June 11:

|---|---|
| Busse Motor Sales | 48 2/3 |
| Lichts Paint Store | 43½ |
| Mt. Prospect Jewelers | 40½ |
| Fadaro's Redwood Rest. | 39½ |

Rolling Green

Ross Wetzel won the President's 36-hole trophy at the Rolling Green Country Club. Wetzel shot a 163-26-137 for top honors.

In the ladies best ball twosome results Mrs. Art Crothers and Mrs. Fred Mueller shot a 56-21-35 and Mrs. Herb Schroeder and Mrs. Dick Piccietti shot 55-18-36.

Old Orchard Ladies

The event of the day in the Old Orchard ladies Tuesday golf league was "throw out 3 worst holes." The winners were Hinchcliff, Flaherty, and Milbrandt on the second nine and Cameron, Giuliani, and Wilcox on the third nine. (SP

Homogeneity; sameness; similarity of character or nature. (Pronounce hoe-moe-jee-nee-i-ti; principal accent on fourth syllable)" there is a certain homogeneity about these people that is readily apparent."

Q. Is it proper, when setting the dinner table, to put the butter on one plate and pass it around, or to put it on individual bread-and-butter plates?

A. This is more a question of convenience than propriety, and it is more convenient to serve the butter on individual plates than to have your guests pass it around.

Q. At a bridal shower which I attended on my future daughter-in-law, I was criticized for signing my name on the card enclosed with my gift as "Mrs. Minton." Was really wrong?

A. You should have written your name as "Mary Minton."

VFW Golf

The turnouts of players in the V.F.W. golf league have been encouraging at Old Orchard. The league now has almost all the players there each Monday.

The point standings separating each league are close with first and second place in each division from ½ to 1½ points apart. The only hazard now, the league reports, are the mosquitoes but even they don't prevent good scores and enjoyable matches.

Golden's Routs Ryan Brothers

The old saying that everything happens in threes certainly holds true as far as the Monday night golf is concerned. This week the Golden's Food Shop team took 10 points from the Ryan Bros. team. This makes the third straight week that some team has scored all 10 points in a night's competition.

Barclay Engineering moved back into second place scoring 7½ points to gain a comfortable 5 1/3 point lead over the third place Van Driel Drug team. O'Day Realtors moved into fourth place and the Mt. Prospect bank team dropped to sixth place.

Interment, Ridgewood cemetery

SUMMER HOME to the Navajo Indians is the summer hogan made out of juniper trees as pictured above. Standing in front of the hogan is Marvin Walter, 7th day adventist missionary. Dr. Patience Noecker of Palatine, a doctor on the Navajo reservation for a year, taped up Walter's broken ribs and afterwards the Navajo lad at the right put the leftover tape across his mouth while the doctor snapped the photo. (B7

A NAVAJO WOMAN and daughter stand alongside their summer hogan in Monument Valley. Except for an occasional truck or two, the Navajos live a great deal like their ancestors.

Palatine Doctor Tells Of Life with Navajos

by BOB BUCHANAN

Customs among the Navajo Indians, the most primitive tribe in America, and the people of suburban Chicago are worlds apart in spite of the fact that they both live in the United States.

That's the belief of a Palatine physician who lived among the tribe of 250,000 for a year.

"The U.S. government is trying by all means to Americanize the Navajo," Dr. Patience Noecker of 355 E. Glencoe ave., remarked "The children are sent to government schools. Federal hospitals are provided. Many of the young men join the armed forces. Yet, most prefer to remain on the Navajo reservation, located over 225,000 square miles in northern Arizona and New Mexico.

"WHEN A NAVAJO leaves the reservation, he can take only one wife with him. On the reservation he can practice polygamy. A Navajo doesn't have too many wives, generally no more than 3. More wives mean more work.

"However, there's a catch when a man wants to marry a Navajo if she isn't the oldest daughter. If she's the 2nd or 3rd daughter, all the older ones go along in the deal as wives.

"Each wife has a separate 'Hogan,' house in American terminology. Along with the wife go the parents, grandparents and even great-grandparents, all living under one roof.

"Hogans are of 2 types, winter and summer. The summer hogan is made of juniper branches; the winter hogan made of logs and mud. The hogan is generally hexagonal but sometimes is quintagonal or octagonal. In structure, it somewhat resembles the old log cabin the way the logs are fitted together.

"HOWEVER, there the resemblance ends. The Navajos then take mud and pack it between the logs and form a dome shaped roof. The only openings in the structure, which has only a dirt floor, are a small doorway and a square hole in the roof to permit smoke to escape.

"In the center of the hogan is a pit where fire is made both for cooking and heating. In more modern hogans, a 55-gallon oil drum is cut across the center and the closed end placed up. By doing this, the Navajos have a makeshift stove.

"On the stove, they cook a basic diet which varies little. It consists of mutton and in rare instances veal, black coffee, and fried bread. Fried bread is a mixture of white flour which resembles doughnut dough minus shortening. The mixture then is fried either in lard or mutton grease.

"THIS DIET is fed to children as young as 6 months and needless to say is one of the basic reasons for disease. It's far from a well-balanced diet.

"Another thing which causes much disease is the lack of clothing. Boys and men wear only four items — shoes, overalls, denim jacket and a hat. The woman's costume consists of a velvet blouse and satin skirt and petticoats numbering as high as 10. The number depends upon the weather. For men the weather makes no difference. They wear the same year round.

"What creates one of their biggest health hazards," Dr. Noecker said, "I firmly believe, is the Navajos spitting around the fire pit in the hogan. So many have TB and then the youngsters crawl on the dirty floor.

"Yet, aside from the pit area, the rest of the hogan is as clean as a whistle. All members of each family sleep radially around the pit with their feet toward the fire. Their mattress is a sheepskin and their linen a good pendleton blanket. Without those blankets, I'd hate to think what the death rate would be.

"Oddly enough, Navajo society is a matriarchal society. Women and children tend the herds of sheep which roam the picturesque countryside. Women rear the children. Women do the weaving. A man's job is building hogans, since families often do not return to the same hogan and construct a new one every winter. This is part of the nomadic ways of the Navajo.

"MY FIRST greeting to Navajo country in the fall of 1952 was a 70 mile journey over a dirt road from Winslow to Keams Canyon, headquarters of the Hopi reservation which is located in the middle of the Navajo Indian reservation.

"I can remember the trip well. Arizona had one of its infrequent rains and the journey was made by sliding in a rut for 70 miles.

"Keams Canyon, population 150 (1950 census), has a 30-bed government general hospital, a school, a trading post and hogans. That's all.

"When I came to Keams Canyon, under direction of the Bureau of Indian Affairs in the Department of Interior, I was the 3rd physician. Six months later I was transferred to CrownPoint, N.M. The only difference was Crown Point had one more trading post and less population.

"IN MY YEAR there, one disease stands out—tuberculosis. I'd say there was a time when TB hit 1 in every 2 babies. With medical care, it's a great deal less, but still high for America.

"Eye and ear infections are very prevalent. I believe the cause of so many ear infections is inadequate heat in the hogans and the Navajos being outdoors in all types of weather. Colds are so numerous, they can't be counted.

"Babies have a great many colds. When the mothers leave the hospital, they wrap the infant in blankets and then bind him to a cradle board. Regardless of the weather, the baby's body is always perspiring and his face is what the temperature is.

"When a mother believes a baby is going to die, she will take him to the hospital. If she won't go to the hospital, she'll set the baby outside to die. For anyone to die in a hogan brings bad luck. If this happens, the hogan is set afire with the deceased inside.

"NAVAJOS ARE reputed to be dirty. It's not because they want to be. It's because they have to. Water is scarce on the reservation. Navajos must walk anywhere between 1 and 10 miles to get water. At such a distance and with the means of transportation they have, water is for drinking and cooking, not washing.

"A perfect example are the women who come to the hospital to have their babies born. Each day they wanted to wash and rewash their hair. In fact, one woman about to give birth, sneaked out of her room into one where her husband was recovering from an attack of pneumonia. The object: to wash his hair.

"NAVAJOS, DESPITE their belief in the medicine man—he's the Indian doctor, lawyer and preacher rolled into one come to the hospital without urging. Childbirth has been probably the greatest reason. The Indian method is quite cruel; they hang her from the roof of the hogan by her wrists and pull on her legs and abdomen until the infant is born.

"Once," Dr. Noecker went on, "a small girl was gravely ill and her parents wanted to take her to the medicine man. I told the parents she had only a 50-50 chance here and would surely die if taken out of the hospital. So, the medicine man came to the hospital and rattled his bones.

"DESPITE BEING miles from a paved road, I was never afraid of a Navajo. As a group, they are among the most honest persons you'll ever meet. If one owes a debt, he'll pay you. It may be a long time in coming but he'll meet his obligations.

"In looking back over the year I spent in Arizona and New Mexico, I'm happy to have had a chance to live among the Navajos and understand their customs which have changed very little. At the same time, it makes me realize how much customs in suburban America have changed." (B7

7 Modern Wonders

The seven wonders of the modern world, according to scientists are the breaking of the atom, the supersonic jet plane, man's ability to manipulate wave impulses, antibiotic drugs, the Coelacanth fish, and the Smithsonian institution.

Knowing and Caring

"Know how" is essential to modern scientific embalming and efficient funeral direction. But equally important to us is the quality of "caring" found in a staff of people who respond to sorrow with sympathetic understanding.

Cancer Crusade Surpasses Goal

Showing an amply generous spirit in keeping with its ever-growing population, the northwest suburban area responded to the recent Cancer Crusade with an impressive $26,012.77 in contributions, exceeding by more than $4,000 the goal set for it by the Illinois division, and bettering its own chapter's more optimistic goal by more than $1,000.

These totals were announced early this week by William C. Lathen of Arlington Heights, general fund chairman for the crusade.

LATHEN GAVE the following breakdown of the contributions by suburbs, hailing as the "real, hard-working heroes" of the crusade the local campaign managers and their workers:

Arlington Heights, Mrs. Rupert Vittinghoff, $6,288.90.

Barrington, Mrs. Henry Muth, $3,353.41.

Des Plaines, J. F. Navin (Knights of Columbus), $5,062.92.

Mt. Prospect, Mrs. Henry Peters, $3,169.52.

Niles, committee of 8, $1,521.22.

Palatine, Elvis Foster, $662.06.

Park Ridge, Rev. John Hubbard (not complete), $4,281.75.

Prospect Hts., Mrs. Lorton Fluent (Woman's Club), $843.00.

Rolling Meadows (not organized), $10.00.

Schaumburg, Mrs.. Paul Meginnis, $134.50.

Wheeling, Mrs. Jos. Schmoeller, $469.92.

Hatlen Heights, Mrs. Virgil Lencioni, $119.57.

Bartlett (not organized), $5.00.

"THE SUCCESS of this year's campaign", said Lathen, "will insure the continuance of the good progress being made against cancer. In addition to the hundreds of people who worked so hard during the crusade, I would like to thank the residents of the northwest suburban area for their fine response to the American Cancer Society's urgent plea, and especially the editors of Paddock Publications, who contributed so generously of their column space to give the campaign widespread publicity.

"I sincerely hope," continued Lathen, "that our intensive urging of medical check-ups has reminded every resident of the importance of seeing his doctor regularly, and that people in this area are now familiar with the work of the northwest suburban chapter, which is supported by funds collected in the crusade.

"IN ADDITION to hospital beds, wheelchairs, bandages and other sickroom equipment", Lathen stated, "the chapter supplies educational material such as films, posters and leaflets to schools and organizations. Education is as important as research in the battle against cancer, and residents should keep this vital aspect of the chapter's work in mind", he concluded.

George A. Glow, Arlington Heights, chairman of the chapter, suggests that anyone wishing to utilize any of the chapter's services call Mrs. Clinton Rosene, executive secretary, at the chapter's headquarters, 121 S. Emerson, CL 3-8148. The office is open Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. (B7

Uncle Sam Buys Soybeans, Sales to Stablize Prices

by L. H. SIMERL

Uncle Sam, long a big dealer in corn, wheat and cotton, recently became owner of 300 trainloads of soybeans.

On June 1 his Commodity Credit Corporation took title to some 40 million bushels of soybeans that farmers had pledged for price support loans.

The 40-odd million bushels of beans owned by the CCC were probably about two-fifths of the total stocks of soybeans on hand June 1. Not all of the beans owned by CCC can be considered surplus. Twenty to 35 million bushels of CCC beans will likely be processed or exported before October 1. The prices at which these beans are sold will largely control market prices until September.

THE POLICY of CCC is to offer these beans for sale during June at the "market price in store but not less than the 1956 basic loan rate for No. 2 grade, basic point of production plus 6½ cents a bushel."

In Champaign and other counties where the basic loan rate was $2.20, the minimum price for CCC beans in June is $2.26½. Recent bids by dealers to country elevators for beans have been close to this same figure. Thus the market price and the CCC minimum sale price have been about the same.

Local elevator operating costs and handling margins vary considerably but are often around 6 cents a bushel for soybeans. Thus bids of around $2.20 or $2.21 to farmers may be in line with the CCC minimum sale price.

PRICES OF soybean products, oil and meal, are low in relation to prices of soybeans. The oil recently was valued at 11⅝ cents a pound compared with 14¼ cents the year before. About 10 pounds of oil, worth $1.16 or so, can be obtained from a bushel of beans.

Soybean meal at the mill recently was worth only $45 a ton compared with $61 a year before. About 50 pounds of meal, worth around $1.12, is obtained from a bushel of beans.

Together these product values total only $2.28. The difference between the value of the products and the cost of soybeans is available to pay operating expenses. Unusually small margins may restrict processing rates during the next few months.

THE POULTRY industry, particularly the rapidly expanding broiler business, has taken increasing amounts of soybean meal in recent years. This market is no longer increasing. Large subsidies on the export of beans, oil and meal have helped to export increasing quantities, but the current economy wave may restrict future export sales.

In past years practically all of one crop of soybeans has been used before the following October 1. Last year, for example, only 4 million bushels of old beans were on hand October 1, and probably at least an equal amount of new beans had already been processed.

This year there will likely be a substantial carry-over, probably 15 to 30 million bushels. While this would be only a small part of the 460-million-bushel crop harvested last fall, it is enough to prevent any shortage of beans at the end of the season.

The 1957 crop of soybeans may be another record breaker. Farmers in March indicated that they would plant 3 to 4 per cent more acres than they did last year. Since March, weather conditions seem to have favored an even larger increase in planting, especially in Illinois, Indiana and Missouri. (Fm

Electric Mowing Tips Advanced

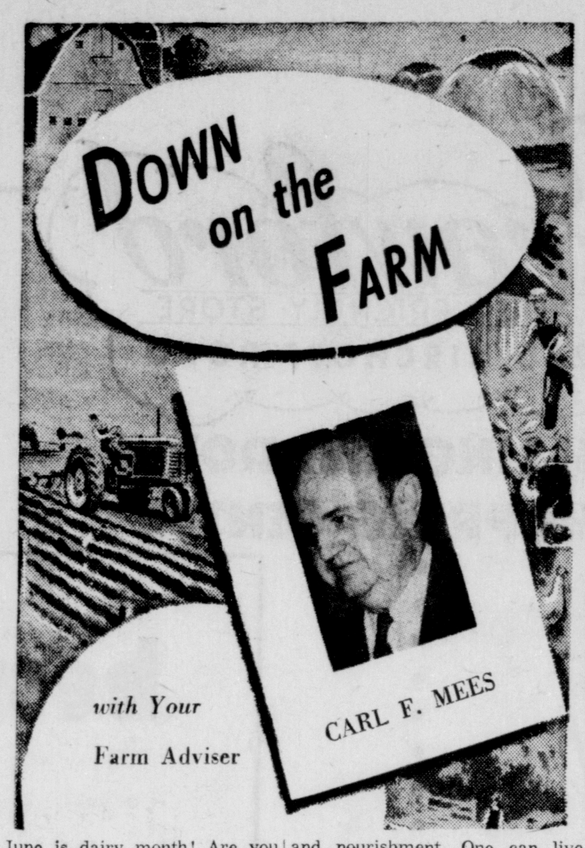
Mow back and forth in straight lines across your lawn to get best results with an electric mower. Always work away from the electrical outlet so that the power cord lies on the cut-over area, says O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. In that way you won't be in danger of cutting the card, losing power and getting an electrical shock from the frayed wires.

To help keep the cord from kinking and tangling, coil it loosely in a bucket or basket. That makes a handy storage space, and the cord will come out easily for use when mowing.

It's also a good idea to mow with an electric mower only t's also a good idea to mow with an electric mower on when the grass is dry. Moisture of any kind is a good conductor of electricity. Rain or dew on the grass may short out the mower and damage the motor or give you a shock.

Use only heavy-duty rubber-covered cord with a No. 16 or heavier conductor wire for 100 feet of cord on a ¼-horsepower motor. Check the cord frequently to see that there are no breaks in the insulation. (Fm



June is dairy month! Are you using dairy products whenever you can? Many people, especially those in the middle age bracket and older, are of the opinion that when one reaches the age of 40 or 50 years or older he no longer needs milk. According to all the research done in the leading universities, this is not true. One should have milk throughout his lifetime.

TODAY, when everyone is hurrying either to get a job done or to get someplace, our nervous system is under strain much of the time. Today, in many offices, "coffee breaks" are a part of the day's routine. Why can we not have a "milk break," if the object of the "coffee break" is for rest and stimulation. The "milk break" could give you rest and nourishment. One can live much longer and happier on nourishment than on stimulation.

We find many people have "ulcers" today. One of the treatments for ulcer is a diet of milk and cream. Would it not be better to drink plenty of milk to try to avoid illness rather than have it prescribed to cure an illness?

Americans are eating more cheese every year. Forty years ago, consumption averaged about 4 pounds per person. The past 3 years it has averaged nearly 8. Probably reasons for this increase have been improvements in quality, more varieties, better methods of packaging, and more aggressive merchandising.

CONSUMERS may become confused by the names of these. There are 800 names for different cheeses, so anyone could become confused. Instead of trying to remember all 800 names, it would be easier to keep in mind the basic groups of cheese, which are as follows:

—1. Soft unripened: examples cottage and cream cheese.

—2. Surface ripened: Camenbert, Muenster, Brick, and others of this type. Good for desert rather than cooking.

—3. Interior ripened, wmich improve with age. Examples — cheddar, edam, gouda, roquefort, and provolone. Used for all occasions.

—4. Sharp flowered club cheese, made by grinding, mixing, and blending well-aged cheddar. Good for canapes, cooking, and desert.

—5. Primost, Norwegian whey type, served as a buffet or desert cheese.

—6. Cheese food, a commercial brand which is same as processed cheese, except it contains extra milk solids.

—7. "Cheese spreads," base: lower fat, more moisture, contains sweetening and waterbinding agents, and possible fruits or meat.

Remember! When ordering something to drink during June, Dairy Month, at least once per day say, "Make mine milk."

Illinois Agronomists Set June 27

Plans are now complete for the first Agronomy Day at the University of Illinois agronomy farm June 27. Chairman W. O. Scott reports. Even though weather delayed planting of some corn and soybean plots, Agronomy Day visitors will still be able to see and hear about the many research projects under way.

In fact, weather conditions this spring will give visitors the chance to see differences in some experiments that might not have been possible otherwise, Scott emphasizes. Research projects that are expected to draw especially high interest include work to see how little preparation of land is necessary before planting corn and soybeans, winter nitrogen application tests, effectiveness of different weed chemicals, rotations and soil treatments, band fertilizer placement, cultural experiments on the best ways to grow grain sorghums, wheat and oat breeding and variety tests and studies of pasture mixtures to get top forage yields and yet avoid the bloat hazard.

Tours will begin at 10 a.m. and continue until mid-afternoon. Visitors are welcome to bring their picnic lunch. Light refreshments, including soft drinks, milk and ice cream will be available on the grounds. (Fm

Early Bloom Time To Cut Hay, Legumes

For highest quality hay, cut legumes in the early bloom stage. Carl F. Mees, farm advisor, says that from first bloom to 1/10 bloom is about right for alfalfa. Hay cut later loses too many leaves to be of the best quality.

Most feeding value of hay is in the leaves. For example, alfalfa leaves contain from 20 to 25 per cent protein, while the stems contain less than 9 per cent. Therefore, the big problem in quality hay production is to get the leaves into the barn.

Rake hay while it is still moist and tough, and then finish drying it in the windrow or with a barn drying system. Raking hay when it is completely dry shatters most of the leaves.

Either rain or too much sun will also cut down the feeding value of hay. Check the long-range weather forecasts before you cut for hay. A crusher also can be used to speed drying time in the field and remove some of the danger of getting hay wet. (Fm

Check Cook County Farms For Acreage, Soil Bank

Checking of Cook county farms to determine compliance with acreage allotments and soil bank agreements and contracts will soon be under way in all townships, it was announced this week by Carl M. Bormet, chairman of the county ASC committee.

Virtually all farms must be visited by representatives of the county ASC office to make either an accurate determination or an estimate of acreage in certain crops.

IN MOST INSTANCES, the inspection will be made by ASC community committeeman, serving as "performance reporters." They will work singly since farm operators are expected to assist in any necessary acreage measuring. Farmers are urged to give maximum cooperation for the protection of their own interests, and to facilitate the reporters' operations.

Following are the general requirements involved in the farm checking work, which is scheduled to be completed by July 15 if weather and crop conditions will permit:

WHEAT: All wheat is subject to allotments and marketing quotas. It has already been checked but performance reporters will be on the lookout for any fields of wheat not previously noted or reported. Full compliance with the farm's wheat allotment is required to qualify for price support on wheat. If the allotment is exceeded, a marketing quota penalty must be paid on the excess wheat except that any farmer may raise as much as 15 acres without being subject to a quota penalty. A farmer who has a soil bank wheat acreage reserve agreement must reduce his allotted wheat acreage to the extent provided by his agreement.

CORN: Any farmer who does not wish to qualify for price support on his corn and who is not participating in the soil bank is not required to be in compliance with his corn allotment. His corn acreage will be estimated by a performance reporter, instead of being measured or otherwise being accurately determined. Later, but prior to the compliance deadline, which will rpobably be August 1, such a farmer may get into compliance by paying ASC for the cost of measuring his corn acreage and by disposing of any excess by discing or plowing under.

Corn acreage will be measured on all farms whose operators wish to comply with their allotments to qualify for price support, on all farms which must be within their corn allotments to qualify for wheat acreage reserve or conservation reserve payments, and on all farms which must be under their allotted corn acreage to meet the terms of corn acreage reserve agreements. Any such producer found to have excess corn will be notified by mail of the amount of the excess and the deadline date for getting into compliance.

ACREAGE RESERVE — All acreage reserve tracts must be measured. Furthermore, acreage reserve farms must comply with all allotments established for the farm except that acreage of wheat grown within the 15 acres permitted under quotos will not disqualify the producers from corn acreage reserve payments.

CONSERVATION Reserve — In most instances, designated conservation reserve land and total cropland by fields have already been measured on conservation reserve farms.

Time-Old Mastitis Still Plagues Illinois Dairymen

There's at least one "old-timer" that isn't revered by Illinois dairymen. This one is mastitis.

Veterinarians at the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine say that despite the long time in which mastitis has been recognized as a serious disease of dairy cows, it is still causing dairymen heavy losses.

WHAT CAUSES mastitis? Udder injuries are considered important factors in opening the door to invasion of various types of bacteria that can cause infectious mastitis. So the farmer will do himself a favor by cutting down on the ways in which a cow can injure herself. Some causes of injury are stalls that are too short, inadequate bedding, high door sills or jump gates and forcing the cow to run.

The dairyman should be on the lookout for any change in the milk or the cow's udder — a warning that mastitis may be present. A few flakes in the milk or a firm area in a teat or quarter is usually the first sign of the disease. If proper veterinary treatment is not given, the quarter may become swollen and inflamed and the milk may change greatly within a few hours.

IF YOU SUSPECT mastitis, contact the local veterinarian to help him start a herd control program. This will include a new milking order, which consists of milking healthy cows — especially first-calf heifers — first and those with mastitis, or suspected of having mastitis, last. It's also a good idea to use a strip cup or bakelite cup to check the milk of each cow before milking. This shows abnormal changes in milk.

In addition, improperly operating milking machines or machines that are left on too long may contribute to udder injury. Teat cups on milking machines should be in good condition and should be removed as soon as each quarter stops giving milk. Also, wipe teats and udder with a mild, warm antiseptic solution before milking, and use a clean cloth or paper towel for each cow.

Once mastitis is discovered, the veterinarian must determine which type of infection is present and what should be done to control it. Not all cases can be cured. Treatment alone has not controlled and will not control, mastitis as a herd problem. A well-organized herd program with veterinary supervision is necessary to deal with this persistent and costly problem. (Fm

Arlington Farmer Sells Guernsey

E. B. Henslee, Arlington Heights, has just sold the registered Guernsey bull, Henslee Farm's N. Falcon, according to the American Guernsey Cattle club.

The purchaser was W. J. Redman, Eagleville, Tenn.

This bull is out of the fine Guernsey cow, Grain Meadow Oberland's that has an official production record of 14,319 pounds of milk and 646 pounds of fat, made on 2 times daily milking in 365 days. He was sired by Henslee Farms Jedettas Nimrod.

Acid Creates Enthusiasm Among Flower Gardeners

Many flower garden enthusiasts are asking questions about gibberellic acid. What is the material? How is it applied to flowering plants? What concentration is used? What apparent response can be expected? The following information will help to answer some of these questions.

Gibberellic acid is a plant-regulating chemical produced by the fungus Gibberella fujikuroi, which attacks the rice plant in the Orient. For commercial purposes, the fungus is grown in a liquid culture medium from which the acid is extracted. The process is similar to that commonly used in producing antibiotics.

GIBBERELLIC ACID is sold under several different trade names and in various concentrated forms of powder or liquid. Dilute concentrations of the acid ai prepared and applied to the plants either as a spray or as a paste. As a spray, concentrations of the acid in solution can range from ⅛ to 300 ppm (parts per million), depending on the plant material to be treated. As a paste, a 1 per cent concentration of the acid in lanolin is commonly used. These concentrated commercial products usually have detailed instructions for preparing and applying the diluted acid.

The use of gibberellic acid as a plant stimulant is still in the experimental stage. The acid is effective for increasing the size of plants and flowers of many annual and perennial garden flowers. It eliminates dwarfism in plants. Many house plants respond well to treatment with the acid, and it is particularly effective in speeding the growth of young trees and slow-growing ornamental plants.

SOME PLANTS are more sensitive to the acid than others. Generally, the stems elongate rapidly and the leaves become slightly lighter in color than those of the untreated plants. Treated plants respond most readily to treatment with the acid when the vegetative buds are growing and the shoots are still very small. Dry seeds, dormant bulbs, corms and roots have not shown any response.

Undesirable effects, such as spindly, weak growth and small, poor-quality flowers may be produced in plants that are treated with strong concentrations of the acid. Small amounts of low concentration produced desirable effects on most plants that were treated.

GIBBERELLIC ACID is not a plant food material. But the extra growth rate and flower size of the plants stimulated by it will probably require more water and fertilizer elements, especially nitrogen, than the untreated plants to support continued satisfactory growth.

Some of the plants that respond favorably to treatment with low concentrations of the acid include the African violet, ageratum, geranium, hydrangea, petunia, salvia, and snapdragon. Woody plant materials that respond favorably include English boxwood, maple, rose, spruce, and the tulip trees. (Fm

"The First Step Toward A Cure Is To Know What The Disease Is"

*(A Latin proverb, author unknown)

Research scientists have now perfected some chemical re-agents that enable physicians to make a positive diagnosis of certain diseases. Often the cause of a sickness still has to be determined by skillfully eliminating what it cannot be. Sometimes more than one visit is necessary to accomplish this.

To impatiently rush from one physician to another is unwise. You can usually get well much more quickly if after choosing your physician, you give him the necessary time to find out what is wrong, so that he can help you most.

Senator Douglas Explains Budget Views to Citizens

Uncle Sam could better use millions in hidden or direct subsidies than by—among other things—paying a part of Congressional luncheon tabs and supporting the silver mining industry, in the view of Illinois' Senator Paul Douglas.

Subsidies to the Senate restaurant and the mining industry are but several of the many ways in which the federal government fritters away millions of dollars.

In a letter to Northwest suburban constitutents explaining his attitudes on President Eisenhower's $71.8 billion budget, the Democratic senator lists these other subsidies he would cut from this year's budget:

"The subsidy to overseas airlines (excluding the money for mail handling), the ship construction and operation subsidy, excessive payments to the railroads for carrying the mails, indirect subsidies to the banks by means of interest-free government deposits, fast tax write-offs to non-defense industries, stockpiling of strategic materials no longer needed at prices well above the market price and indirect subsidies to the Congress for items which members should pay for themselves."

SAVINGS TO THE taxpayer would range from $30,000, in the case of the Congressional beanery, to an estimated $100 to $150 million if some billions in federal bank deposits earned 3 per cent interest instead of no interest at all.

Senator Douglas, who possesses a background of wide experience as an economist, is measuring the $71.8 billion budget by 3 yardsticks.

One is whether or not the proposed expense is an unwarranted subsidy, as mentioned. The others apply to public works, the acquisition of materials by governmental departments, and greate. efficiency in government.

For example, Senator Douglas moved to delete $375 million from the public works "pork barrel" earlier this year, a cut of 25 per cent which found few other supporters.

DEFENDING his proposal, he says:

"While I believe in postponing material needs, such as public works projects, highways and dams, I do not believe that one can postpone human needs—such as schools, hospitals, slum clearance and the like, for these needs can never be made up once they are lost.

"A child in an overcrowded schoolroom with inadequate facilities loses his educational opportunity for DEFENSE receives roughly 60 per cent of the money in the budget, notes the Senator, and defense requests contain a number of frills (swimming pools for GI's and wasteful expenses (purchase of great quantities of shelled peanuts.) He would, nevertheless, not alter "the basic fabric of our defense," including present military aid and technical assistance programs.

There is "a responsible way to cut the budget," concludes Senator Douglas, "and I shall press forward." (B10

Lessons in English

Often Misused

Do not say, "He is different than his father in that respect." Say, "different from his father."

Do not write, "Tell us your preference and the same will be forwarded to you." Say, "and it will be forwarded to you."

The distinction between the terms "catalogue" and category" is that "catalogue" is a list arranged according to some scheme, whereas "category" is a class of things.

Distinguish between "broach" and "brooch," both of which are pronounced as "broch." "Broach" means to introduce as a topic of conversation, while "brooch" is a breastpin or similar article of jewelry.

Do not say, "This group of boys aren't under my jurisdiction any longer." Say, "This group of boys isn't under my jurisdiction." "Group" is the singular subject.

"Distinguish between "practical" (serving a useful purpose) and "practicable" (capable of being done). Thus: "The plan has many practical applications," and, "The machine is practicable for our purpose."

Home Minded

More than one hundred billion dollars have been invested in new homes since the end of World War II, according to a report by the U. S. Savings and Loan league.

VIEWS SHUTTER VIEWS

by FRED GAREISS

One subject sure to generate a chorus of "ohs" and "ahs" from a home-movie audience is a sunset.

You can catch the glory of a sunset or sunrise beautifully on color film if the sun is behind haze or clouds. Use people in the scene to add interest. Moving between your camera and the setting sun, they will show as silhouettes.

FOR MOVIES with outdoor type color film in the camera, 15 minutes before sundown, if the sky is clear, set the lens at 5.6; 5 minutes before, at 4; right at sundown, at 2.8; up to 15 minutes after sundown at 1.9.

If the sun is covered by clouds, 15 minutes before sundown set the lens at 2.8; 5 minutes before at 2; from sundown to 15 minutes after at 1.9.

Those who take color slides expose for the light areas of the sky, and use an exposure meter if one is available. If the sun is partially or wholly obscured by a cloud, try 1/50 second at f/4. The afterglow immediately following a sunset may require 1/25 to 1/10 second at f/2. These exposures hold true for either Kodachrome or Anscochrome films, daylight type.

A SMALL AMOUNT of experimentation will quickly show the best exposure for the effect you prefer. With either movies or slides a shorter than normal exposure will give a darker and somewhat more dramatic effect. Longer exposures give lighter skies and more pastel-like hues.

For the home movie maker who wants a spellbinder that never fails to establish its mood try a shot of the crowd around a campfire. A picture such as this is not hard to take but you need a lot of flames . . . not just coals. Set the lens at its largest opening (2.8 or 1.9) and at a speed of 8 frames per second if your camera has it. If you happen to have a tungsten type film in your camera, use it. It would respond well to the warmer than sunlight glow of the fire.

Next week, tips on exteriors at night and pictures from the air in black and white or color, what films and filters to use. (B10

Residents Push Plant Lecture

Five northwest suburbanites are determined that no one in their area who has an interest in gardening shall miss the opportunity to hear Frank Reinelt, famed plantsman, when he speaks for the first time in the midwest.

The Californian, originally a native of Czechoslovakia, will speak Wednesday, June 26, at 2 p.m. in the Prudential building, Chicago.

URGING AREA participation in the lecture are Carl Klehm, Arlington Heights; Mrs. Louis Brabee and Harold C. Durland of Mt. Prospect; and Harold O. Klopp and Rudolph J. Mohr of Palatine. All are members of the Chicago Horticultural society.

Reinelt rose to world fame by producing the gorgeous tuberous begonias, giant Pacific strain delphiniums and many-colored primroses, that are now the favorite of gardeners in all parts of this country and abroad.

AS AN ADDED feature, Reinelt will show color slides of his flower creations and is bringing with him for display a collection of his live tuberous begonias flowers.

Members of the society will be admitted free. Tickets for non-members are available at Klehm's Nursery, Algonquin and State rds., Arlington Heights, and Lawn & Garden Spot, E. Northwest hwy., Barrington.

Arlington Heights Man Opens Agency

McIntosh Celebrates Fifty Years of Area Growth

Imagine a strip of land one mile wide and stretching from State street in the Chicago Loop to the Fox River in St. Charles, 35 miles west.

This imaginary strip of property would approximate the total land development of Arthur T. McIntosh & company, pioneer developer of Chicagoland and certain areas of Iowa, Indiana, Missouri, Montana and Florida. The firm this week celebrates its 50th year in business.

IN THE YEAR 1907, the late Arthur T. McIntosh, a graduate of Northwestern university, started in the real estate business by founding the firm that today bears his name and is the largest land development company in the Chicago area.

Arthur T. McIntosh died in 1955. Today, the firm he built is progressively carried on by 2 sons, Arthur Jr., the president, and Gilbert B., executive vice president and by Hilding N. Johnson, vice president and secretary, and Way Thompson, vice president and treasurer. Johnson has been with the organization more than 40 years and Thompson for 24.

THE STORY of McIntosh company is a story of private enterprise. Before developing any suburban properties, the firm subdivided over 2,000 acres within the city limits. Its first suburban development was in Harvey and in 1914 and 1915 they handled Evanston acreage west of Green Bay road.

One of the most significant features of the firm's history has been the confidence maintained by McIntosh in the future growth of Chicagoland. Despite the problems of World War I, the recession in the 20's and the dark depression days of the early 30's this belief in the future of the area was demonstrated by continual land development.

With the advent of good suburban transportation, new areas for development unfolded. The firm followed the railroads in developing suburban Chicago land—primarily the Illinois Central, the Burlington, the Rock Island and the North Western. It wasn't unusual in the early days of the firm for young salesman Hilding Johnson to stand at the railroad station with a fist full of train tickets, urging prospective buyers to debark at one of the McIntosh properties along the right of way.

EARLY DEVELOPMENT was along the Burlington railroad. The village of Westmont, now a thriving community of 8,500 people, was built by McIntosh. Other developments along the C B & Q were in Congress Park, Brookfield, Hinsdale, Clarendon Hills, Downers Grove, Lisle and Naperville.

The second decade of the company also produced growth of the firm along the Wisconsin and Galena Divisions of the Chicago and North Western. This included developments in Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Mount Prospect, Arlington Heights, Palatine, Barrington, Elmhurst, Lombard, Villa Park, Glen Eliyn and Wheaton.

The 1700-acre development known as Inverness at Palatine was first placed on the market in 1938 after 20 years of planning and property acquisition. Inverness is approximately 1 mile by 3 miles. Homesites here are a minimum of 1 acre. One of the last Inverness land acquisitions was the Meadows Grove Golf Course, which has been owned by executives of the Cudahy Packing Co. After its purchase, McIntosn had the course redesigned for 18 holes and included it as a part of this extensive and refined development.

IT IS INTERESTING to note that the McIntosh firm has been a training ground for several men who have gone on to found their own successful land development and general real estate firms.

Many of these men attended the anniversary celebration Tuesday afternoon at the Sheraton-Blackstone hotel.

In Palatine, large areas south and west of the village were originally offered to home seekers by the McIntosh firm. These developments have become today a residential section in which there are few vacant lots. (BB

Where Shoppers Are Coming From

New northwest suburban shopping centers have been opening left and right and according to authoritative sources the number is expected to grow greatly in the next few years.

With centers just a few miles apart and automobiles a necessity rather than a luxury, businessmen are vitally interested in what business they attract and what business they lose.

PADDOCK Publications took a vehicle survey Saturday of the latest center to open, Rolling Meadows. The figures, though inconclusive because of the one-time survey, are quite interesting in noting consumer habits.

In a 40-minute period between 1 and 2 p.m. Saturday, a total of 223 vehicles were counted in the spacious parking lot which was less than half full.

As expected, Rolling Meadows supplied the greatest number of customers, 78. This was 35 per cent of the total.

THE SECOND highest number, 45, were vehicles without a city sticker. Cars from 27 cities and villages and two from out of state, one from Colorado and the other from West Virginia, were counted and make a person wonder if motorists are complying with local sticker laws. Stickerless cars accounted for 20.2 per cent of the total.

Third was near-by Arlington Heights with 22 or a percentage 9.9. Palatine township, in which Rolling Meadows is located accounted for 18 or 8.1 per cent. Chicago cars totaled only one less than Palatine township. Rounding out villages with 10 or more cars was Palatine with 11.

A complete breakdown is as follows: Rolling Meadows 78, no stickers 45, Arlington Heights 22, Palatine township 18, Chicago 17, Palatine 11, Hoffman Estates 6, Elk Grove township 3, Barrington 2, Schaumburg 2, Wheeling township 2, Bartlett 1, Berkeley 1, Berwyn 1, Carpentersville 1, Cary 1, Colorado 1, Elgin 1, Elmwood Park 1, Forest Park 1, Grayslake 1, LaGrange Park 1, Lake Zurich 1, Melrose Park 1, Mt. Prospect 1, Norridge 1, Skokie 1, West Virginia 1, and Wheeling 1. (BB

Complains Want Ads 'Too Good'

"Your want ads are too darn good," exclaimed Warren Kohler, retiring Palatine village manager, to a Paddock Publications reporter.

"The very day on which the ad appeared I returned from the fire hall shortly before midnight to find I didn't have a chair in the house on which to sit. In fact, we had to borrow folding chairs."

Mr. and Mrs. Kohler, who are leaving next month for California, said all they have left are a television set, stove, refrigerator and bed. The bed has already been sold and one caller asked the Kohlers if they sell the stove to give her a ring.

AN ARLINGTON Heights woman called Mrs. Kohler at 10:30 a.m. last Thursday about 1 item and when told it had been sold, she pleaded, "I made a special trip downtown to get the paper to see what the want ads had. How early do you have to get a paper?"

Mrs. Kohler advises persons who place want ads in Paddock Publications to get up early—her calls started coming at 8:40 a.m. —and to expect calls for days afterwards. Mrs. Kohler has only one sorrow—she wishes she had about 5 times as many things to sell as she did. (BB

Resident Made Exec Of Kemper Insurance

HAROLD FICHTE

Harold O. Fichte, 526 S. Pine st., Arlington Heights, has been named assistant secretary of Lumbermens Mutual Casualty company and American Motorists Insurance company.

Hathaway G. Kemper, president, made the announcement.

FICHTE, a co-ordinator in the procedures department, came with the Kemper companies in 1938. He was an adjuster, examiner and investigator in the liability claim department before moving to the procedures department in 1948.

Fichte was born in Chicago and received an AB and LL.B degrees from the University of Illinois. During World War II he served 4 years in the army air corps and still maintains active duty in the air force reserve. He is married and has 2 sons and 1 daughter.

Stratton Signs Mortgage Reform

Illinois home buyers can look forward to the prospect of more mortgage money soon being available as the result of legislation signed by Governor Stratton and amending provisions of the state's 85-year-old mortgage laws.

In the present tight money market, Illinois has had its back to the wall in obtaining fresh financing for construction of homes, apartment buildings, hotels and other residential, commercial and industrial building.

CHIEF DETERRENT to more mortgage money being available in Illinois was the antiquated foreclosure provisions that made lending in our state an unattractive procedure to many investors. The money sources that declined to do business here included large life insurance companies, mutual savings banks, and many pension funds. They objected to the long, costly and complicated procedure that follows a mortgage default, often running as long as 19 months. Other states have shortened their procedures, thus becoming more attractive to lenders than was Illinois.

With the help of House Bills 441, 440 and 439, some of the road blocks have been removed, the mortgage laws have been simplified and lending in Illinois today is far more attractive to a wider scope of lenders than ever before.

THE LEGISLATION passed the Illinois Senate by a vote of 37 to 5, and was approved by the House of Representatives by a vote of 138 to 15, indicative of the wide support these modernizing amendments have.

While the new legislation does not go into effect until July 1, a great many Illinoisans can be hopeful a large influx of financing will begin at that time. With more mortgage money being made available in the state, more houses can be built and there will be more business for the home construction industry and its allied trades.

The anticipated effect will be that more home ownership will be available to the general public at the lowest possible cost.

Fine Tableware Festival Set for Wheeling June 30

Historic old Wheeling will be the scene of a Festival of Fine Tableware June 30 to July 7, with the opening of Dirigo Fine Table Appointments, 170 N. Milwaukee ave., north of Dundee rd.

"DIRIGOLD," now known as "Dirilyte," a new tableware with the glow of gold but the strength of steel, originated in Sweden in the 1920's. Mr. Algot Runeman, proprietor of Dirigo, Inc., was one of the earliest and most enthusiastic supporters of this new table service, solid, not plated, which has now proved its right to be called "the lifetime tableware."

Today, Dirigo's new store celebrates not only the great craftsmen and metallurgists of Sweden, but the progress of our own country and the entire world in creating finest china, crystal, silver, linen, stainless steel, and accessories for the American home. At Dirigo Fine Table Appointments may be seen a wide selection of merchandise with prices to suit modest budgets as well. (BB

Now--Take Your Gas with You!

Under an Illinois Commerce commission ruling just signed, they won't have to reapply or go to the bottom of a long waiting list for gas space heating from the Northern Illinois Gas Co.

...TO BE ELIGIBLE under the new policy, the suburbanite must have had the gas service in his home for at least 12 months and own the gas space heating equipment.

The gas company now is authorized to service him without delay at his new home providing he removes the gas equipment from the home he sold. Also, the new home must be in Northern Illinois Gas company territory, meaning the suburbs. Another company has the franchise to operate in Chicago.

The new policy is outlined in the ICC's ninth supplemental order governing the operations of Northern Illinois Gas.

CUSTOMERS whose land is acquired by the state or other governmental body for the purpose of providing highway right-of-way or other public use also may have gas service furnished at their new home without delay. They are eligible even if the gas heat was not in their homes for at least 12 months.

Also those on the waiting list who lose their homes for public projects won't lose their place on the waiting list for gas service.

Previously there was no provision for transferring the rights of customers whose property was taken or purchased for public use.

Northern Illinois Gas offered testimony showing that permitting transfers would not have any adverse effect on its ability to furnish gas service and would be in the public interest.

At the end of March, the latest figures available, the company had 199,234 applicants on its waiting list. These included applications from 36,529 potential owners of homes under construction; 63,556 for homes now occupied and 99,149 for home contractors.

THE ICC ALSO said those receiving authorization for gas heating have 12 months to complete their installations—or go to the end of the line.

An Illinois Gas spokesman said the ICC order allowing the suburban home owner to take his gas heat with him spells out an interpretation of language in an earlier commission order.

Chicagoans serviced by Peoples Gas Light & Coke company, also may do the same.

However, there is no way a Chicagoan moving to the suburbs or vice versa can take his gas heat with him. (BB

Suburbia's Not Snoring on Issues

My sincere congratulations and appreciation for the splendid article by Charles Hayes, on the editorial page of your June 13th issue—"Legislators Ignore Public Interest, Disregard Voter."

I am today forwarding a copy of this article to each of our State Representatives, with the following letter:

"I hope you will take time to read the enclosed article from the Arlington Heights Herald, for it was written about you, and expresses the growing sentiments of a great many more of your constituents than you realize. It is appalling to note, as the session of the General Assembly comes to a close, the complete disinterest and about-face of most of our representatives on these most pressing problems. Last October and November, every candidate to the General Assembly from this District, pledged his wholehearted support to the issues of Judicial Reform. They assured us that aid for public schools was a number one item on which each could be counted to do his utmost.

"Please be assured Mr. Representative, we are neither a snoring suburbia, nor "cranks." More and more citizens are learning that the names of their representatives are Senator Arrington and Representatives Simmons, Carroll, and Halpin. We may still be naive enough to expect campaign pledges to be honored, but we are also in control of our faculties—our memories are longer than from November to June."

May I strongly urge that you make a place on the front page of your publication for the votes of our Senator and Representatives on these issues, as the General Assembly session draws to a close. WE SHALL NOT FORGET!

Wants Schools to Support Stores

It is not because we did not get the paint business we were asked to bid on, but as a taxpayer and a long standing one, 25 years to be exact, I would like to ask why the schools get outside bids on painting supplies. We have many paint store owners in Arlington Heights who I am sure are also home owners and taxpayers.

I believe it is high time that the schools of Arlington Heights purchase all their paint supplies for decorating in Arlington Heights and not from towns that do not pay taxes in this district. Let's see that the local merchants are patronized.

1957 Heart Fund Appeal Successful

The loyal support and outstanding cooperation which you gave to the 1957 Heart Fund has helped make this the most successful campaign in Chicago's Heart history.

The space you accorded us in the press helped materially in gaining the good will and substantial support of individuals in your community, proving again the mighty power of the printed word. For your loyalty in promoting our cause we send you our hearty thanks.

As tangible evidence of our gratitude we are proud to present you with a certificate of award honoring you for your support.

If you have suggestions as to how we can serve you more satisfactorily or efficiently throughout the year, yon't you please send them along so that we can put them into practice.

As soon as our books are closed on June 30—the end of our fiscal year—we shall have a final campaign figure which we are sure you will be pleased to publish. Meantime, again our thanks for your invaluable help.

Vandals Steal Flowers from Graves

I am having difficulty at the moment to hold on to my love and respect for my fellow man.

We have just returned from the cemetery where we had gone to water the potted flowers we had put on our son's grave. They had been planted with care, and were put there because it is the only place we have to care for as a little memorial to him. We do not want his grave to look deserted and unattended.

The large green planter was gone, as was the white one on the next plot—the grave of a little girl whose parents take the same pleasure as we do in not neglecting it. These were not removed by the caretakers because they had become wilted and ugly. They were both beautiful and had stayed so because we had cared for them. They were not removed to mow around. The caretakers were asked about it. Apparently they were stolen, impossible as it seems. It is not the first time this has happened at Memory Gardens.

I am outraged at the thought of such a thing. What kind of people are we getting out here in our nice community? How can such horrible people live with themselves? How can anyone who loves flowers stoop to such a means of getting them? It is beyond my comprehension, and it shakes my faith in everything that is good to think that people like that are permitted to live on this earth, when fine young people who were a real asset to society, and gave rather than stole, were taken from us. I hope that whoever took the planters will read this and stop and think just what loathsome creatures they are.

Maybe, compared to all the crime that exists in the world, this seems a minor thing to be so upset about. But I honestly think I could have more respect for a man that robbed a bank than for the petty thief who stoops to steal from the graves of our loved ones.

DISTRESSED

Why Don't Voters Turn Out to Polls?

Why don't more voters turn out for our local elections? Because they don't know about them!

Take, for instance, the recent grade school election: it was announced, of course, two consecutive weeks in the "Herald;" but, unfortunately, not everyone reads our excellent local paper. The only voters alerted were the parents of public school pupils, who received a comprehensive letter from the Board of Education explaining the need and purpose of the items on the ballots.

Had the Board of Education sent this letter to ALL tax payers (as it should have done, as the major portion of our tax dollar is allocated to the schools,) the results might have been different.

Interested.

What Do We Want for Our Children?

What do we want for our children? State and federal education — Unless we parents "pitch in" with real interest in our local schools, we could end up with serious problems.

The recent school election shows a very strong trend to let "Joe vote." Of course, we all dispise high taxes, but how else can we buy good education? — Private school at $800 to $1000 per year per child?

Some say our tax money is being wasted. Before you say that, go talk to any or all our school board members. Would you like temporary school buildings? Would you teach in Arlington Heights if you had a choice of $4,000 per year in Arlington or $5000 per year some place else.

If you and I want poorer education, let's go vote no for tax increases and bond issues. If we want better education we must vote yes. Above all, we must vote. This could teach our children the importance of their voting when they are "grown up."

State Police, Public Aid Hot Issue in Legislature

by REP. PAUL SIMON

Two controversial issues which will command the attention of the legislature during the coming weeks are proposals to bring the state police and the field of public aid under more direct control of the Governor.

Many feel this means just one thing: These agencies will be right in the middle of politics.

There are those in both parties who think this would be good — and there are those in both parties who think it would be bad. I'm strongly supporting those who think it would be bad.

What's happening should interest you.

OUR STATE police system in Illinois has improved tremendously since it was removed from politics and put under a Police Merit Board.

Confidence in the state police has so improved that the legislature approved a doubling of the state police force. Confidence in the state police was probably another reason for passage of the state speed limit.

But 2 unusual things have happened:

1) A bill was introduced putting the employees of the Police Merit Board under one of the Governor's departments. In other words, the Police Merit Board could not hire or fire its own employees.

2) For some strange reason there wasn't an appropriation for the Police Merit Board.

In other words, there is an attempt to kill the Police Merit Board and their good work by some not-very-sly maneuvering.

The Police Merit Board has 3 members, 2 Republicans and 1 Democrat. But the important thing is that regardless of their political affiliation they have been trying to give the State of Illinois an effective police force.

I voted for the increase in the state police—but I most certainly would not have, if I had thought an attempt was going to be made to throw the force back into the mire of patronage.

If we can have career men on the state police force, we can expect a reasonably well run police force. If we have a lot of political appointees, we can expect a generally lower caliber force and we can expect the new speed limit to result in a lot of shake-downs.

It's not a pleasant prospect.

THE OTHER SIMILAR issue is public aid. At the present time the Illinois Public Aid Commission administers the program. The members of the commission are appointed by the Governor. They appoint the executive secretary of the commission and set policy for the administration of public aid.

The actions of the commission are relatively free of politics. The proposal to make public aid a department under the thumb of the Governor would throw them right in the middle of politics.

Supporters of the change point out the abuses of public aid which exist today (and there are some) and they cite the tremendous cost of the program (and it is tremendous).

But I don't expect either the abuses or cost would decrease if you make a political thing of it. The cost in human suffering certainly would increase.

If someone is hungry and in need of aid, he should receive it — regardless of his political affiliation or that of his friends.

What's News in Suburbia?

Lincolnwood's village board has reduced from 13 to 12 the number of liquor licenses within the corporate limits.

A. B. Dick Co. is the largest single taxpayer in Niles township. The Niles firm paid more than $400,000 in real estate and personal property taxes last month.

Morton Grove voters recently approved a $200,000 bond issue for an 8-room addition to Park View school. In Skokie, plans call for a new northeast school with site cost of $100,000 and building cost of $350,000 plus a new $89,000 junior high school site Voters have approved all 3 propositions.

Barrington's board of locals on the Cook county side of town will probably be required to pay the Metropolitan Sanitary District tax next spring even though the village is then detached from the district.

Real estate taxes in Cuba township, Barrington, will be 5 to 10 per cent higher this year. Tax bills will be out July 1.

Barrngton's board of local improvements is now ready to invite bids for sewering the northwest section of the village.

A $63,885 budget appropriation was passed recently by Island Lake board of trustees.

ELMHURST'S newest park will be known as Eldridge park in memory of Edward Eldridge, one of the community's earliest settlers.

DuPage county's proposed new jail will cost between $750,000 and $780,000 and plans will be ready within 2 months.

City sales tax collections during April netted 25 Lake county municipalities $96,368.67.

LaGrange Park will hold its second special census since 1954. The village's estimated population is 13,500.

A SURVEY of auto parking facilities in LaGrange has been authorized by the village board. A similar survey conducted in 1947 has served the parking comission as a guide in working out its parking expansion program.

Ground has been broken for a $60,000 addition to historic Ivanhoe Congregational church near Mundelein. The church is a century old this year.

A tremendous summer of road building is under way in the Libertyville - Mundelein area. Projects range from segments of the $415 million tri-state toll road project to black-top patching of village streets.

Again this summer Downers Grove will be the only town along the CB&Q railway to hold a regular series of free concerts in the park.

"A QUARTER century of smoke was enough for any man," quipped Westmont fire chief William Hołzkopf upon his retirement last week.

Downers Grove home owners pay the highest taxes for municipal services in DuPage county, it was revealed in a survey last week.

Maine high school board of education has announced a $950,000 bond issue referendum for July 13 to approve 2 sites for future high schools and purchase of the land.

Evanston has been awarded 2 certificates for achievement in the National Safety council's 1956 traffic inventory award program. The city was recognized for maintaining accident records and for a school traffic safety education program.

EVANSTON Police Chief Hubert G. Kelsh has authorized a census of the city's estimated 3,000 dog population as part of a crackdown on some 2,000 unlicensed dogs in Evanston.

A conference on establishing a community junior college in Chicago Heights, with administrators and board members of Bloom high school participating, will be scheduled in the near future.

An unofficial census has placed Park Forest's population at 27,967.

An unusual type of organization is being formed in Park Forest, probably the only one of its kind in existence. Made up of idea men from a wide variety of scientific, professional and commercial specialties, the group will mutually assist in the development of ideas or inventions.

It will also "brainstorm" solutions to difficult general or civic problems.

Arlington Heights grade schools won 1 and lost 1 in 2 bond issue proposals. Voters approved $350,000 for building a new school, but defeated a 12.5 cent educational tax rate hike.

BENSENVILLE school district 2 voters rejected 7 bond issue proposals totaling $788,000.

Palatine - Rolling Meadows school district 15 will be asked later this summer to approve a $775.000 school bond issue.

Nine northwest suburbs have accepted an invitation from Wheeling plan commission to participate in an area planning conference June 28.

State 'Short Changes' Suburban Schools

Over-Taxed Suburbia Pleads For 'Realistic' State Aid

by CHARLES HAYES

Public schools are rapidly becoming the "poor relative" in suburbia's community family.

Unfortunately, the family hasn't any "rich uncle" to dole out dollars.

One official quipped this week that the "school crisis is getting tired." As a matter of fact, he was getting tired, too: from "banging his head against a dead end of professional politicians and apathetic voters."

The school official shrugged his shoulders and leaned back in his chair.

"You hit the nail on the head last week," he told a reporter, "when you implied that nobody in the suburbs gives a darn what happens to schools or what elected representatives do in Springfield. The schools are being short-changed, and it's the local taxpayer who's going to pay through the nose in the end."

He cited several recent examples of the plight facing area schools.

VOTERS in Arlington Heights turned down a 12.5 tax rate increase to pay operating costs —including teachers salaries— for the $350,000 in new school facilities approved by the same voters in the same election.

While voters approved the construction of the schools, officials were hard put as to where to find enough money to maintain the completed facilities.

Warned board president Richard L. Johnston: "The school system will not be able to finance the educational program after the coming year without additional revenue."

Where was it to come from?

A $775,000 school bond issue is slated this summer for Palatine—Rolling Meadows district 15.

But even then, little hope for relief to burgeoning schools was foreseen by Marion Jordan, superintendent. "Even if the bond issue passes, it will not be nearly enough to take care of our needs," he sighed.

Where's the money going to come from?

A TOTAL OF $788,000 in bond issues to build 2 new schools and buy a site for a third was defeated in a special referendum in Bensenville district 2.

The rapid increase in grade school enrollment at Bensenville will soon use up every available facility.

It's the same, tired tale in most every suburb.

Nearly all educational tax rates are at the statutory limit, bonding power is used up, or almost so, and property owners are justifiably becoming panicky at the size of real estate bills.

Where to turn for help?

THE STATE is the logical source.

Illinois—ranking near the top among states in wealth — is down in the lower levels in percentage of income devoted to education.

Governor William Stratton has adamantly turned his back on pleas for realistic state aid.

He's said frankly he thinks it's up to property owners to carry the school burden. He's repeatedly said real estate taxes should be higher if there isn't enough money for schools. Since metropolitan Chicago is the area hardest hit in the Illinois school finance pinch, his pronouncement can be interpreted only as a direct slam to suburbanites who just recently sweated out record high real estate tax bills.

Unless the state senate balks at Stratton's political dictatorship, the schools will be completely without state aid in 1959.

A realistic level of state aid is needed because increased costs due to inflation and swelled enrollments have put incredible loads on suburban schools. It's needed because the quality of teachers will diminish as schools lag behind other employers in paying realistic salaries. Suburban schools have already found that low salaries are the main obstacle to the recruitment of teachers, and competition for competent teachers gets stiffer every year.

OBVIOUSLY, MORE money should be contributed to the schools by the state. It means, however, that Stratton will have to cut the fat out of his record high budget.

As a young politician from the "old school," Stratton apparently is deaf to appeals for statemanship or political integrity. By the same token, however, he's not immune to language he understands: pressure from voting blocs.

Suburbia is hard-core Republican; it represents considerable strength for the GOP, which has taken it for granted too long. It's time for suburbia to make its voice heard in behalf of its children.

AMONG THE recent happy events in Schaumburg, one of the pleasantest and most seemly was the marriage of Miss Amanda Fasse and Mr. George Meyer, solemnized June 16, The happy couple will stay with the groom's parents until they get possession of the adjacent John Fenz farm, which Mr. Meyer recently bought at a high price, so to keep his son near him.

Arlington Heights — Butcher Emil Sieburg is building a handsome brick house for his home next to his father's residence on Campbell St.

Orrin Neely was up to Half Day and Ireland town Sunday to see his sweetheart pals of last summer. He also traded hats, bought a game cock and sold it again. Next day he traded hats with his boss.

It is hard work to get up an interesting paper these hot days. Lend the tired editor some encouragement, news items, kind words and best of all, pay him your subscription.

Arlington Heights enjoys a good healthy growth. Her population has increased at least forty per cent since the 1900 census. It is now fully 2,000.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS State Bank, a prosperous financial institution, has been firmly established. The Madison House, Reese Furniture store and F. W. Miller's pop factory are 3 substantial brick blocks, which greatly benefit the business of the town.

Arlington Heights has at least 25 young people with splendid talent for the stage. "The Midnight Charge," a 4-act drama, played by 15 home folks, on Decoration day and repeated Saturday June 1, was well rendered, after only a short study and a few rehearsals. Mr. J. B. Collins, the most experienced actor, is the acknowledged star and hence is always assigned the most difficult role, the unpopular part of the villain and prompts the others in their rehearsals.

PALATINE is having a chance during the cement building season to know what real competition means. It's going some when a force of laborers get to work at 3 o'clock a.m. and have the walk finished by 7 in the morning, only 3 hours.

Misses Hurst and Winnie Sawyer left for Jamestown Exposition via Niagara Falls and New York. Miss Hurst sent each of her pupils a card from the Falls.

The Palatine Commercial Association and Chas. E. Dean, a prominent horseman, are combining to give Palatine, Ill. the largest Independence Day celebration ever held in this part of the state. Chas. Dean will conduct a full card of races and a ball game.

RAND ROAD, south of Staples Corners, is being torn up and graded preparatory to the building of bridges and the laying of the cement. Some farmers fear the work will not be completed until next year.

It was on March 10, 1917 that Mr. Henry S. Heise, cashier of the Palatine bank, directed a letter to President Reinberg of the county board, in which were told the desirability of Deer Grove as a forest preserve. As a reply to that letter blank options were forwarded to Mr. Heise and circulated among a few of the land owners. In the early spring a committee of county officials visited Deer Grove and they were so impressed with the tract that it was at once decided to purchase it.

GREAT AS HAVE been previous school festivals in Deer Grove, the 1917 event proved even greater. Nearly every school in the district was represented and with these 500 pupils, came their parents and friends, making it a crowd of over 2,000. The occasion was made doubly important because it also served as the dedication of Forest Preserve District No. 1 — the first in Cook County and Illinois.

An old settler of Northfield, born in Germany January 1838, John Stoll, died June 13. He and his wife, the former Minnie Stutzreim, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in Nov. 1914.

WORK HAS STARTED upon the million dollar race track at Arlington Heights. H. D. Brown and his son were in that village Wednesday and went over the grounds with the engineers. The Chicago Economist in its last issue reported. "The reported consideration was $1,000,000 of which half was paid in cash. The club also has an option on 500 acres additional and purchase of this is expected to be completed next week. Plans include in addition to the race course, stable and grandstand, a steeplechase course, a polo field and a golf course." The sellers were represented by Walter Krause Jr., of Arlington Heights as broker.

The first auction to make room for the race track was held Tuesday at the John Haemker farm. It was well attended and prices very good. Other auctions follow at the Linnemeyer, Fred Blume and Stavros farms.

Anti-Trailer Camp Crusade

(CNS)—Suburban members of the county board, led by Commissioner John Mackler, are lining up against "sneak" installation of trailer camps. They want to stamp out this practice.

Mackler told the other 14 commissioners at last week's board meeting he'll vote against every rezoning case that could lead to the establishment of trailer camps when such was not the applicant's stated purpose from the beginning.

He demanded to know what has happened to a drafted amendment to the county zoning code which would give the county board strict control over establishment of trailer camps.

THE AMENDMENT would put trailer camps under a "special use" classification. This means a rezoning applicant could establish a trailer park only by saying that's what he wants and let the case stand on its merits.

Under the present code, trailer camps are allowed in various business and industrial zones. The practice in many cases has been for an applicant to come in and say he wants rezoning for this or that business or industrial use—not even remotely connected with trailer camps. Once the land is rezoned for business or industrial use, there's nothing to stop the owner from establishing a trailer park on the property.

"I'LL BET AT least half the trailer camps in Cook county have been established this way," Mackler complained.

"I shall vote no on every business and industrial rezoning request until the amendment is adopted," Mackler said.

Some owners to win rezoning for their property have included covenants running with the land stating it will never be used for a trailer park.

They break these covenants too often, Mackler charged.

"I don't think a covenant is worth the paper it's written on," said Commissioner John Duffy, the Democratic party's whip on the county board.

COMMISSIONER Charles Chaplin, a suburban member, said he's sure Republicans on the board "and probably a good many of the Democrats" would vote against rezoning that could lead to the "sneak" establishment of trailer parks.

The board's 5 suburban members are Republicans; the 10 from Chicago are Democrats.

Walter T. Popjoy, county zoning board secretary, said his group is studying the drafted zoning amendments and should submit its report and recommendations to the county board within two weeks.

The amendments were drawn up by Harry Chaddick, director of the county's rezoning program.

SEVERAL PUBLIC hearings have been held by the zoning board on his proposals.

Many village officials have supported the general program and some have demanded unlimited veto power in rezoning cases involving land within 1.5 miles of municipalities. They may object now in such cases but rezoning can be approved on 12 of the county board's 15 votes.

Chaddick contends it's "not reasonable" to give villages veto power in such matters.

Mackler, in his attack on trailer camps, singled out one at Route 83 and Algonquin road in Elk Grove township. This was rezoned for gas tanks but now trailers are parked there, he said. (B7

Northwestern Drama Fesival to Open

Northwestern university's third annual summer drama festival will open July 2 on a new outdoor stage, with 4 plays to be presented in nightly rotation, Tuesday through Sunday evenings for a month. Opening the season will be the popular Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Mikado." Included is a Shakespearean effort, "Love's Labour Lost."

Q. When visitors arrive unexpectedly while a family is having its meal, what should the hostess do?

A. If merely acquaintances, you can ask them to wait for a few minutes in the living room until you have finished your meal. If they are very good friends, it is nice to ask them to sit at the table with you and have a cup of coffee while you finish your meal.

Q. How should a person introduce his half-brother or half-sister?

A. If he wishes to be in best taste, he will introduce them simply as "My brother" and "My sister."

Be Optimistic About Your Life

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

When the children are gone and Mom and Dad are alone at home for the first time since the children were born, the old house that once rang with their laughter, later became sometimes confused and upset by the impulsive actions and striving for independence of teen-agers, suddenly seems large, empty, and silent. Mom and Dad who had looked forward to this time expectantly, miss and long for the youthful clamor of their offspring once more. The habit of worrying, guiding, protecting and advising their young has left them unprepared to live alone.

About that time they begin to feel the pains and aches of approaching old age, which they did not have time to think about before, and wonder, self pityingly, what is to become of them when they are old.

MAN IS SO made that he must keep mentally and physically active. He must have things to strive for, goals to reach. He must feel that he is needed, that he is accomplishing something, has a job to do. He is endowed by God with a creative mind, and the ability to do things. To give up, resign one's self to inactivity and brooding is sure death, even though one continues to breathe and take nourishment.

When a job is done, or a problem solved, a man must find a new job, and a new problem. When children are grown, married and gone, Mom and Dad must find new interests to take their place.

THERE ARE many things you can do to fill such a gap. To get interested in hobbies, or find new interests, trust in God and keep busy is a sure way to overcome depressions which can creep in and make you miserable, sick and discouraged. And unless you enjoy misery and self pity, that is what you have to do. Life is never so dull and unhappy but that, by lighting the candles of faith, work, and interest in life, you can have an inner peace and contentment that will make life really worth living.

Your health will improve in proportion to the courage and optimisim in your attitude toward life; by living every minute you will live longer and be happy.

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

by PAUL LITTLE

Your critic can remember, almost as if it were yesterday, the era of "shellac" discs which revoved at 78 turns a minute instead of the current 33 1/3.

Nearly a score of years ago, Victor's 78's dominated the record industry with an array of great artists among whom were such immortals as Lucrezia Bori, Caruso, Galli-Curci, John McCormack, Paderewski, Rachmaninoff and Fritz Kreisler. These discs were breakable, and were a far cry from our present hi-fi; at best they reached about 8000 cycles, while today we expect the average lp to reach 15,000 — the full range of a modern symphony orchestra. But they preserved some unsurpassable performances, and every collector must have shed tears when Victor announced the end of 78's early this year.

BUT IN compensation, under its budget-priced Camden label ($1.98 for a 12-inch long-play album), Victor is now issuing many of these older "masters," engineered to present sound that is acceptable to our sensitized "hi-fi ears." Many of these are veritable treasures, and at this economy price they are virtual "musts" for your collection. Let's spin a few of them on our Miracord XA-100 three-speed changer (which can be played manually).

On CAL 337, we hear the memorable performance of Richard Strauss' magnificent tone poem, "Ein Heldenleben" by the New York Philharmonic Symphony under the late Willem Mengelberg. Time may have faded the sonics of this original recording (it dates from about 1928), but it can never dim the luster of that virile, biting, penetrating interpretation which defines all the drama, heroism and lyric beauty of this orchestral masterpiece. Sound on the lp is quite acceptable.

LUCREZIA BORI was one of the great sopranos of this century, a bright star of the "Met," and a superb artist as regards diction, dramatic portrayal and control of vocal range. The Camden 12-inch disc CAL-343, "The Art of Lucrezia Bori," proves this indisputably. It offers her never-to-be-forgotten singing of "Musetta's Waltz" from Puccini's "La Boheme," "Batti, Batti" from Mozart's 'Don Gio vanni," the haunting "Seguidilla' from de Falla's 'Siete Canciones Populares Espanolas," her wonderfully poignant 'Adieu, notre petite table" from Massenet's 'Manon,' and the exquisitely lyric "Connais tu le pays" from Thomas' "Mignon." Here is documentary evidence of what is really meant by "the golden age of opera."

When Emanuel Feuermann died from a heart attack, while still in his forties, during a USO tour of army camps, we lost one of the world's supremely great cellists. Camden has 1 12-inch albums which perpetuate his genius. One is CAL-292, "The Art of Emanuel Feuermann," on which we hear his beautifully eloquent readings of the Mendelssohn Second Concerto (Franz Rupp accompanies him throughout on the piano, and is one of the finest accompanists on the concert stage, being Marian Anderson's constant second on her recitals) and the enchanting Beethoven "Twelve Variations from Mozart's 'Magic Flute'." The other is CAL-254, with the "Warwick Symphony" (in reality, the Philadelphia under Stokowski) with his magnificent performance of Ernest Bloch's "Schelomo, Hebrew Rhapsody for Cello and Orchestra." This disc includes also Stokowski's dynamic readings of Strauss' 'Dance of the Seven Veils" (from "Salome") and Saint-Saens' "Danse Macabre." Sound is quite good, and it does well by Feurermann's warm, rich tone.

Thespians Get Acting 'Know-How' at Workshop

AS SOON AS THE CURTAIN FELL on the final production in Arlington Heights Village Theatre's current season, 35 amateur thesplans began meetings regularly in a workshop, covering fundamentals of acting technique. The workshop, which meets the first and third Thursday evenings of every month in Arlington field house, is under the direction of Mary Tindall, shown at top right with W. R. Pownall.

Typical of workshop training projects is this lesson session for Jane Miller, seated (right center), who portrays an elderly woman reading a letter bearing good news. In supporting roles are Kay Hawley, Jeanette Jenkins, and Lynn Lobenhofer.

No, it's not a dance instruction sesson at bottom right. It's Randy Moses learning the principles of walking like an aged woman from workshop colleagues Carol Frederick and Marion Malcolmson.

Learning the art of pantomime in workshop session is Bob Hawley, here playing the villain, with John Lobenhofer as a hero and Barbara Housekeeper as fair heroine.

The summer workshop sessions are designed to help Village Theatre players in working with productions for next season.

Carole Hellberg Is Bride of Fred Dorn Jr.

(Bak Studio

Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran church in Palatine was the scene of the wedding May 25 of Miss Carole Lenore Hellberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Hellberg, 302 N. Fremont, Palatine, and Fred Dorn Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dorn Sr. of Melrose Park. The double ring ceremony took place at 7:30 p.m. with Rev. Hilmar Th. Rosenberg officiating. Organist was Miss Mercie Heise, and Dr. Wayland E. Campbell sang "Today, O Lord" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The candlelit sanctuary was decorated with altar vases of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and snapdragons, and pews were marked with greens tied by large white ribbon bows.

Escorted down the aisle on the arm of her father, the bride wore a gown of french chantilly lace over tulle and white satin. The full length skirt was made of 4 tiers of lace with a fifth tier in back forming a chapel train. The gown had a lace over satin top with square scalloped neckline and short sleeves and was complimented with white lace fingertip gauntlets. Her fingertip french illusion veil was held in place with a crown of lace and embroidered with rhinestones and sequins. She wore diamond earrings, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis, phalaenopsis and a white orchid in a removable corsage.

Miss Marlyn Miller of Palatine, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor in a nile green crystalette floor-length gown over nile green taffeta with cap sleeves scoop neckline and a large bow of crystalette in the back. She carried vanda orchids and stephanotis on a white lace fan with orchid ribbon streamers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Helen Dorn, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Donna Jean Miller of Varna, Ill., cousin of the bride. Miss Sue Lester of Arlington Heights was junior bridesmaid. Their gowns were identical to that of the maid of honor's only the color was nile green crystalette over terragon green taffeta. They carried vanda orchids on white lace fans. All the bridal attendants wore rhinestone necklaces and earrings, gifts from the bride.

Godchild of the bride, Sharon Lynn Bottoms of Beloit, Wis., who was 3 on the wedding day, was flower girl in white chantilly lace over tulle and white taffeta. Her dress was floor length with 3 tiers of lace similar to the bride's gown. She wore white lace fingertip mitts and carried a basket of orchid carnations with rose petals. Her jewelry was a small gold cross with diamonds, a gift from the bride.

Ring-bearer was 4-year-old Randy McMullin of Waterloo, Iowa. Best man was George Dorn of Melrose Park, brother of the bridegroom, and ushers were Kenneth Miller of Charleston, S. C., cousin of the bride, and Robert Lewis of Elmhurst. Kenneth Dorn, the bridegroom's brother, was junior usher.

A reception and buffet supper with 5-tiered wedding cake were held at Arlington Heights VFW hall following the ceremony. Mrs. Hellberg, the bride's mother, received guests in a ballerina length gown of light blue lace over taffeta and had pink accesories. Mrs. Dorn chose dusty rose lace over taffeta with light blue accesories. Both mothers had corsages of amazon lilies with pink rose centers.

The couple took a 2-week tour of the southwestern states and are now living with the bride's parents in Palatine. The new Mrs. Dorn graduated from Palatine high school and is a receptionist in the offices of Dr. Ramser and Dr. Campbell in Arlington Heights. Mr. Dorn was graduated from Proviso township high school and is employed with Chicago and North Western railroad at Proviso.

A Hectic Birthday Party

Dear Peg:

I can now understand the statement a friend of mine made some time ago, which at the time I thought was a strange thing to say. She was absolutely right—"I'd rather have a dinner party for 12 visiting diplomats than a birthday party for 6 4-year-olds!"

It's not the preparation or the planning for the party, it's the guests.

Diplomats, I'm sure would be diplomatic; 4-year-olds are completely undiplomatic, tactless, truthful and totally unnerving. After this afternoon, I recommend a citation for every lion-hearted, egoless mother who entertains for 2 hours a group of 4-to-almost-5-year-olds (no older, no younger).

Today is Bridget's 5th birthday and rather than have "family" for a birthday dinner (as we always do), she insisted strongly on having a party of her friends. To insure against any slip-ups, a week before the party she went all through the neighborhood telling her friends that the invitations were in the mail—that's how they got in the mail to begin with.

Today at 3, between intermittent showers, the guests started arriving. With a polite "hello" to Bridget, they departed to the suggested room to remove their wraps. Before returning to the living room, each made a careful study of the girls' toys and dolls on all the shelves. When all 6 had gathered and were standing regarding each other coolly—the majority had not met before—I suggested that we start our first game. While Megan went to the kitchen to get the milk bottle and the clothes pins, one guest asked, "What are we going to play?"

"Drop the clothes pins in the bottle," I replied.

"I played that at the last party I went to," offered anothe child, unenthusiastically.

"I don't like that game," his friend admitted.

"I just love it!" a little girl exclaimed.

"Me too!" shouted another.

While the discussion went on, I lined them up, determined that I would not eliminate 1 of the 2 games planned for the afternoon. When they saw the selection of little prizes on a tray, from which each child could choose as he won, their interest increased and we played several times before one guest suggested that we do something else.

Next on the program for the afternoon was the present opening. To Bridget's loud disappointment, several children "helped" her by unwrapping theirs for her. One of them admitted that his gift had been purchased some time ago for a child whose birthday was postponed. When she had finished opening her gifts and giving each a hurried glance, our own un-diplomat complained, "Is that all? I wish I had some more—that wasn't much!"

Sensing that a "storm cloud" was brewing, I quickly told everyone to come to the table for ice cream and birthday cake. How times have changed! When I was little, this was the high point of any birthday party. Now, however, it's no treat at all. Today kiddies have cake and ice cream in their homes all the time, so they are quite likely to say, "Please, Mrs. McArdle, may I have just a little cake. I don't care for any ice cream." This plus a couple of orders for ice cream and no cake gave me the distinct feeling of a waitress.

Following the refreshments we played our last game—pass the bean bag around a circle as a record is being played. Whoever has the bean bag when the record stops, must leave the circle and the game goes on. All went well for the first few rounds, then the prize tray became so sparse that the players began to lose interest and to ask, "Don't you have any more hair barettes? I don't like crackerjack very well." Or, "Could I have a ball like Jimmy got last time?"

At 20 minutes before 5 the prizes were all gone and the guests were tired of games. While I thought desperately of a way to fill up the last minutes, one little girl said, "My mother wants me to walk home now." (Her home is 2 miles away). Another thanked me nicely for the party and said that it was time for her to go home now. I agreed meekly and suggested to the others that perhaps it was time to go. So, gathering umbrellas, jackets, etc., we all started out to the driveway and our car, while Bridget invited everyone back for her party next year.

My love, Patty

Lynn Cox, Bob Burde Marry in Palatine

"O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer" were the nuptial selections sung at the wedding of Miss Lynn Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cox, former Palatine residents now residing at 182 Cindy lane, Wheeling, and Robert Burden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Burden, 339 Fremont, Palatine. The ceremony took place at 7 p.m. June 1 in First Methodist Church of Palatine with Rev. Harold Olson officiating.

White carnations and snapdragons decorated the church for the double ring, candlelight service during which Mr. Cox gave his daughter in marriage. Organist was Miss Mercie Heise and soloist was Mrs. Erie Jones.

The bride wore a satin-backed taffeta floor-length dress with long sleeves featuring a lace insert from bodice to hemline. A small seed pearl crown held her fingertip veil of silk net and she carried a white orchid and stephanotis on a white Bible.

Miss Leona Engelking of Palatine was maid of honor and wore a white princess-style ballerina gown of satin-backed taffeta. The dress was fashioned with scoop neckline with nylon chiffon drape to the hemline. Her flowers were blue daisies and silver ivy. Miss Nancy Singelman of Long Grove and Miss Carol Cox of Evanston were bridesmaids. Their gowns and flowers were identical to the maid of honor's gown and flowers. Five-year-old Linda Burden of Pocatello, Idaho, was flower girl and also wore a white satin-backed gown. She carried a basket of the blue daisies.

R. W. Burden of Pocatello, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and ushers were M. W. Swanson of Arlington Heights and Jack Thome of Palatine.

Following the service an open house was held at the Burden home and was attended by 175 guests. Mrs. Cox received in a blue printed chiffon dress and Mrs. Burden in an emerald green lace. Mrs. Cox' corsage was of white camellias and Mrs. Burden's of pink tea roses.

The couple honeymooned for a week at Delavan, Wis. and since June 8 has been residing on S. Quintens rd.

The bride was graduated from Palatine township high school and Northern Illinois State college. She is now employed in the Arlington Medical laboratory. Mr. Burden was also graduated from Palatine high school and the University of Dubuque. He is with Sellstrom's Manufacturing Co.

Newcomers Elect Mrs. H. Moore

Mrs. Henry V. Moore, newly-elected president of Arlington Heights Newcomers club, was installed by retiring president, Mrs. Jerome Mockenhaupt, at the regular monthly luncheon held June 12 at Arlington House. Also installed were Mrs. Robert Cummings, vice president; Mrs. Edward Kalk, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Fritz, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Laurence Dieter, treasurer. Members and guests spent the afternoon playing bridge, canasta and pinochle.

The next luncheon will be held Wednesday, July 10, at Arlington House, Rand rd. and Euclid ave. All newcomers to Arlington Heights are invited to join the club. They may call Mrs. Robert Hathill, CL 5-5449, for information.

A "come as you are" breakfast was hed Monday morning at the home of Mrs. Henry V. Moore. Fifteen women arrived dressed in early morning attire. These surprise breakfasts will be held monthly and any newcomers interested in attending may call Sally Whiting at CL 5-5234.

Betsy Ann Swanson, William Linsky Wed

(Community Camera

Miss Betsy Ann Swanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Swanson, 528 Bristol ln, Arlington Heights, was married to William Jaques Linsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Linsky of Winter Park, Fla. in a double ring ceremony June 15 in First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights.

Dr. Paul Stumpf officiated at the four o'clock candlelight service before a background of white peonies and gladioli. Soloist was Jack Lee who sang "Because and "I Love Thee."

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of white peau de soie and Halencon lace fashioned with sweetheart neckline, re-embroidered lace made up the bodice which was sprinkled with pearls as was the front of the skirt. The back of the skirt was caught into a bustle and ended in a chapel train. She wore a crown of pearls to hold her imported silk illusion veil in place and carried a white orchid with stephanotis.

Miss Barbara Ewert of Arlington Heights was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Mona Stadell of Arlington Heights, Miss Tanya Alcorn of Los Angeles, Miss Betty McCarver of Van Nuys, Cal. and Mrs. William Boughey of Chicago. All wore identical gowns of beige silk organdy with silk embroidery trim on the bodice and full skirts. They carried wicker baskets with cavalier roses, shasta daisies and gladioli.

The bride's cousins, Susan Schaeffer, 6, of Aurora, and Nancy Krambeer, 5, of Elgin, were flower girls and wore white eyelet organdy over yellow. They carried white baskets of cavalier roses and shasta daisies and wore circlets of ivy and daisies in their hair.

The bride's mother wore a mauve chiffon dress while the bridegroom's mother wore a dress of light green organza. Both wore corsages of cymbidium orchids.

Best man was George Custer of East Lansing, Mich., and ushers were Richard Strauss of Ogunquit, Me., Allan Beel of Chicago, John Pearson of Lincolnwood and Mark Risso of San Francisco.

A reception for 250 guests was held on the south terrace of the Edgewater Beach hotel after which Mr. Linsky took his bride on a 2-week wedding trip to Varadero Beach, Cuba. After July 1, they will be at home at 521 Fairview, Mt. Prospect and in the fall will return to Boulder, Colo., where they are students at the University of Colorado.

Barbara Lawrence Weds Joseph Lamping

(Jenart Studio

In a 4 o'clock ceremony May 4 in St. John Episcopal church, Mt. Prospect, Miss Barbara M. Lawrence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lawrence, 305 S. Elmhurst ave., Mt. Prospect, and Joseph R. Lamping, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lamping, 227 Williams st., Palatine, were united in marriage by Rev. Robert Manning and Rev. Phillip Pepper. Vases of pink and white flowers decorated the altar.

For her marriage the bride chose a ballerina gown of lace over taffeta with fingertip veil and a crown of satin and pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses. Mr. Lawrence gave his daughter in marriage.

Matron of honor was Alice Garland, the bride's only attendant. Mrs. Garland wore a ballerina gown of blue chromespun and carried a bouquet of yellow flowers.

Best man to the bridegroom was Frank Hummel.

A reception for 18 was held in Jack Gunnell's restaurant where Mrs. Lawrence received in a beige linen dress trimmed with lace and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Lamping, mother of the bridegroom, wore a blue silk print dress and a pink carnation corsage.

The couple is now residing at 102 S. State rd., Arlington Heights, having delayed their honeymoon until summer.

The new Mrs. Lamping is employed by V and G Printers in Mt. Prospect and the bridegroom by National Tea Co.

Holland Tulip Bulbs For Sale By Garden Club

Tulips probably outrank any other flower in popularity with homeowners, new and seasoned alike, for they are assured flowers no matter how amateurishly planted, and exquisite in their many colors and varieties. Holland is justly famous for the world's finest tulips. Arlington Heights Garden club will offer its members, neighbors and friends the opportunity of ordering 1957 Holland tulips at attractive prices, made possible by volume orders, at the Monday, June 24, meeting at Arlington Heights field house at 8 p.m.

To further facilitate the handling of these orders, arrangements, have been set up to order the bulbs now and to pay for them in the fall when the bulbs are delivered. A list of bulbs available is provided, and in addition any other varieties are available if a minimum of 50 bulbs of one variety is combined with your neighbors or friends.

Prices are comparable with any other source, and the bulbs are guaranteed top size and top quality. This is a Garden club project to help raise funds to meet necessary budgets. Those who cannot attend the June 24 meeting at the field house may call Mrs. H. L. Berthold at CL 3-5143 and orders will be added to those received.

Donald Stephan Takes Connecticut Bride

The marriage of Miss Carol Virginia Cheney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Cheney of Torrington, Conn. and Donald Earl Stephan, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Stephan, 237 S. Plum Grove ave., Palatine, was solemnized at 2 p.m. June 8 in Center Congregational church, Torrington.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Leonard W. Fowler of Newport, N.H., assisted by Rev. Dr. Rolland G. Ewing, pastor of Center church.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her cousin, Miss Marsha Brooks of Athol, Mass. Bridesmaids were the Misses Linda Cheney of Westboro, Mass., a cousin of the bride, and Marilyn Knight and Betty Jean Bartel. Susan and Bonnie Stephan of Rockford, nieces of the bridegroom, were flower girls.

William A. Stephan Jr. of Rockford, was best man and ushers were Harold W. Stephan of Sykesville, Md., brother of the bridegroom, W. Brooks Cheney, brother of the bride, and Wallace Kiehl and Roy Wente of Palatine.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white embroidered Swiss organdy designed with a double portrait neckline, shirred sleeves and fitted bodice and triple flounced skirt. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion was attached to an organdy cap.

The attendants wore floor-length gowns of yellow and blue imported organdy and carried colonial bouquets of mixed garden flowers. The flower girls wore white organdy over yellow and carried baskets of mixed garden flowers.

A reception was held in the church parlors where the bride's mother received in a gray lace dress and the bridegroom's mother in blue lace.

The new Mrs. Stephan was graduated from Oberlin college, Ohio and the bridegroom from Northwestern university. He studied for his master's degree at American university, Washington, D.C. and is now a sales representative for the United States Gypsum Co.

Soloist Auditions

Northwest symphony orchestra advises that final arrangements are being made for soloist auditions for the 1957-58 season. Northwest residents who wish to audition as vocalists or instrumentalists are urged to contact Dr. William F. Heller at VA 4-4285 at once.

The invitation to local musicians to solo with the orchestra is a major feature in the association's purpose and program of encouraging interest and participation in good music in the community.

A reception for the new honored queen and her officers will be held after the installation. It will be an open meeting, with all relatives and friends invited.

Mrs. L. Poduska Is New President Of Violet Club

Mrs. L. Poduska of Arlington Heights was installed president of the Suburban Saintpaulia society when the organization held its regular meeting June 11 in the home of Mrs. M. Demet of Prospect Heights.

Other officers are Mrs. I. Linehan of Arlington Heights, vice president; Mrs. C. Paeglow of Rolling Meadows, secretary; and Mrs. W. Damm of Arlington Heights, treasurer.

Mrs. E. O. Moss of Arlington Heights, past president, was presented with a gold african violet past president pin and a resolution printed on parchment and drawn by Mrs. H. Miller of Palatine, a member of the club. The parchment thanked her for her past work on behalf of the club.

Q. What is one supposed to say to the bride and bridegroom at the wedding reception, also what do you say to their parents?

A. You wish the bride all happiness, congratulate the bridegroom, tell the bride's parents what a charming couple they make.

LUXURIANT TROPICAL FOLIAGE forms background for Hawaiian vacationers, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Weber, 418 S. Hi-Lusi, Mt. Prospect, and their children Barbara, 5, and Craig,7. They are pictured on the grounds of the Coco Palms, Wailua, Kauai, where they were guests. Kauai is known as the garden island of Hawaii and the Webers agreed that it is "the lovliest island of them all." Mr. Weber is with the Commonwealth Edison Co., Chicago. (S

Chocolate Upside-Down Cake Is Quick and Easy To Make

Rich, gooey and oh so good is the Chocolate Upside-Down Cake we are featuring today.

And in addition to being delicious, this recipe is so simple and easy to prepare. Once in the oven, your work is finished for the cake has a topping all of its own.

Mrs. Arthur J. Gaw has been making this recipe for 10 years. It is a favorite with her children, Craig 10, Sally, 7½, and Jill, who is almost 4.

The cake has a yellow batter which contains chopped nuts. It is sprinkled with a topping of cocoa and brown sugar and then, believe it or not, boiling water is poured over all.

During the baking process the chocolate sinks to the bottom. The cake is served upside-down; thus the rich chocolate is on the top.

Mrs. Gaw always warms the cake before serving and tops each piece with ice cream. This dessert is simple enough to make often for the family and good enough to serve to guests.

The Gaws live at 904 W. Milburn in Mt. Prospect. Mrs. Gaw is secretary-treasurer of Marion circle of the Community Presbyterian church. She also belongs to a Canasta club and the PTA.

Chocolate Upside-Down Cake
Batter

3 tablespoons shortening
¾ cup granulated sugar
1 cup sifted cake flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup milk
½ cup chopped nuts

Cream the shortening and sugar together.

Sift together the cake flour, baking powder and salt. Add to the creamed mixture alternately with the milk. Then add the chopped nuts.

Pour into an ungreased pan, 8 by 8 by 2 inches.

Topping

¼ teaspoon salt.
1 cup brown sugar

Blend the ingredients together. Sprinkle over batter. Then pour 1 cup boiling water over all and do NOT stir.

Bake at 375 degrees 40 minutes.

Serves 8. (S

Teach Youngster To Save Wisely

Those pennies, nickels and dimes your youngsters like to collect offer a fine opportunity for you to increase their interest in savings and to develop their own natural skills.

Children love to draw, and to build, and to see things come to life. So, as a starter, you might give your youngster a hand in building an easy-to-make, cardboard "bank."

It needn't be anything more than a crayon-decorated box with dolls, trains, horses or whatever represents the personal dream for which your small fry is saving. The bank should be given a name of course, and a "teller's window" or a "sidewalk teller" can be made as a slot for the coins.

FOR A VERY SIMPLE homemade "bank" there's nothing better than a plain glass jar with colorful cut-outs pasted on it. The advantage of such a bank is that when children can watch their pile of coins grow, their interest in savings grows with it.

As the savings grow and the coins collect, the best and safest place for them is, of course, a real bank. Banks pay interest on the deposits of children just as they do those of grown-ups, and they warmly welcome these young customers.

There are rich rewards for the effort of teaching children to save, and your local bank will consider it a privilege to help you accomplish your own and your children's objectives.

TO ATTRACT juvenile savings accounts, some banks offer special passbooks, either pink or blue, for the new baby, and a gift for each new baby depositor, as well as lollipops to each older child visiting the bank.

They also make it possible, through school savings accounts, for older children to cultivate the thrift habit by making regular deposits each week. (S

Ramming Culture In Tiny Gullets

by MARY

I tell you, sistern and brethern, trying to ram a little culture and history down the gullets of the young is a mighty frustrating business. And, I am one of the most frustrated in the business.

It seems that we are all about to take a long trip* throughout the historic old southland. I have armed myself with history books, maps and bits of knowledge gleaned from reading such stel-Wilar books as "Gone With The Wind" and "Uncle Tom's Cabin" with a touch of "Jezebel" thrown in. Anyone can see at a glance that I am really hep to the south.

WE PLAN on dragging them through Mammoth Cave which presents me with a pretty problem. The book says that the mean temperature of the hole in the ground is 54 degrees. According to my world almanac, this is summer. According to rumor, summer in the south is hot. The car is only so large. Coats are bulky. To go prepared or to take a chance on freezing is the big question.

Every time I try to tell them of the marvelous sights that are in store for them, they look at me pityingly as though I had just flipped and want to know which are the very best motels and where are we going to stop to eat.

I did strike sort of a spark when I told them we planned on visiting some of the horse breeding farms near Lexington, Kentucky. They are very horsy. However, when they were informed that they might not be allowed to ride War Admiral, their interest waned and they went back to discussing the clothes they would wear each day right down to the last sock.

FATHER STUCK his 2 cents into the breach when he told them of the beauties of the Smokies. So, they said, big hills, huh? The wonders of St. Augustine, our oldest city, left them cold. After all, the United States had to start somewhere, why not St. Augustine? So?

Anyway, I intend coming back filled to here with history and beauty. They can come back sunburned and the back of my hand to them. (S

Storkfeathers

A son, their first child, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Bergstedt of Chicago's south side, June 13 in Chicago Lying In hospital. The baby has been named Lee Mitchell and weighed 7 pounds, 11 ounces at birth. His mother is the former Barbara Ransdell of Arlington Heights and grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. T. Ransdell of Arlington Heights and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bergstedt of Northbrook.

Twin daughters, Karen Sue and Kristine Ann, were born June 1 in St. Elizabeth hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Garms, 324 S. Oak st., Palatine. The babies weighed 5 pounds 5 ounces and 4 pounds 14 ounces, respectively. The twins have 2 brothers, John, 5, and Michael, 4. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William Garms of Arlington Heights and Mrs. John Burkell of Chicago.

A daughter, Pamela Lynn, was born June 10 in Resurrection hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lavers, 940 N. Fernandez, Arlington Heights. Pamela, who weighed 7 pounds 15½ ounces at birth, has a brother, Billy 4½. Grandparents are the Walter Johnsons and A. W. Lavers all of Chicago.

Twin girls, Christine Ann and Karen Jean, have joined the trio of boys in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Chakoian, 300 Dale, Mt. Prospect. The girls were born to the couple May 30 in St. Anne hospital, Chicago weighing 6 pounds 5 ounces and 6 pounds 8 ounces, respectively. Their brothers are Martin, 9, Michael, 7 and David, 3. Mrs. Martin Chakoian of Chicago and W. E. Meyer of Augusta, Mo. are the grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Busse of Mt. Prospect are announcing the birth of a daughter Susan Kay, weighing 6 pounds 11¾ ounces. She was born June 7 in Garfield Park hospital. The Edwin L. Busses of Mt. Prospect and the Edward Wilkinses of West Bend, Wis. are the baby's grandparents.

William James Maloney Jr. was born to Mr. and Mrs. William J. Maloney 320 S. State rd., Arlington Heights, June 2 in St. Joseph hospital weighing 8 pounds 3 ounces. He is the first child of the Maloneys. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Randag of Arlington Heights and Mr. and Mrs. John E. Maloney of Mt. Prospect.

KitchenAid
THE FINEST MADE
built by Hobart

Yes, the KitchenAid automatic dishwasher provides all the "most wanted" features . . . the time-saving, work-saving, performance-making features you want in your kitchen!

Load it
Front-opening door, front-loading racks make loading and unloading easy. Simply place tableware in the two independently sliding racks; glassware, cups, bowls on top rack, flatware on the bottom rack—pots and pans, too.

Latch it
Close and latch the door, press the switch, that's all there is to it! Powered washing gently yet thoroughly washes everything; two separate, powered hot water rinses clean completely; circulated hot air dries tableware sparkling clean, so efficiently that no "tear drops" are left on glassware!

Leave It
Once you press the switch, you can leave and forget your dishes. Open the door and remove the clean dishes when you return, or simply let them stand until ready for use. You'll have plenty of time for the many other things you want to do.

Remember, in KitchenAid, you benefit by the experience which Hobart has gained during the many years of making dishwashers for the world's finest hotels and restaurants. It's only natural that KitchenAid, the Hobart Home Dishwasher, is the "last word"... and our demonstration will prove it!

WHY ARE ILLINOIS BELL GIRLS SO HAPPY IN ARLINGTON HEIGHTS?

One good reason, we think, is the fact that they don't have to make that long, tiresome trek into the Loop every day. Most of our young women come from Arlington Heights and nearby communities, so it's just a matter of minutes to zip home after work.

If YOU'D like to work near home in a modern, air-conditioned building and have an interesting, well-paying job as a telephone operator—we'd be happy to talk to you about joining the telephone team here in Arlington Heights. To qualify, you must be between the ages of 17 and 40 . . . and you can be either married or single.

You earn while you learn . . . hours are convenient . . . and you work with people you'll really enjoy knowing. You get paid vacations, regular raises and many other benefits. Why battle the crowds into the Loop, when you can have the ideal job so near home? Make a note to do something about it—right away! Here's the person to see or call:

In Appreciation

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the Arlington Heights fire department for their wonderful cooperation in helping to fight the fire adjacent to our home. Their quick work kept the fire from spreading to our home.
Paul Gehrke Family.

Invite Suburbs Join Neighborhood Drives

Suburban civic groups are being asked to participate in a Chicago metropolitan area neighborhood beautification drive sponsored by the Cleaner Chicago committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry and the Chicago Federal Savings and Loan association.
Community "good gardeners" will be presented with citations and $10 savings awards at a "Good Gardening for Good Neighborhoods" luncheon, July 23, in Chicago Federal's Lincoln room. A plaque and $100 savings account will also be awarded the outstanding community entry for the project which has done most in adding to neighborhood beauty.
Entries may be submitted through July 12. Raymond T. O'Keefe Jr., chairman of the Chicago committee urged groups not yet contacted to write Good Gardening Judging Committee, c/o Chicago Federal Savings and Loan association, 100 N. State st., Chicago 2, for entry blanks. (DL
